

Lord,' and not the hand of man, that will "lift up a standard against him." Still in humble dependance on the promise of Him, who himself "went about doing good," and who has said that even a cup of cold water given to one of his little ones in the name of a disciple, shall in no wise lose its reward, in sincere and heartfelt dependance on Him who has said, "My grace is sufficient for thee, my strength is made perfect in weakness," the Lady Managers hope that even they, may be the humble instruments of "bringing some few from darkness to light and from the power of Satan unto God." But in the meanwhile, their entire trust, their hope, their joy, their confidence, is in Him, who by the mouth of his holy Prophet has said, "Then they that feared the Lord, spake often one to another, and the Lord hearkened and heard it; and a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the Lord and that thought upon His name; and they shall be mine saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels, and I will spare them as a man spareth his own son, that serveth him."
