Among the cases listed for hearing at this court is a claim of J. A. Gregory against several insurance companies for payment of policies upon a lumber burned some time ago. STRENUOUS WOOING

Police Court Cases of Variety Today—String of Sentences for Bad Language—Theft Charge.

Patrick O'Brien pleaded not guilty to a charge of being drunk and assaulting Mrs. Marion Melanson. Mrs. Melanson said the accused had accosted her in Coburg street on Sunday afternoon with an open knife and had threatened to kill her if she would not marry him. He had threatened that before.

To the accused she said she was a married woman and did not know where her husband was. She admitted that she and the accused had been going together for two months and that she had borrowed money from him. The accused was fined $8 for being drunk and told he was liable to jail without a fine for striking a woman. He was remanded.

Bad Language.

James Archibald Firth was charged in the Police Court this morning with being drunk and using obscene and profane language. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and not guilty to the latter charge. Policeman Lindsay told of language used by the accused to the proprietor of the Riverview Hotel. The accused was fined $8 for being drunk, $8 for using obscene language, $8 for taking the name of God in vain, and $8 for taking the name of the Saviour in vain. All the fines carried a jail term of two months with hard labor in default of payment.

A man charged with drunkenness was fined $8 for being drunk and $8 for being out after 9 o'clock.

George McCarthy was charged with the theft of an overcoat from Philip Torrey. Torrey said that the coat produced in court was his and had been given him for Christmas. He had missed it on Tuesday, June 12. It had been in the office of Donnelly's stables in Princess street. He valued it at $20. He had seen the accused around the stables. He had loaned him a green coat some time ago and had never got it back. He had not loaned him the coat produced in court.

Detective Biddiscombe said he had found the coat in Morris' Fine's second-hand store in Mill street. It had been sold on June 12. The name of the accused appeared on the check at the store. The case was set over until tomorrow morning.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR THE HOLIDAY

Dominion Day Observance Programme Here was Arranged at Meeting Today.

Details for the public observance of Dominion Day here on Monday, July 2, were worked out at a meeting of a citizens' committee in the committee room at City Hall at noon today. The Mayor presided and all the city commissioners were present, as well as A. I. Machum, secretary of the G. W. V. A., who acted as secretary, Judge H. O. McInerney, Hon. J. R. Armstrong, retired County Court Judge, and his successor, Judge J. A. Barry, Capt. A. J. Mulcahy, C. B. Allan, J. E. Quinn, R. H. Gale, W. A. Pearce, C. A. McKee, A. M. Gregg and others. Arrangements were made for a flag-raising ceremony at 10:30 a. m. the official ceremony to take place at No. 2 engine house, King square, with simultaneous raising of the flag at Indian town and Haymarket square. An effort will be made to have two speakers deliver short addresses and miniature flags will be distributed to all children attending any of the gatherings. A band concert for the afternoon in King square was also planned. An invitation will be sent to Miss Canada to officiate at the flag-raising and an effort will be made to have a military salute fired, a military guard of honor and a band in attendance.

It was decided that the flag-raising ceremony would take place at 10:30 on the morning of July 2. On the suggestion of Commissioner Frink, besides the central ceremony at No. 2 engine house, King square, it was decided to raise the flag on the poles at Haymarket square, at Indian town and on the band-stand in West St. John at the same hour.

Mr. Bullock suggested the presentation of a small flag to every child who attended any of the ceremonies. Capt. Mulcahy agreed to look after this on the west side. The matter of purchase of the flags and distribution to other parts of the city were left to Capt. Mulcahy.

The Mayor was authorized to insert a notice in the newspapers, asking the public to participate in the celebration of the day and to decorate their houses. A similar notice to the ships in the harbor was also agreed to.

Rev. W. A. Robbins suggested that a patriotic address might be given to the Sunday school children on Sunday afternoon.

The Speakers.
The Mayor said he had telegraphed Lieut.-Governor Todd regarding an address but had received no reply. He said Sir Douglas Hailey was out of the city and would not be back for two weeks so would not be available.

The names of Chief Justice McKewen and Premier Veniot were mentioned. The matter was left with the Mayor to arrange.

Mr. Machum was authorized to arrange for a military guard of honor and a military salute.

George Gorham, harbor master at Indian town, was named to look after the flag-raising at Indian town, and W. P. Clayton, Prince Edward street, to raise the flag at Haymarket Square. Commissioner Frink agreed to look after this matter.

Commissioner Thornton agreed to look after providing a flag for the pole at No. 2 Engine House, as well as providing a small platform for the speakers.

The Mayor was appointed to arrange for a band concert in the afternoon. So far, he said, he had been able to reach only the St. Mary's Band. He was also authorized to procure a band to attend the flag-raising ceremony.

It was decided to extend an invitation to Miss Canada to raise the flag at King Square.
