TWO TAX BILLS UNDER PROTEST

Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., and Wm. Webber Cases Gone Into.

Arbitrators to Act in the First; Second Referred to Officials.

Appeals from the 1925 assessment by the Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., and Wm. Webber, were heard this morning by the Common Council. The first was an appeal from the valuation placed on their buildings in City Road and the other was from the income assessed on Mr. Webber. E. C. Weyman appeared for both.

COMPANY'S CLAIM.

In the case of the Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., Mr. Weyman said his clients objected to the valuation of $17,000 placed on their buildings and presented a valuation of $11,763 made by James Myles and J. M. Belyea. Until last year's assessment had been only $6,000 on the buildings and they asked that the valuation be reduced to $11,763.

E. M. Olive, chairman of the Board of Assessors, asked Mr. Weyman if his client had not had a valuation made by Edward Bates, Mr. Weyman declined to answer. Mr. Olive said he had been told by Mr. Bates that he had made such a valuation and the amount was only $500 less than that of the Board of Assessors. This was questioned by Mr. Weyman.

Mr. Olive suggested that the city appoint a valuator to act with a valuator appointed by the Swift Canadian Co., and this was agreed to by Mr. Weyman. Commissioner Bullock said it seemed to him as though for some time the property had been under-valued, and he thought it was as much the duty of a citizen to object to that as to over-valuation. The matter was left in the hands of the chairman of the Board of Assessors.

Wm. WEBBER CASE.

For Mr. Webber it was contended by Mr. Weyman that as the return called for by law had been filed by Mr. Webber the assessors were bound to accept it unless they could show that it was fraudulent, incorrect or insufficient and then they could change it only after due notice to Mr. Webber. He said this notice had not been given to Mr. Webber and therefore the assessment was not legal. He further contended that, even if the assessment were a legal one, it was unfair in that it was double the amount assessed in the year of Mr. Webber for 1924 and double the amount stated in the sworn return. He admitted that a letter had been sent to Mr. Webber under date of June 4 asking him to call at the office of the Board of Assessors, but this had not been received by him until the latter end of July.

CHAIRMAN HEARD.

Mr. Olive said the board had assessed Mr. Webber on $6,000 income after not hearing from their letter of June 4 asking Mr. Webber to call and see them. They had again asked Mr. Webber to call and discuss the matter on August 18, but he had not replied to this communication. Commissioner Wignmore said he thought the assessors had used Mr. Webber very fairly in giving him a second chance to be heard.

At the question of legality of the notice sent to Mr. Webber in June had been raised the matter was referred to the city solicitor and chairman of the assessors.

JAMES A. GARNETT DIES IN HIS SLEEP

Passes Away at Home in Prince Edward Street—Was Machinist.

James A. Garnett, of 110 Prince Edward street, was found dead in his bed this morning after retiring last evening in comparatively good health. Mr. Garnett had been at his work as a machinist at the Wm. Lewis and Son works, 60 Britain street, until Saturday. He did not return on Monday, because of a slight indisposition but was out and about on Tuesday evening. His health was not considered a matter to cause any uneasiness, so it was a great shock to his daughter, Mrs. R. G. Arthur Gillard, with whom he resided, to find that he had died in the night. Mrs. Garnett died four months ago and Mr. Garnett has greatly mourned his loss. Besides his daughter he leaves his mother and two sisters, all of this city. He was an efficient machinist and was respected by his employers. Mr. Garnett attended Trinity church and will be buried in the Church of England burying ground beside his wife. The funeral service will be held at his late residence at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

MONTREAL.—Well, sir—they ain't a sewin' circle in the Settlement! The Montreal drinkin' places fer gab. I was goin' along the street yesterday an' I heard a noise as if fifty people was all talkin' at once. I went—was what it was. The old bar had been tore down. VETERAN OF SEA DIES IN CAPITAL

Captain David Smith, of St. Martins, was Visiting in Fredericton.

Encircled World in Clipper Ship Days—Had Italian Medal for Life-saving.

Following his wife, who died early in June of this year, Captain David Smith of St. Martins passed away last night in Fredericton at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Eardley, whom he had gone to visit.

Captain Smith was a master mariner of the old school in the palmy days of the clipper ships of Saint John and during his 40 years at sea encircled the globe several times and visited all countries. For many years he was in the employ of Howard D. Troop of Saint John.

His last command was the bark "Highlands," after which, in 1906, he retired to his home in St. Martins, where he had since resided.

WON ITALIAN MEDAL

Captain Smith was the proud possessor of a medal presented him by the Italian Government for his good work in saving the shipwrecked crew of an Italian bark.

On another occasion, while his ship, the Prince Eugene, was lying at anchor in the port of Callao, Peru, that city was visited by a terrible earthquake and it was only by superior seamanship that he was able to save his ship from being destroyed by a tidal wave which followed.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Geo. W. White and Mrs. H. V. Davis of Concrete, Washington, and Mrs. A. E. Eardley of Fredericton; one son, David R., civil engineer, of Saint John, and one brother, William, of St. Martins. The funeral will be held on Friday, Sept. 18, at St. Martins after the arrival of the St. Martins train there.

Rev. C. T. Clark Speaks of New Pastor of Main Street Church.

Rev. Clifford T. Clark, of the Fairville Baptist Church, said this morning that he thought it would be interesting to Saint John people to know that the wife of Rev. G. F. Bolster, who will soon take up his pastorate in the Main street Baptist church, was Miss Amy Parlee, cousin of W. Parlee, of 120 Main street. Rev. Mr. Clark said that he had been to state that he was a colleague of Rev. Mr. Bolster in Newton Theological Institute, Newton, Mass., when both took their bachelor of divinity degrees at the college.

Prior to going to Newton the two young men were ordained together at the New Brunswick Association of the Baptist Church in July, 1909, at Devon. They went to Newton and preached while taking their three years' course. Rev. Mr. Bolster was a graduate in arts from Bates College, and Rev. Mr. Clark from the U. N. B. The latter also took his M. A. at Newton. Rev. Mr. Clark paid a warm tribute to the ability of his brother minister.
