

LIBERALS OF
SIXTH WARDAn "At Home" to Members of the Club and Their Friends.A Live Organization Congratulated
by Leading Liberals.Sounding Speeches and a Large Gathering—
Good Music and a Good Time.

The annual "at home" of the No. 6 West Liberal Club was held in their quarters on Bruce street last night, and was probably the most successful in the history of the organization. The rooms are a credit to the club, and on the occasion of the "at home" were tastefully decorated with flags and bunting. The walls and ceilings have been neatly frescoed and painted, and present a cheerful appearance. The attendance was large and influential, the place being packed to the doors. There was a feeling of genuine disappointment because of the illness of Col. Lays, M.P., the honorary president of the club, who, however, sent a message of greeting. Regrets were read from Mr. Charles S. Hyman and Mr. Malcolm McGowan, M.P.

Mr. Philip E. McKenzie occupied the chair, and in his opening remarks extended to all a happy and hearty welcome. On this occasion the club had not met for work, but in order that the members might have a social time and entertain their friends, "We are proud of our club," he said. "We do good work, and we are all looking toward the future, when we hope to do better work." (Applause.) This club has been called Tammany Hall by some anxious to injure it. I refute the name, because it is associated with Crokerism and corruption, malfeasance and scandal, and because the supporters of Tammany would, as the saying went, elect a yellow dog, if only Tammany said there is no chance for a yellow dog being elected here. No chance for a dog, unless he is a man of principle. The club's work has been to get the best men for the best places. Mr. McKenzie pictured the success which had attended the efforts of the city council, and of the advances the city had made while Mr. J. W. Little, a Liberal, was at the head—a man imbued with the same principles as those which the Liberal Club had been formed to inculcate. During those three years the city had made such advances in prosperity largely because the principles of Liberalism had been followed. He then gave an example of the good which the Liberal Club could do, and found that in the Ontario Government, through whose endeavors Ontario had been placed at the head of all the provinces in the Dominion. Another striking example was the change for the better that had taken place in the Dominion during the past two years—since the advent of the Laurier Government. He contrasted the harmony which now existed throughout the country with the years of contention and strife which had been the natural production of the policy of the Conservative party. The Conservative policy was one of racial and religious conflict. Starting with the Northwest rebellion, there was a lamentable succession of these. There was the Jesuits' Estates Bill, and the equal rights campaign. Following close upon these were the attacks made upon the French Government. There were the false attacks about French schools; and there was the crusade by the Conservatives which had resulted in the P. A. movement. Then, last, but not least, was the Manitoba school question. For the ten previous years the question had been largely racial and sectarian, with the effect of producing dangerous heartburnings and strife. When two years ago, Mr. Laurier took the reins of power, he set at rest these warring questions, and Canada entered upon a policy of Canadian nationality and commercial prosperity. (Cheers.)

Mr. J. M. McEVOY, in his pleasant speech, said he was glad that a club of such calibre existed in the ward. Its usefulness was great in a purely political sense, but it was possible to render an interest still further. The club should aim at high intellectual ability and training, thereby still better fitting its members to grapple with live issues and vital questions. It was in a club with not half the advantages that the Sixth Ward club possessed that John Bright, probably the first orator in the British Empire, had secured his best training. Mr. McEVOY advocated the purchase of standard political works, economical, historical and scientific. He congratulated the club upon their admirable quarters, and hoped that the good work of the past would be overshadowed by the better work of the future. (Applause.) Mr. McEVOY, whose speech was much enjoyed, also told several good stories.

DR. MCWILLIAM, the Liberal candidate in East Middlesex, was received with hearty applause. To be defeated, he said, was not to be subdued, but even defeat had its blessings. With more organization, such as the Sixth Ward Liberal Club, shows an example of, there would be fewer defeats anywhere, and more victories everywhere. (Hearty cheer.) Politics differed somewhat from the practice of medicine. The one required constant talking, and the other required almost constant silence and looking wise. (Laughter.) In a club such as this in South London, one might readily find all that was necessary to qualify anyone for political contingencies. He pointed to the two years of the Laurier Government, composed of the most magnanimous men in the Dominion, as a period which had marked an epoch in the history of the Dominion. For eighteen years the Dominion was ruled by Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir John Thompson and Sir John Abbott; but two years ago the Liberal leaders had asked the country if Liberal principles would not be more acceptable to the people, and they had answered "Yes" emphatically. That was the greatest compliment which the country could have paid to the intelligence of the statesmen into whose hands the responsibility of government had been placed. The policy of these men was to give the greatest good and the greatest happiness to the greatest number of people in this bright gem in the empire of the great nation in the world. (Cheers.) "I hope," he continued, "that the good work done in the past will be continued in the future. There is nothing more reprehensible than political immorality. There is nothing that saps the life of any party more than belated political lies. I do not believe that political immorality is as rampant as some assert, although it exists; but all that does exist, I think, should not make very much difference to actual results. We should enforce the high ideal—be firm and be moral. Political immorality has ruined nations, dethroned kings and overthrown principalities and powers. It was this that caused the fall of the ancient empire of Rome. It was her weakness, her pusillanimity, her riches, her corruption. We must have the confidence of the people, and by our political morality demonstrate that we have the interest at heart of the people, the representative of the rich and no less of the poor. We form a part of a great province, which is part of a great Dominion, rich with intelligent men, blessed with unbounded energy and advantages, wealthy in timber and mineral resources. We have everything that we need to make people happy, leading to long life. Consistent with morality, we have it here to make the greatest people of the greatest province of the greatest country in all civilization." (Cheers and cries of "He's all right!")

MR. JOHN CAMERON, congratulating the club on its prosperity, and on its surroundings, spoke in an optimistic strain as to things in general. Nothing seemed to be taking any harm, on the whole, and with Browning they might say, "All's right with the world." He then turned to the Liberal Club, which was evidently all right. So was London South, with its coming Normal School. (Laughter.) Col. Lays had insisted that London would get the school, but an esteemed newspaper contemporary was equally certain there would be no school for London. But it was the colonel who was right. (Hear.) Then London as a city, with its nearly 40,000 people, and its progressive spirit, Conservatives and Liberals were alike proud of it. It had been said there was more politics to the acre in London than elsewhere. He doubted it. London was a lot of politics, no doubt, but there was also a lot of mutual friendliness and general goodwill. Then the province was all right—with its lack of debt, its possession of the greatest average of well-being on earth. The Dominion was all right. It was a pretty good Dominion. It possessed a twelfth of the earth's land surface. In 1885 Canada supplied 10 per cent of British imports. In 1897, it supplied 10 per cent; and our proportion grows every year. Last year no fewer than 23 ocean steamers with gold storage facilities plied back and forth between Canada and Great Britain. The last year recorded, showed an increase in exports of nearly $25,000,000; and of imports of nearly $20,000,000. In 1888, the total trade of Canada, exports and imports combined, was $13,000,000. In 1899, it had grown to $28,000,000. This was, indeed, Canada's growing time. Then the empire seemed to be all right. If there was rivalry in navies, Britain headed the procession. If there was any land grabbing going on, Great Britain got her share. (Laughter.) If there was a cruel and intolerable tyranny to be overthrown, like that of the Mahdi in the Sudan, Great Britain had generals like Lord Kitchener capable of doing what was needed. Mr. Cameron said that a great movement was going on that to him seemed satisfactory and eminently all right, namely, the reuniting of the English-speaking peoples of the world. No man could study the succession of events in connection with the recent war between the United States and Spain, without perceiving the hand of Providence. Great Britain's friendliness to the United States during that war, had caused a union of hearts, and of national ideals, that would go on practically unbroken for generations to come. The two great kindred peoples were necessary to each other. They alone were the custodians of true ideals of ordered freedom. The United States was branching out as a world-power in Cuba and the Philippines. The two mighty Anglo-Saxon world-powers would unitedly exert henceforth an influence on the destinies of mankind that would, from the highest standpoint, be most emphatically all right.

MR. T. J. MURPHY, who was evidently a favorite, complimented the club and the people of the Sixth Ward on having such an institution. He also congratulated the sixth warders on securing the Normal School. The best possible site had been chosen for it. The situation of such a school should be in a residential portion of a city, and not located in the vicinity of factories. Quiet and pure air were more essential to teachers and scholars, much more valuable to the community than the enhanced value of a few parcels of property. Mr. Murphy said the government had conferred a great benefit on London in locating the Normal School here; but governments were procrastinating, and if all were known, it would be found that to Col. Lays' energy the city was more indebted than it knew. (Hear.) The speaker referred to the political morality of the Laurier party, and said Canada had not been behind in producing men whose equal for moral strength was not exceeded in British history. (Applause.)

REV. E. WEBSTER, OF NISSOURI, in a bright speech, encouraged the club to pursue the policy it had started upon, to follow their leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier; to work constantly; but never to be too positive, and to take nothing for granted. The speaker was followed by Ald. McCallum and Gerry, who were received very cordially.

Ex-Ald. Parnell, as he rose to move a vote of thanks to the speakers, was given an ovation which was the best evidence of his popularity. Strong words of encouragement, and of confidence in the great future before Canada, were received with demonstrations of approval.

Mr. U. A. Buchner seconded, in a breezy little speech which pleased the audience.

The vote of thanks was unanimously carried, after which refreshments were served.

The musical programme was furnished by the Corbin brothers and Williamson musical trio—and they are very musical. Their instrumental selections were good and catchy, their capabilities in the vocal line excellent, and their repertoire seemed inexhaustible. They were frequently compelled to respond to encores, which they cheerfully did. Mr. Charles Parnell, in his recitations, was very funny, and he exhibited an astonishing degree of natural dramatic ability. He kept the large audience in convulsions of laughter. Masters Hartford and Gardner also rendered a duet very pleasingly.

MISSIONARY

What the Huron Branch of the C. O. M. A. Is Doing for the Work in Foreign Fields—Gratifying Reports Presented at the Annual Meeting.

The Huron Auxiliary of the Canadian Church Missionary Society held their annual meeting in Bishop Cronin Hall last night. Very Rev. Dean Innes conducted the opening exercises, and the president, Dr. F. T. Harrison, made a few remarks, expressing gratitude to God for the success that had attended the efforts of the association. He then called for reports.

Rev. G. B. Sage, secretary, reported the work of the past year, and referred especially to Rev. T. B. Westgate. The treasurer's report, presented by Dr. T. W. Crawford, showed the amount received during the year, including mission boxes, to be $1,420. This had been distributed among the different mission fields.

Miss Adelaide Smith, box secretary, reported 700 boxes having been sent out, and the sum of $188 had been received and distributed as directed, to Rev. Messrs. Westgate, Jagger and Cooper Robinson, and to the general fund.

The executive committee reported the following named persons as nominated office-bearers for next year: President, Dr. F. T. Harrison; secretary, Rev. G. B. Sage; treasurer, Mr. J. K. H. Pope; gleaser secretary, Dr. T. W. Crawford; box secretary, Miss Adelaide Smith. These names being put to the meeting were unanimously elected to the several offices. The executive committee were also elected. The Bishop of Huron then introduced Rev. H. du Vernet, of Toronto, who spoke on the origin of the C. O. M. A., and of the great success which had attended their efforts. By means of magic lantern views, kindly lent and skillfully manipulated by Mr. B. Buchanan, Mr. du Vernet gave an illustrated lecture on the Northwest, showing the various stations occupied by C. O. M. A. missionaries. The lecturer was warmly applauded.

Miss Thomas, of Toronto, the Dominion secretary of the Gleasers' Union, was the next speaker, and stated the history of the union and the cause, which led to its foundation. The address was listened to with deep interest.

Rev. H. A. Thomas, of Lucan, moved a cordial vote of thanks to Miss Thomas and to the several officers, seconded by Rev. J. W. Ten Eyck.

Mr. du Vernet briefly returned thanks for both, expressing their sense of privilege at being present.

The bishop then added a few earnest words of approval of the C. O. M. A. The central box secretary, Miss Cooper, of Toronto, was also present, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

HATS OFF!

Women at Church Bared Their Heads as the Pastor's Request.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 30.—At the Sunday evening service of the Aristocratic Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. B. Frank Taber, the pastor, requested the ladies to remove their hats.

The request took the ladies completely by surprise, but they all responded, when it was explained that there were stereotyped views to be given, and the hats would obstruct the view of those in the rear.

This is the first time in this city that ladies have ever been publicly requested to remove their hats, and the innovation is a popular one. The gentlemen at the church express their high approval of the scheme, and it may be permanent at the Sunday evening services.

WEST HURON

Good Meeting at Wingham in Mr. Garrow's Interest.

Wingham, Nov. 30.—An enthusiastic meeting in the interests of Hon. J. T. Garrow, the Liberal candidate for West Huron, was held here last evening. The chair was occupied by J. A. Morton, mayor of the town, and addressed the assembly were Messrs. W. R. Thomas Gibson, ex-M.P.P. for East Huron; Dr. Macdonald, M.P. for East Huron; and Hon. E. J. Davis.

Mr. Davis was well received on this stage, at all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Company, Limited, Toronto.

The town of Wingham has always been Conservative, but is being gradually redeemed to Liberalism, and can be relied upon to give a good account of itself on Dec. 8.

Meetings in Mr. Garrow's interests will be held as follows: Blyth and Ben Miller, Nov. 20; Grant's schoolhouse and Lonsdale, Dec. 1; Belgrave, Duncannon, Auburn, Dec. 2; Holmesville, Dec. 3. Another meeting will be held in Wingham on Dec. 5, at which Messrs. H. P. O'Connor, of Warkenton, and Hugh Guthrie, of Guelph, will speak.

UNION LABEL

Adopted by the Toronto Board of Aldermen in the Case of Firemen's Clothing.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—At Monday's meeting of Toronto's aldermen, Ald. Woods moved that it be an instruction to the board of control to in future require the union label to be placed on all clothing manufactured for the use of the fire brigade and other officers in the employ of the city. The alderman supported his motion in a strong speech, quoting what he asserted was a fair scale of prices for the material and the work of making the clothing, to prove his assertion that the city was getting its clothing for less than cost, and that this result was attained by means of the "sweating" process.

An amendment to postpone action until the city solicitor's opinion on the legality of the measure is obtained provoked a long discussion, but was voted down, and the motion passed—yeas, 10; nays, 8.

POLITICAL POINTS

East Wellington Conservatives have filed a petition against the return of Hon. J. M. Gibson, elected in the recent contest for that constituency.

At a Liberal convention at St. Li-boire, Que., Monday, J. E. Marclais, merchant of Antville, was chosen as the Liberal candidate for Bagot, in opposition to L. T. Brodeur.

PECULIAR POISONS.

Generated in the Human Body

The Result of Imperfect Digestion of Food.

Every living thing, plant or animal, contains within itself the germ of certain decay and death.

In the human body these germs of disease and death (called by scientists "poisons") are usually the result of imperfect digestion of food; the result of indigestion or dyspepsia.

The stomach, from cause, weakness, does not promptly and thoroughly digest the food. The result is a heavy, rotten mass which ferments (the first process of decay), poisoning the blood, making it thin, weak and lacking in red corpuscles; poisoning the brain, causing headache and pain in the eyes.

Bad digestion irritates the heart, causing palpitation and finally bringing on disease of this very important organ.

Poor digestion poisons the kidneys, causing Bright's disease and diabetes.

And this is so because every organ, every nerve, depends upon the stomach alone for nourishment and renewal.

And weak digestion shows itself not only in loss of appetite and flesh, but in weak nerves and muddy complexion.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and pepsinogen products; the most sensible remedy in all cases of indigestion, is to take after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply, in a pleasant, harmless form, all the elements that weak stomach lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strengthen nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full-sized packages by mail by enclosing price to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., but ask your druggist first.

Ern Evans, M. C. R. operator, and Miss Marlett, of St. Thomas, had a narrow escape from drowning Monday night. They were skating on Kettle Creek, and when near the Cherry Hole, the ice gave way, throwing the couple into the water. Miss Marlett called for help, and several young men who were skating on the flats rushed to her aid and rescued her. She became unconscious, and was removed to a nearby house. Dr. Marlett was summoned and brought Miss Marlett around. Evans managed to reach terra firma all right.

THE DEFENSE HAS BEGUN

In the Napanee Robbery Case—James Mackie in the Witness Box.

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 30.—When the court opened yesterday, Mr. O'Leary testified that the crown's case was presented. The defense of the prisoner Mackie was then proceeded with.

Geo. M. Parrott, Raymond Horner, Bryce Allen and George Seals were called to the witness stand to show that Pare and Holden had two men with them while on the job. Raymond Horner testified that he saw two women in the woods with Pare and Holden on several occasions. The defense was not permitted to call witnesses to contradict the evidence of Willie Mix, as it had neglected to lay a foundation.

George Hall, of Tweed, remembered a visit that Fanning and Root, Mackie paid to Robert Caskey in August of last year. Fanning bought a horse from Caskey. Robert Caskey, of Hungerford, told of Walter Fanning purchasing a horse from him in August last, and that Robert Mackie was present at his house on that occasion.

James W. Mackie, the "Whale," went on the stand, and told of taking a drive to Napanee with a couple of strangers in the winter of 1896-97. They parted in Napanee, the strangers to drive to Kingston, and the witness returned home on the train. They put up the horse in the Royal Hotel sheds, while they went around town endeavoring to get a drink. The witness said that he had hired the rig to go to Frankford for those men, whom he did not know, to go to Kingston. He did not know anything about the robbery, and had never received $1,100 in connection with it. His brother Robert had been "pulled up" for hiring this rig under false pretenses, and it had cost the witness $20 to settle the matter.

Nathaniel Easton and Fred Cero, of Belleville, testified that on Aug. 23, 1897, between 1 and 2 a.m., they visited Robert Mackie's house, and delivered a message to him in person.

Mr. Doan, Belleville, remembered administering chloroform to Maud Mackie on Aug. 26, 1897.

E. Knowlton, Sanford, repeated his story about coming from Belleville in a freight to meet Pare and Holden in the woods during the summer of 1897.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Mr. R. Morrow Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov. 28.—The vast majority of Torontonians know and esteem Mr. R. Morrow, the able and popular general agent for the Toronto Auer Light Company.

For this reason, the following statement, made in writing by Mr. Morrow, possesses unusual significance:

"Two years ago I was attacked by Lumbago and Urinary troubles which caused me intense suffering. I tried several different remedies without any benefit. Then I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills and was completely cured by them."

Lumbago is an unusually prevalent ailment. All sufferers should know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only cure for it. They never fail.

INSURE AGAINST BILIOUSNESS.

By Using the Only Sure Cure
Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They Tense and Invigorate the Liver, Giving It Strength to Do Its Work. Thereby—Their Effect Is Immediate and Permanent.

Biliousness is most prevalent during the fall and winter months. People eat much more fatty foods during these seasons, than during spring or summer. The Liver is overworked; it becomes exhausted, and the bile which it secretes overflows and distributed throughout the system. This is Biliousness.

A bilious person suffers more than tongue or pen can describe. Every feature in the face bears the impression of the disease. There is one way to cure this complaint. That is to assist the tired-out Liver to do its work; to give it strength and energy. Biliousness cannot be cured in any other way.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have a powerful, though gentle, effect on the Liver. They give it strength and vigor and enable it to receive and dispose of the bile, in the way Nature intended, it to do.

So speedily is the effect of this wonderful medicine on the Liver apparent, that in a few hours after the first dose has been
