Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head of the cold. That's surely better.

That's why they are called Preventics. That's why little kids catch Cold Cough. No Quinine, no physic, nothing disgusting. They for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, run around, if you feel all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night or day, herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Hold in to loose for the pack, also in the boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggist giving you

Preventics "ALL DEALERS"

Sour or Sweet

That's the question my brother and I's not a mean one, either, for many of us had rather take a dose of salts than walk with your long-as-a-rail face.

Your dyspeptic brain, torpid conscience and sour disposition make you anything but agreeable company. You are called a Christian too. Well, maybe you are, but the fact is not believed by many on earth. Possibly you may console yourself with the thought that they know it in heaven. I doubt it.

Why go through the world always in a fog? You dishearten many, give others the blues, and keep scores under clouds of doubt and darkness. You make out that the path of the just is not as a "shining light," that the way is one of gloom, hard and difficult. The way of the transgressor is hard, but surely not the path of obedience in which you claim to be walking.

Swing around, my brother, and get your eye from self. "Rejoice evermore." Give up your sourness; quit looking like a graveyard. Take the sunny side of the street. Laugh once in a while. Get off your stilts and walk with humble folks, cheer up, tone up, wake up and see if milk is not better than vinegar, or in other words, if it is not better to be sweet than sour.

Don't find all your "good people" among the departed, but seek to discover a few among the living. It will make you and the world happier to get into this habit.

Goodbye Mother

It is recorded that when the plague broke out in a little village of Italy, the children of one house were taken first. The parents watched over them but only caught the disease they could not cure. The whole family died, and the street, in the home of a poor laborer, who was absent all the week, returning only on Saturday to bring his scanty earnings, the disease next began. The wife felt herself attacked in the night by the fever. When morning dawned she was worse, and before night the plagued spot showed itself. She remembered the terrible fate of her neighbors. She knew she must die, but, as she looked at her dear boys, she resolved not to communicate death to them. She therefore locked the children in the room and snatched the bed clothes, fearing they were already impregnated with the dreadful germs, and with them left the house. She even denied herself the pleasure of a last embrace. Oh! think of the heroism which enabled her to conquer her feelings and leave home with all she loved—to die!

Her oldest child saw her from the window. "Goodbye, mother," said he, with a tender voice, wondering why she left so strangely. "Goodbye, mother," repeated the youngest child, stretching his little hands out of the window. The mother paused. Her heart was drawn towards those little ones, and she was on the point of rushing back. She struggled hard, with the tears rolling down her cheeks, at the sight of her helpless babes. At length she turned from them. The children continued to cry. "Goodbye, mother," until the voices died away, and the mother with an anguished heart, entered the house of those who were to bury her. In a short time she died and her dying breath commended her husband and children to the care of heaven. Was ever other love like that? Only once, when for the plague smitten race it hung in bleeding mercy on the cross. Exhibitions of a mother's love, though not so striking as this, are by no means rare. Live where she may, and how she will, "a mother is a mother still, the holiest thing alive."

Dr. Hamilton's Cure for Pimples

All skin diseases such as pimples originate through failure of the kidneys and liver. All taints that block the avenues of health must be removed. Dr. Hamilton's Pills do this quickly. They cleanse the system, make the skin smooth, restore roses to the cheeks and give clear, dainty complexion. For good looks, good health and good spirits there is nothing so sure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. boxes at all dealers.

Show Affection Now

It is only too true that to refrain from showing affection makes the wife miserable. She does not care for presents or lavish attention; she wants those little tokens such as may be given in a look, which will prove her husband's love. We wish some of the good things some men are saving up to say concerning their wives after they are dead could be said now. A man will spend $25 to buy cut flowers for his dead wife's coffin, when if he had spent 25 cents for a bunch of flowers for her when she was alive, she would have fainted. You wait until she is dead and they get some preacher to tell how good she was.

Most men would prefer domestic happiness to great riches.

Lipton Ready to Challenge Again

London, June 29.—The Field, a weekly publication, announced that Sir Thomas Lipton is prepared to challenge again for the America's Cup under the following conditions:

First—The new yacht shall be cutter-rigged and built under the present universal rule of the New York Yacht Club.

Second—The New York Yacht Club shall designate the size of the yacht it considers most suitable for the race.

Sir Thomas, when seen by the Associated Press at Dunoon, Scotland, today, said that the Field's statement was perfectly correct. He added:

"I hope my American friends will see their way clear to meet my wishes in the interests of sport. The size of the boat is no object, and I am willing to build under the universal rule. If I can get assurance that a challenge will be accepted, I will issue it forthwith."

It is understood that the intention of Sir Thomas, with the New York Yacht Club's permission, is to build two yachts of a class designated by that Club after designs of Fife, and select the better terms of the cup.

Teach Children Politeness

Teach children to be polite. Teach them there is nothing but goodness of heart and so much durability as a pleasing deportment. They will lose the idea after a while that it is smart to be pert and boisterous, and take pride in being little ladies and gentlemen. Teach them to say "How do you do?" or "Good morning" to everybody with whom you are acquainted; never to contradict, whisper, hum, beat a tattoo with the fingers on the furniture, or loiter around in lounging attitudes in company; to say "Yes, ma'am, and "No, sir," "What ma'am?" "if you please," and "Excuse me," if it is necessary to pass before any one, or to leave the table before the rest, and never to do any of the things for which it is necessary to ask to be excused unless it is absolutely unavoidable; not to toss things instead of handing them; not to listen to anything not intended for their ears; not to refuse to give the whole to a visitor when half will not do. A polite child is the best of companions, but a rude one is a troublesome nuisance, and will find himself learning at 18 or 20 things which should have been taught him when a child.

A Homemade Refrigerator

Take two large boxes, the second one smaller on all sides, and bore two one-inch holes in each correspondingly, to give drainage and ventilation. Fill up the bottom of the larger box with powdered charcoal (or sawdust, if charcoal cannot be procured) until the smaller box will stand on a level with the top of the larger box. Put the inner box in place and fill up all the space around the sides with the charcoal. Fasten lids on both boxes to fit tightly. On each side of the inner box, by means of cleats, put several shelves, leaving space in the center for ice.

A rack made of lathing may be laid at the bottom, for the ice to rest upon. Legs may be added, also, and the drainage and ventilation in this way may be improved. This is a rough refrigerator, to be sure, but one that has successfully used in our home for years.—From Woman's Home Companion for June.

Strawberries Canned Without Cooking

Have your jars perfectly clean and dry, then take equal parts of fresh berries and sugar, and mash thoroughly. To accomplish this, take only a small quantity in a dish at a time, that you may be sure every berry is mashed. Put into the jars, and seal immediately, inserting the jar for a short time before putting away.

The work is easily and quickly done, and there is no heating. My berries canned in this way last summer kept perfectly and have preserved their delicious flavor unimpaired.

Strawberry shortcake equal to that of the summer has been the enjoyment whenever we wished through the winter.—From Woman's Home Companion for June.
