REAL ESTATE MEN NEED THESE

Be Very Careful Where You Buy Your Outing Suit!

> You can see two-piece suits every day that look and hang like a rag. Remember there is only one thing that will compel thin suits to keep their shape-that is real HAND TAILORING. Summer fabrics are too light weight to stand up of their own accord. Most of them are as expressionless as a brass image. From our own modes and materials we tailor you garments that faithfully represent the very last minute in fashionable "Outing Suits." They have those spirited lines of life that almost show the muscles through the cloth. Avoid the oafish garments that have no style and the "tawdry" kinds that "burlesque" true style.

Saturday & Monday SPECIALS

Just now we are making a big feature of the two-piece fabrics. They are smart, fashionable, and classy; light in weight, toneful in color and pattern.

Choose from the real Halifax homespuns and fancy tweed effects. Tans, greys, creams. A nice range of striped grey flannels included. Coats partly lined, patch or inside pockets, cut and corners, natural or padded shoulders. Trousers with belt loops and turn-up cuffs.

Some real rich fabrics in striped blue and black flannel on cream and white backgrounds. Distinctive fabrics, also the "Islay" tweeds and homespuns in the new color tones of tan, drab, and mixtures. Made in two pieces, American or English style coats, trousers with belt loops and cuffs.

The lightest material woven. "English Mohair," so light that the entire suit we ghe but a few pounds. Faithfully construes the very underbreath whisper of fashion in New York and Paris. We have the materials in the new browns, greys, drabs, and Oxfords. Dressy men will appreciate these high-class materials. They are in a class by themselves.

Coronation, University, and Killarney Serges. These are standard brands. pure dye, all wool, in deep blues and blacks, fine and coarse weaves. Suit of three pieces. Also, plain and fancy tweeds, worsteds, and cheviots in medium weights. A special showing for Saturday and Monday of finely woven grey worsteds in light weight.

"Odd Suit Ends" We are clearing the balance of all "odd" suit ends. Just enough in each for a pair of trousers. Includes serges, worsteds, tweeds, etc., that sold as high as $6, $7, and 8. Saturday and Monday, $3.95.

Fall Lines on Display

According to our usual custom in July, we desire to announce the complete arrival of our fall lines in suitings and overcoatings. The assortment is larger than at any previous season, and wise buyers will take advantage of early selection while the stock is at its best and practically unbroken. Come in and see what the new styles and patterns
