December 6, 1957.

The Right Honourable A.B. Meighen,
6 Cortleigh Boulevard,
Toronto, Ontario.

My Dear Mr. Meighen:

I trust this short note again finds you well.

I wonder if you would be good enough to send me a copy of your famous address which you delivered on the condemnation of socialism and the welfare state. It was not in your book "Unrevised and Unrepented".

You may have seen that Senator Croll has considerably disagreed with me. My opportunity will present itself again to take care of him.

With warmest regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,
