

ST. JAMES' NOW PREPARED FOR CELEBRATION

Observance of 75th Anniversary of Church Week of Oct. 17

The 75th anniversary of the dedication of St. James' church is to be observed next week, continuing from Oct. 17 to 24 and special speakers during the anniversary week will be Bishop Richardson, Rev. Canon S. Gould, M.D., D.C.L., secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada; Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, rector of Trinity; Rev. Canon G. Osborne, former rector of St. James' church, and Rev. H. A. Cody, the present rector, who will give the historical address at the morning service on Oct. 17.

Considerable repair work has been done on the church property preparatory to the holding of the anniversary celebration. The walls have been replastered and painted a light buff color. The ceiling has been given a coat of varnish and the arches and window frames a mahogany stain. The seats have been painted dark oak. The sanctuary walls have been finished in red and green and all the mottoes have been regilded and the woodwork in the chancel has been retouched a darker shade.

FRONT ROW REMOVED.

The front row of seats in the church has been removed, giving more space for the choir in procession. The old lights in the choir and chancel have been removed and illumination is now effected by means of hidden lights on the main arches, doing away with the former glare. Tector large extra subdued lights have been installed in the main body of the church. The vestry and choir rooms have been repainted as well as the choir lockers and all woodwork.

The entire work of painting has been done by John Courtney with an efficient staff of men. It has been 28 years since such extensive work has been done on the interior of the church. The work on the exterior has included a new roof over the choir room, repainting of the spire and the putting up of a new nave to replace the former one which was in ruins for some time. The new nave is a fine Celtic copper cross designed by Frank Christiansen, the vestry clerk and made by John E. Wilson, Limited, the firm which has done all the copper work for the roof repairs.

BEING REPLACED.

The centre lights in the church are being replaced by a fine new reflector white glazed porcelain enamel Brascorite, the gift of Mrs. Tremaine Gard in memory of her sister, the late Mrs. A. D. Dewdney.

Weddings

Lee-Dykeman

Germain Street Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty and interesting wedding at 6 o'clock last evening, when Rev. Dr. S. S. Poole, pastor of the church, united in marriage Miss Heta, daughter of Mr. E. P. Dykeman and the late Ethelbert Dykeman, of this city, and Robert Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Lee, of Meriden, Conn. The church was beautifully decorated with banks of palms and ferns and large baskets of hydrangea, tied with dainty bows of white tulle.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, S. Purdy Poshay, of Boston, was attractively gowned in a French model of dove grey crepe routaine with silver tissue trimmings and a hat of the same material with trimmings of dove grey shawl velvet, and carried a bridal bouquet of Ophelia roses and ferns. She was attended by her sister, Miss Phyllis Bernice Dykeman, who wore peach georgette, flared at the sides, over peach taffeta with small peach georgette hat trimmed with touches of gold applique and gold stitching, and carrying an arm bouquet of Columbia roses and ferns. The bridegroom was supported by Frederick R. Weinman, of Meriden, Conn.

Miss Dorothy Roach and Miss Helen Beattie, wearing orchid flat crepe and carrying arm bouquets with silver trimmings and carrying nosegays of yellow and pink roses, ushered the invited guests. Dr. Harry Dunlop, organist of the church, presided at the organ and as the bride party entered the church played the wedding march from Lohengrin. During the service Dr. Dunlop, accompanied by Bruce Holder on the violin, played the Venetian Love Song and "Andantino." During the reading of the register, Miss Audrey Rankine sang "At Dawning." Mr. Holder playing the violin obligato, and at the close of the ceremony the bride party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Mrs. E. P. Dykeman wore black crepe back satin with black moire and satin hat and Mrs. Robert Lee wore grey crepe back satin with a large blue velvet hat. The bride travelled in her wedding costume which she wore with a needle point coat of Sibbad blue, with shawl collar and deep cuffs of moire.

Directly after the ceremony the bride and groom left on the Boston train for Meriden, Conn., from where they will motor to Washington and points south. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Lee will reside in Meriden, Conn. The young couple were the recipients of a large array of beautiful and useful gifts and have the good wishes of a host of friends in the city and elsewhere. Miss Dykeman was a popular member of the younger set in Saint John and will be greatly missed in many circles.

Britain Plans To Save On Bond Conversion

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The British Treasury is planning to save £200,000 a year through a conversion scheme in connection with £110,132,037 five per cent. treasury bonds, maturing February 1927. It offers holders the choice of converting into 4½ per cent. bonds, 1934 at par, with a cash payment of £1 for each £100 five per cent. bond surrendered.

The conversion will cost the treasury a million pounds in cash payments but it will save one half per cent. interest yearly on the £110,132,037 or about half a million pounds.

A pleasing shower was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Penny, Main street, in honor of Miss Emily Devereux, who is soon to be a principal in an interesting event. A pleasant afternoon was spent in the gathering in music and games and the bride-to-be received many presents.

FLORENCE O'DENISHAWN'S Famous Dancing Feet

"Keeping fit, to a dancer, means first of all keeping the feet in trim. Tight ballet shoes and strenuous dancing are apt to irritate the tender cuticle of the toes." So writes the well-known dancer, Florence O'Denishawn.

"Blue-jay is an indispensable friend. It keeps corns and calluses away."

And what a delightful way to end a corn! A cool and velvety cushion fits over the corn and stops the pain at once. Usually one plaster conquers the corn in 48 hours. But, if obstinate, a second plaster vanquishes the most stubborn offender. At all drug stores.
