Weddings of Interest Celebrated in City

TWO IN TRINITY

A. P. Hazen Weds Miss Blizard; Joseph R. Harrison Marries Miss Vera P. Robinson—A Moncton Wedding Arranged For This Afternoon

A fashionable wedding took place this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in Trinity church, when the rector, Rev. R. A. Armstrong, united in marriage Miss Vera P. Robinson, daughter of Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, to Joseph Robert Harrison, of Madison, Kent county, Eng., accountant in the Canadian Bank of Commerce here.

The bride was given away by her brother, J. M. Robinson. She wore a handsome costume of white crepe de chine, made en train, trimmed with princess lace and a dropped-over skirt of tulle and lace caught in at the side with clusters of orange blossoms. She also wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Molly E. Robinson was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Nora Robinson and Miss Madge Robertson. They were gowned in pale blue silk and wore white lace and white lace tunic skirts and large white hats trimmed with blue tulle and a large bow at the side. They carried bouquets of white lilies.

The groomsmen were R. A. Sinclair, of Toronto, and Beveler R. Armstrong and Jack Davidson officiated as ushers. A wealth of beautiful and costly gifts was received by the bride from a large circle of friends, with whom she is very popular. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond turquoise ring and to the ushers pearl scarf pins. The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were gold bar pins set with turquoise.

There was a large number of invited guests and very attractive refreshments were served. Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, mother of the bride, wore black crepe de chine over silk and a white lace scarf. A black sequin toque with white agrette and carried mauve and white sweet peas.

Mrs. John M. Robinson's costume was of yellow silk crepe over satin, trimmed with lace, and a large hat with plumes. Mrs. H. Beveler's costume was of white chiffon brocade over pink silk, and a pink turban with chiffon and pink plumes.

Mrs. R. L. Ellis, of Quebec, sister of the bride, wore blue silk with a black hat trimmed with tulle and plumes. Following the ceremony, the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's mother, Queen Square, where a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison will leave on the Montreal train this evening for a trip to New York and Washington and on their return they will reside in Wright street.

Hazen Blizard. In Trinity church at noon today a pretty wedding took place when Rev. W. B. Stewart united in marriage Arthur P. Blizard, manager of the Bank of British North America, and Miss Agnes Isabella Hazen, daughter of Fred W. Blizard. The bride was attended by Miss Laura Hazen, sister of the groom, while Fred R. Taylor supported the groom.

Miss Blizard was prettily attired in a strictly tailored traveling costume of green tulle over blue Panama cloth, with black braiding and black trimmings. She wore (Continued on page 3, first column).

PLAN TO AID DOWN AND OUT BALL PLAYERS

"Pop" Anson's Case Lands to Project of One Benefit Game a Year By Each Big League Club

Detroit, Mich., June 8.—President Frank Navin, of the Detroit Americans, says that when Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was here last week, he proposed an elaborate plan for aiding "down and out" ball players which was approved by the American league president, and steps have been taken to put it into operation. The proposal was inspired by the present difficulties of Adrian C. Anson, of Chicago. In brief it is this:—That once each year each club in the American and National Leagues designate some game in its schedule the gross receipts of which are to be turned into a fund for the aid of ex-ball players and other sufferers of the game who are in straightened circumstances, the game to be advertised as a benefit, thus increasing the receipts; that the fund be administered by the National Commission, each case to be investigated on its merits; all cases to be attended to individually instead of establishing a baseball players' home, the tentative scheme being to send a monthly check to the beneficiary.

The players of the teams competing in the benefit games probably will be asked to contribute small sums. President Johnson thought $50,000 a year could be raised by this means.

DIAMONDS CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE IN JOHNSON'S CAMP

Little Says He Loaned Them to Mrs. Johnson to Make a "Front"—Another Cause Mrs. Little's Refusal to Recognize Fighter's Wife

San Francisco, June 8.—In view of what has happened to George Little and Bill Nolan man are asking if Jack Johnson's latest managerial move will prove only temporary. Light on the reason of Nolan's last relinquishment of the job was shed last night by Tex Rickard, who said he regarded Johnson in the interest of harmony not to take Nolan into camp and that Johnson gave his word that he would find some other man.

According to one story among the circle of fight followers the real trouble between Johnson and Little came from the relations which shall be observed between the two men. The negro wife, a white woman, is said to insist on being chummy with the wife of her husband's manager, which the manager refused to allow and displease on this point, added to the jealousy of Sig Hart, are said to have led to the break.

Diamonds valued at $3,000 are given to Little as another cause of the breach. These diamonds, brooch and ring, were loaned by him to Johnson, says Little. Little objected to the way Mrs. Johnson "ported" the jewelry in cafes where he feared they would be stolen. Johnson declares the diamonds are his and says he will keep them at any cost.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 8.—An official of the military academy here has started a movement to have 10,000 postals sent to Governor Gillett urging him "to pay no attention to the narrow persons who seek to prevent the fight, but to give men with real blood in their veins a chance to see the great sporting event."

English Papers Pronounce High Eulogy on His Remarkable Talents—His Pen More Commanding Than That of Any Other Man of Modern Times

London, June 7.—The Times, in the course of the eulogy article on Goldwin Smith, says he was almost unequalled among his contemporaries as a master of English prose. He was perfectly free from party ties or bias in Canadian politics. He was a determined foe of political corruption and standing alone in prestige and intimate association with the great literary and political figures of a remarkable period of life in England.

He wrote nothing that did not at once command an attentive hearing. He set and maintained a standard of literary excellence in Canadian journalism which was everywhere recognized and appreciated. He stood for purity in civic administration, for honor as the basis of political conduct. Unscrupulous tools of party droned the hub of his cogging satire. Even those who differed from him stood with interest and pleasure his brilliant periods but in spite of the charm of his style, and the strength of his convictions and the courage with which he expressed them and the general excellence in Canadian journalism which was everywhere recognized and appreciated.

DOG DAY AND USUAL EXCUSES

Fun in Court in Some of The Cases

GAINES SENT AWAY

Large Number Seem to Have Been Sent to Country—One Died The Day Following Police Man Ira Perry's Call—Some Fines

Today was "dog day" and all the dogs piled there in the police court. Judge Ritchie presided, and almost all the police force was present, as well as the citizens summoned for not complying with the law in the matter of licensing dogs. There were not very many of them and the proceedings were not very lengthy. According to the accounts offered, it would seem as though the canine population of some country districts must have increased remarkably during the last few weeks. The suburbs seemed to be a favorite place with many dog-owners to send their pets—after the police arrived, and thoughts of a fine suggested themselves.

But this was not the only excuse. Some dogs had been afflicted and had died mysteriously or suddenly, or both, since May 1. Others had met an untimely death through the administration of chloroform. Still others had met a watery grave, and a great many were completely disowned.

Some Did Not Obey Order. Several people were summoned but did not appear, and it is probable that another day may have to be set to deal with the delinquents. In the cases of a few dogs, the administration of chloroform, but not completed, pending further investigation into the matter.

The cases of two women, Laura Stevens, and Mrs. Desanous, were first disposed of. The former had taken out a license and the latter had drowned her little pup. Robert Orr thought his brother, George, would like to have a dog, so he gave him one which he had.

Win. Allan sent his dog away on May 18 to Barnesville. George Armstrong, of Hilyard street thought a family in Quispamis needed a watchdog, so he sent them his. Sad to relate, however, the family moved to town, recently, and the dog came back. He was not wanted, and because of this fact, is now doing watch-dog duty for a farmer at Grand Bay.

Arthur Gullbrant sent his little pup to a suburban resort. Frank Davy did the same. Chas. Mattial gave his canine a trip to Yarmouth, N. S. David Franke gave his dog chloroform on May 10. Harry Pynn sent his dog to Cardston. Frank Boone said he had no dog, so the one in his queue belonged to his boarding mistress.

Win. Burke, Charles street, said he intended destroying his dog tonight. Died Just After Police Visit. Arthur London called amusement when he told the court that his dog, which he had had for twelve years, had died the night after Policeman Ira Perry called to see about the taxes. His Honor asked if Perry was killed. Alexander Wallace said he had destroyed his dog.

The case disposed of was that of Thomas Marsh, a colored man, who provoked wrath by his answers and observations. "I don't own that dere dog, yo' hono'," said he. "Dat brute 'longs to ma son, Millidge Marsh. I ris from him when he was a little pup, six weeks old. I've had him now for fifteen years and I ain't never paid no license before. I've been here about four years. Yessir! It's a nice dog—Rowdy, we called him; yes, dat's his name. If you don't believe I'm telling all de truth, yo' hono', I'll go fetch ma son, Millidge. It's his dog, not mine, although I was summoned."

It seems that Mr. Marsh's son, Millidge, had got out a license in his father's name, much to the surprise of his father, who hastened to assure the court that there was some mistake. The matter was allowed to stand for the present.

Fines were imposed on most of those named. His Honor saying that they had ample warning that they should have had their licenses. The fines were, however, allowed to stand for a time.

MAYA INDIANS SACK TOWN AND SLAY MANY. Vera Cruz, Mex., June 8.—While the Yucatan officials will give no information regarding the springing of Maya Indians, they do not deny that the town of Valladolid has been sacked and many of the government employes killed. The present outbreak is said to be the most serious in the district in the last fifteen years.
