NEW BRUNSWICK BIRTH RATE BEST

Encouraging Reports Are Submitted at Provincial Health Bureau Meeting

New Brunswick led all Canada in the birth rate for 1923, according to an announcement made by Dr. George G. Melvin, chief medical health officer, at the opening of the quarterly session of the provincial Bureau of Health this morning at the Health Centre. Dr. Melvin quoted from the tentative report just issued from Ottawa on vital statistics, which shows that this province's rate of 26.9 per 1,000 population led Manitoba, which stood at 26.6 in second place. British Columbia was third with 17.8. Quebec is not included in the figures compiled. Commenting on the figures, Dr. Melvin declared it was a matter for congratulation, and he praised the work of the registrars throughout the province in this respect.

Not the same favorable report, he said, could be made for the infant mortality rate for the province which, according to the report, stood at 108 per 1,000 live births. In 1922, it was 108. All but two other provinces, however, showed increases, while New Brunswick was less in proportion than any of the others. The mortality rate for all causes, however, has again lowered for New Brunswick—now being the lowest for the maritime provinces and only slightly higher than that of Ontario, which is considered the standard in this respect.

The 1923 mortality rate is 12.6 per 1,000 population. Compared with former years this shows a decided improvement. In 1922 it was 18.1; 1921, 14.6, and 1920, 15.6. In brief, there is a decided drop during the last four years.

So far this year Dr. Melvin reported that the tentative report for January, 1924, is very favorable, being 10.1 points lower than the average for the Dominion during that month. In four years, New Brunswick has had the greatest proportionate reduction in infant mortality rate of any province in Canada during that period, from 138 to 108 per 1,000 live births.

In opening the meeting Dr. Melvin referred feelingly to the loss sustained to the cause of good health in the province through the death of Dr. J. A. McGarity and Mrs. Joyce MacLean. He noted with pleasure the good attendance and welcomed several visitors from various parts of the province.

Encouraging, Says Minister.
Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, M. L. A., Minister of Health, also extended a cordial welcome to the visitors. He agreed with Dr. Melvin's statement on the encouraging report on vital statistics. He noted the fact that three lay organizations had been formed to advance the cause of prevention of tuberculosis, promotion of child welfare and prevention of venereal disease.

John S. Martin, M. L. A., and Frank Hogan of Newcastle appeared before the bureau in connection with a local water supply for that town. The matter was under discussion at the time adjournment was made.

Those present at the following: Dr. G. G. Melvin, Hon. Dr. Roberts, Dr. F. J. Desmond, Newcastle; Dr. J. A. Wade, Fredericton; Dr. William Warwick, Joliffe; Dr. H. L. Abramson, Miss H. T. McKelejohn, Dr. C. L. Emerson, Dr. W. S. Logie, Chatham; Dr. A. King, Petticoat; Dr. H. LeBlanc, Moncton; Dr. George W. Bailey, Woodstock; Dr. Mabel Hamilton, Henry Morris, Chatham; Mrs. Wheeler, Fredericton.

PUFFS HIS FAG AS AUTO IS DESTROYED

Caught Between Two Trolley Cars, Driver Is Rescued Unruffled.

Boston, Aug. 14—Max Richman of Malden, smoking a cigarette at the wheel of his automobile, suddenly found himself caught between two street cars, went through the excitement of a furious smashup and was still calmly puffing his cigarette from the wreckage. Nothing remained intact but the steering wheel of the Richman automobile and the imperturbable Richman himself. And, of course, the cigarette was unharmed. Coming head-on against him was another automobile. Richman accepted the worse of two evils for himself and made a graceful dive between the two trolleys. Both trolleys, witnesses said, joined in the general demolition of the Richman automobile. Three wheels came off his car as neatly as if it had been done by machinery.

Robertson declares that while he was fishing in a stream on the farm of Fred G. Kortman, in that country, he caught a live-pond picker. As he was pulling the fish in, a half-grown bear leaped into the water and swallowed the fish, which had drawn the line under a submerged log. Household Hints.

Radishes and celery that have become wilted may be refreshed and made crisp if a pulp with cold water for an hour. To prepare sausages for sausage rolls, try frying instead of boiling them. The fried sausage has a much richer flavor. Add a generous pinch of baking powder to the mashed potatoes after the milk has been put in. Beat with an egg whip and it is lighter and different. Scoop out the top of cup-cakes and fill with slightly crumbed strawberries, sprinkle with sugar and top with whipped cream. Mash leftover potatoes, add a tin of sardines and mash well together. Cherry Wine. Stem and wash the cherries and wash to a pulp with a wooden mallet. Press out all the juice and to each quart of it, add one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water. Stir thoroughly and let stand about an hour. Strain and pour into a muslin or cheesecloth and squeeze out as much liquid as possible. Strain until all fermentation ceases. Strain, bottle and seal.

BLUEJACKETS ARE SEEN IN PARADE

Calcutta Men Drill on Barrack Green—At Home On Flagship.

This afternoon, Vice Admiral Sir James A. Fergusson, K. C. B., C. M. G., R. N., commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, will hold an luncheon on board his flagship, the Calcutta, with invited guests present. The Calcutta has been decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion.

This morning about 50 bluejackets paraded through the city to the Barrack Green where they were put through several phases of company drill. The first performed the drill with fixed bayonets and carried it through with a precision that would have excited the admiration of a seasoned army man. Their clockwork regularity in handling the rifles elicited much favorable comment.

Tonight the Calcutta's concert party under the direction of Lieutenant Swinley and Lieutenant Wigger, two of the most popular officers on board, will give a performance in the Seaman's Institute. A big attendance is expected.

Last evening the Vice Admiral entertained at dinner with the following as guests: Lieut-Governor Todd, Mayor Potts, Lt.-Col. H. C. Sparling, D. O., and Senator W. B. Daniels. Yesterday afternoon a large number of citizens inspected the flagship, which will sail tomorrow for Halifax.
