Frauds Was Received With

Cheers—The Speeches.

One of the most successful political demonstrations ever held in this city was that of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Ward I, held under the most pleasing auspices last evening. The elevated ground of Riverdale Park adjoining Broadway-avenue was the rendezvous where between 7000 and 8000 people gathered in the cool of the evening and—had a real treat in political oratory, varied with admirable selections from the band of the Body Guards. About 3000 chairs had been provided, and a substantial stand accommodated the speakers and their enthusiastic supporters. National and patriotic flags were in clusters and fessions and their enthusiastic supporters. National and patriotic flags were in clusters and fessions and the laws returned the following verdict:

Mr. John Greer most efficiently discharged his duties. His words were terse, yet felections. First he read applogetic telegrams for absence, yet wishing success to the demonstration. Sir Mackenzie Bowell regretted his duties prevented his attendance, and added, "With a united party and honest ballot, success is assured. This is the machine," [Cheers.] Hon. J. G. Bergeron reminded the "boys" that work was being cut out for the next election. Mr. W. F. Maclean regretted his inability to attend the meeting, which, he felt assured, would be a great success. Doctor's orders were, remain away and get rest.

Mr. Maelean's Absence.

Sir Charles Tupper, who was loudy and repeatedly cheered, was effusive in thanks. He told of the great pleasure he experienced in being present at such an immense meeting of the Liberal-Conservatives of Ward 1, and how deeply he regretted the unfortunate accident that had deprived Parliament of the benefit of Mr. W. F. Sion. "But for this," continued Sir Charles, "Mr. Maclean would have been on the floor of the House of Commons to give, as he always does when he is there, his hearty and enthusiastic support in the cusus of good Government. But if we have not his presence, we have him in spirit, for in the columns of the able journal very which he presides we read his able internances that do so much to mould public opinion. Sir Charles then adverted to the fact that a portion of that district was the constituency of Mr. John Ross Robertson. On many important occasions that gentleman done great service to the Liberal-Conservative party. He need not tell that audience how the same remark applied to the services of Mr. E. B. Osler. The new Speaker will then take the chair, and the House will probably be immediately summoned to the Senate Chamber by His Exceliency, to whom the new Speaker will announce his election in the usual set formula, and the Speaker of the Senate will make the formal reply in the name of His Exceliency. The Commons will then return to its chamber and business be resumed, or another adjournment be taken until Wednesday, but this is not very likely as the House is very anxious to get through the business and have prorogation this week if at all possible.

Rumors as to the Successor.

As to Sir James Edgar's successor there are any number of rumors afloat and half a dozen or more names are mentioned. Amongst them are: Mr. John Charlton, Mr. Bain of Wentworth, Mr. Ellis of St. John, Mr. James Sutherland, Mr. D. C. Fraser and Deputy Speaker Brodeur. From the best information that can be obtained to night it appears most probable that Mr. Brodeur will be elected for the remainder of the present Parliament, and either Mr. Ellis or Mr. Bain will succeed Mr. Brodeur as deputy speaker. There is some objection raised to Mr. Brodeur's appointment from the fact that the Speaker of the Senate is a Frenchman.
