BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Senefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everybody engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much

Only men engaged in a severe out door manual labor can five on a heavy meat diet and continue in good

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of the food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

. It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years experience have proven Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloris

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tab lets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies Ask your druggist for a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The friends of Miss Laura Whelpley celebrated the twenty-first birthday of this popular teacher in a fitting manner on March 20th. Among those present at the residence of Mr. Edwards at Whitehead from Westfield were Misses Florence Whelpley, Maggie Flanagan, James Brown Michael Brown and John Whelpley, besides a number of the young people of Whitehead. The evening passed rapidly. The binthday cake was the source of much amusement. The gold ring was found by Miss Maggie Flanagan, who will of course be the first of the party to wed. Miss Laura Whelpley got the gold dollar, the emblem of wealth, but the button mysbe found. It was an occasion long to Anston Smith and was baptized and joined the First Baptist church of Springfield, of which he was a consistent member. While in health he waited patiently for the coming of the Master, and died with the assurance of a blassed resurrection.

John R. Ambrose, whose death in Halifax is reported in the telegrams from that city, was a son of the late Rev. John Ambrose, for many years rector of Digby. At an early age he entered the service of the Bank of Montreal, serving first in Chatham and afterwards for a number of years in St. John. The charm of his character endeared him to all who knew him in both places. He was at one time a very successful amateur oarsman, competing in the bankers' regattas at Halifax. His illness commenced with an afection of the spine some ten years ago, which incapacitated him from locomotion and entailed much suffering, which he bore with exemplary patience and absence of complaint After leaving this city for his home near Halifax serious complications developed and he gradually sank. To the last his unfailing cheerfulness and bright animation kept his bedside the resort of many friends, to whom his patience was a constant source of admiration. At the time of his death and for some time previous he was church warden of the parish church near Bedford. He married shortly be fore leaving St. John the eldest laughter of Charles Campbell, and eaves no family.
