LABELLING THE SMITHS. LABELLING THE SMITHS.

Washington has just as fair a proportion of Smiths in its population as any other city in the country, but the Smith family of the national capital has the additional distinction of numbering among its members the rectors of three prominent Episcopalian churches — St. John's, St. Thomas's and St. Margaret's.

This circumstance, while gratifying to the Smith family, might cause confusion were it not that a discerning if irreverent public has nicknamed the worthy ministers for their respective churches, distinguishing them severally as "Johnny" Smith, "Tommy" Smith, and "Maggie" Smith. — Woman's Home Companion.

BROKE ALL RECORDS

According to a statement given out by

According to a statement given out by George Hanna, of the Allan line, this season's passenger traffic from the port of Montreal has eclipsed all previous records. The increase has been especially notable in the case of the two royal mail turbiners, the Victorian and Virginian. Each of these vessels up to the present made six round trips from March 23, beginning with the Virginian's sailing on that date. On these six voyages the Virginian carried a total of 11,565 passengers divided as follows: Saloon, 1,866; second cabin, 3,040; third cabin, 6,617. Her sister ship, the Victorian, 41though not carrying so many first class passengers, excelled in those of the second class. On her six trips she carried altogether 10,521 passengers, classed as follows: Saloon, 1,533; second cabin, 3,067; third cabin, 5,921. Combining the numbers on bothly vessels the figures are 3,399 first, 6,100 second, and 12,538 third class passengers.
