Every Wage Earner Should Answer Question Himself or Herself

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR YOU IF YOUR HEALTH GIVES AWAY?

In dollars and cents, what is the worth of the health of your arm; what is the value of the staying power that permits continuous labor—what are they worth to you?

Suppose you did something to reduce as to reduce your strength, vitality or judgment one half, and it were impossible to get them back—how much would you pay to regain the lost portion?

When you let yourself run down, you reduce your chances for success in life. If sleeplessness comes you score lower still—should appetite or digestion fail, you are starved in the face by physical bankruptcy.

"The home mission field is different to what it was thirty years ago. Then immigration to the West was from eastern Canada. But while this stratum dominates in the life of Manitoba, the immigrants from the regions beyond Canada, that from central and south eastern Europe being much in evidence."

Dr. D. C. Murray, superintendent of missions for Manitoba saw in this the kernel of the changed problem for the church and the nation. With the westward movement of the population, the future Canada is a checkerboard of little Galicias, little Italys, little Polands, Bulgarians and the like, each with its own language, customs and self-interest.

Or will the spirit of a Christian Canada lay its spell on each and all and fuse them into one people of high ideals in righteousness and self-communion service he had conducted a little Manitoba community where around the sacred table of the Lord there sat together two Icelandic Lutherans, two Dutch Reformed, two Disciples, two Methodists, three Anglicans, one Congregational. Does the gentle influence of the great Canadian people wrapped up in the resources of the Christian church?

The problem of home missions is not to keep a few people Presbyterian, or Methodist or Anglican, but to assist in moulding the destinies of empire. The bond between east and west is changing. First it was the family bond. Then it was the national bond that counts.

"These foreigners are a menace," says one. Well, that depends. In the hands of cunning diplomats with commercial vision, yes, but it is worth while noting that in Teulon, Manitoba, a community largely of foreigners, where the missionary work of the church has been exerted for several years, the vote in favor of a "dry" Manitoba carried by a majority of seven to one, while in another community of a similar character there was also a majority of three to one.

"The excellent spiritual possibilities of these foreigners appeal to me," said the superintendent. "In their very spiritual selfishness lies our opportunity. We need them. They need Canada. Will it be a leveling up or a dragging down?"

Rev. John G. Shearer, D.D., interpreted the mission of the Christian church as being under the obligation of his Master, to labor to give a "square deal" to every man, woman and child, and to every class in the organized life of the community. He has been leader in the social service work of the church ever since its inception nine years ago.

He has been closer to the industrial and social world in all its phases than perhaps any other man in the church. Like John Knox he is a man whose life is a "square deal" to every man, woman and child, and to every class in the organized life of the community. He has been leader in the social service work of the church ever since its inception nine years ago.

GOVERNMENT OF DO-NOTHING POLICY MUST BE SHORT-LIVED

This the Warning of Frederickton Tory Organ to Clarke Administration in Its Comment on Nova Scotia Elections.

Fredericton, N. B., June 21.—The editorial comment of The Gleaner, the Conservative organ in Fredericton, on the Nova Scotia elections is a cold comfort to the New Brunswick government. The local Tory organ has been cool toward the Clarke government for some time, and is now, on account of financial assistance being withdrawn, being withdrawn.

In its comment today it says that the Liberal administration in Nova Scotia was retained because it was progressive and up to date and leaves the plain inference to be drawn that the administration in New Brunswick is just the opposite.

The Gleaner's editorial in part is as follows: "The Murray government of Nova Scotia was sustained in the elections of yesterday largely because it is a government that is ever doing something, and doing it intelligently on a fairly reasonable basis. Premier Murray and his colleagues in the cabinet measure up to the standard of the party they have assumed the responsibility of leading and therefore enjoy the confidence and respect of their followers throughout the province."

"In the administration of affairs Premier Murray has seen to it that the public interests have not been regularly made subservient to the personal interests and ambitions of members of the legislature and the hangers-on. He has frequently demonstrated ability and force of character in strengthening the personnel of his government, and in the appointment of competent officials who are required to recognize business principles in the performance of their duties."

"Premier Murray and his colleagues have their failings, of course. Attorney-General Daniels has been the object of at least one serious charge. But on the whole their adherence to reasonable principles, their intelligent activity in the development of the resources of the province and their general respect for the people's needs, quite apart from the personal concerns that follow in the house, has inspired confidence and respect of people on both sides of federal politics. There is much to be expected in making development and especially at this time when our people should be placed in a position quite as good as our neighbors to be expected in making development."

"A government equal to the occasion will continue to enjoy public confidence. A government of do-nothing is a government that is a disgrace to its own friends."
