IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA

UNQUESTIONABLE SECURITY

In judging a Bank's strength there are two important things to be considered.

FIRST—
THE PAID UP CAPITAL STOCK.—This represents the amount of Capital invested in the business by the Stockholders. The liability of the Stockholders of this Bank is $5,000,000.

SECOND—
SURPLUS.—Surplus is profits from the business set aside as additional working Capital. It adds just so much to the Bank's strength and is additional security to depositors. This Bank's Surplus is $5,000,000.

Capital & Surplus, $10,000,000
No other Bank in this Country offers better Security to its Depositors than the

BULLET WOUND THROUGH HEAD

Arthur Brown Attempts Suicide

—Found by Young Son in Pool of Blood.

Tillsonburg, Nov. 23.—Arthur Brown, a respected, well-to-do farmer living on the 10th concession, near town, is dying as the result of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Mr. Brown, who has been in poor health and rather despondent for a few months, went out to the barn this morning to do up the chores before having breakfast. He did not come in when called, so his little son Fred was sent to tell him breakfast was ready. The little boy made the ghastly discovery of his unfortunate father lying in a pool of blood with a bullet wound through his head. He at once gave the alarm and a doctor was summoned. Although still alive, Mr. Brown is unconscious, and no hopes are held for his recovery.

A St. Thomas Dispatch says: Mr. Brown only survived his injuries a few minutes after being discovered. A widow and two sons survive him.

ENTERTAINED CHOIR

From Friday's Daily.

The choir of St. Paul's church and a few other friends were entertained in a delightful manner by Miss McCarty at her home, James street north last evening.

The gathering numbered about forty and the evening was pleasantly spent by all participating. Games, music, social intercourse and dainty refreshments constituted the evening's program.

SCOUTS WERE EXAMINED

OVER FIFTY TRIED THE QUALIFYING EXAMINATION LAST NIGHT.

From Friday's Daily.

Over fifty Boy Scouts tried the qualifying examination at St. Paul's church last night. The subjects in which the Scouts were examined were as follows: knot tying, the Scout signs and salutes, the Scout law, and the composition and history of the Union Jack.

A great deal of interest was worked up over the test and the examiners will have some difficulty in preparing their list of successful candidates. It is hoped, however, that the results will be announced in to-morrow's issue.

Scouts who were unsuccessful in this examination, and also those who did not try, will be given another opportunity in the course of two or three weeks.

All Scouts of the town are requested to meet at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp.

James Doughty, a Guelph boy was shot in the leg by the accidental discharge of a rifle.

Tag day at New Westminster, B.C., in aid of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society netted $533.80.

Peter Mulvaney a 90-year-old Orlean veteran, was buried with military honors at Cobourg.

Niagara power is in operation at Guelph. It was turned on without any blowing of trumpets.

AMENDS THE REPLY SENT HYDE DRUG

17 YEARS SINCE

Montana Man Explains How He Came to Furnish Cyanide

Helena, Mont., Nov. 24.—It turns out that the gift of cyanide of potassium made by a friend of Dr. B. C. Hyde, convicted of killing Col. Thos. H. Swope, the Kansas City Millionaire, dates back 17 years.

Notwithstanding this, Joseph Edgerton, prominent mining man and member of the last Legislative Assembly, who sent the poison, hopes this evidence will help to gain a new trial for the murderer.

Mr. Edgerton last night told the story of how he sent Hyde a box of cyanide, estimated at two pounds, and how, over 17 years later, he came to let Hyde's attorney know of this fact.

Edgerton's statement is considered of great importance to Hyde, in view of the fact that the latter, during his trial, could not explain to the satisfaction of the jury where he had secured cyanide which he admitted he had been using for many years.

Edgerton said he sent Hyde a box of cyanide, estimated at two pounds, and how, over 17 years later, he came to let Hyde's attorney know of this fact.

"We will retract no part of our policy because Nationalist or Liberal agrees with it," and declared that, before a permanent naval establishment was created, the people should have an opportunity to pass upon it.

Dr. Thomas Chisholm, later in the debate, made a significant reference to United States influence on the Railway Commission.

Taking advantage of the opportunity afforded by the introduction of the amendment of F. D. Monk (Conservative, Jacques Cartier), regretting that the Government had no indication whatever to consult the people upon its naval policy," Mr. Borden spoke for the second time during the debate.

Digressing for a moment from the issue presented to him, Mr. Borden answered a few of the criticisms raised by Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) on Wednesday, who had declared that Canadian imports from Great Britain last year amounted to $217,000,000, whereas the Government returns showed that this trade aggregated $205,000,000.

Dealing with the controversy raised by Mr. Guthrie over the alleged ownership of public lands in the western provinces, the leader of the opposition said that the crown owns all lands included in the public domain, and the real issue was one of administration, not ownership.

Mr. Guthrie had spoken of the value of these lands, but had not stated they were only a matter of expense to the Federal Government.

"That does not seem to be very much in harmony with the proposal of the Government of Canada to build the Hudson Bay Railway out of the proceeds of these lands," he argued.

Proceeding, Mr. Borden indicated that Mr. Beland had mistakenly read the resolution of the last session of Parliament, introduced by Conservatives, in its original form, in which Mr. Beland said that last year the policy of the Conservative party was in favor of a stated emergency contribution, and now it was in disregard to the resolution of 1908, to which that party had assented.

The resolution was amended in that very particular finality said that that policy of regularly or periodically contributions to the Imperial Treasury for naval and military purposes would be as far as Canada was concerned, the most satisfactory solution of the question of defence.

Answering some remarks by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Borden disclaimed any statement by him that Canada should send warships to Great Britain, but should not provide for the maintenance and equipment of the naval stations at Halifax and Esquimaux.

Last session he had called the attention of Mr. Brodeur and Sir Frederick Borden to the unsatisfactory condition of the stations.

Comparing the statements made by the Government in the recent campaign with those which appeared in the Nationalist press, in which the Government had promised the establishment of a Canadian navy was a step towards independence, Mr. Borden did not characterize as being of a very high order of sympathy with the subject Mr. Monk had in sight, Mr. Borden submitted the following amendment to that of Mr. Monk, the terms of which he thought would express the views desired with more satisfactory import:

"We beg to assure Your Excellency of the unalterable attachment and devotion of the people of Canada to the British crown, and of their desire and intention to fulfill all just responsibilities devolving upon this country as one of the nations of the Empire. We desire, however, to express our regret that Your Excellency's gracious speech gives no indication whatever of any intention on the part of Your Excellency's advisers to consult the people upon the naval policy of Canada."

Dr. Eugene Paquet (Conservative, L'Islet), who continued the debate, took exception to the statement made by the Government, that the cost of the navy would not exceed $15,000,000. He claimed it would in a very few years exceed double that amount.

Z. A. Rive (Protege), Dr. Thos. Chisholm, H. H. Miller and F. L. Fowke also spoke on the address.

F. D. Monk introduced his bill respecting co-operative credit societies. He explained that last session he and Lloyd Harris of Brantford had two bills before the House regarding co-operation. The banking and commerce committee throw out the bill regarding co-operation generally, but reported favorably the credit societies bill. Therefore he had brought it up again.

Two Years for Highway Robbery.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—William Pickens and Thomas Keenan were charged with assaulting and robbing George Blende in "the ward" a few days ago. They had arrested him in the street and Pickens had taken $20 from him. Joseph Mandel followed Pickens and made him give up $15. Pickens has a record, and was sent to the Central for two years, while Keenan, who was a previously clean slate, goes on suspended sentence.
