MARCH 19, 1904. 10-0. LIMITEDA. ANADA.

STYLES

soon as the weather eeable and safe. An now await your in. will reveal points of word pictures-com-brown tweed, tight fitting be, turn-over colgray tweed, tight fitting aid edgings, gunin light fawn, deep epaa-lvet inlaid collar, ced Silks nomy opportunities choice is the reward onle blue and white, piak hite, turquoise, and in colorings, 21 in. 30c running both lengthwise for Blouses, colors white for Blouses, colors white, ic yard. Silk Sale 53c ss Goods fabrics, as well as usual, are reaped by olored.

ored Crepoline, all-wool clorings, also black 44 Worth 75c yard. Tweeds, in various new s. 44 inches wide.

NT LIST.

1999/00/21/2	Reg.	Mon.
lbs		$1.00
bottle	1210	100
Hangers
ing	20c	124c
	40c	290
	10c	60
ves	10c	6le
	100	40
1.06.72
	-	m

must admit that it has its novel as Co. LIMITED s Street Montreal

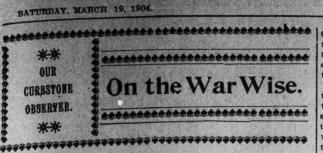

velties

and had read Fred. Burneby's "Ride to Kiva." I came to the conclusion that he was a second edition of Jules loor Coverings. Exnd will not be found Verne, or more properly of Baron Munchausen. ISHINGS. Also an.

Executed TRE BUILDING 474 and 2476 THERINE STREET

namelled Bedsteads, can perceive that a een permitted to go evidently been seeknd the Russian lines, of Port Arthur, and y across the Yalu. In ussia has been equalniting her two fleets, rthur and that at And she, too, would nd as if by stealth. It tain whether her. e Comean Straits and vostock, or to bring om the latter port to dging from this dis-ld seem that as the Id seem that as the et is still surrounded that port is far more than Port Arthur, the rould be the more ho can tell ? lence and inactivity ort Arthur would inent of this character eanwhile, they are ans-Siberian Railway power, to get their ont. Already the Chief, Kourapatkin, scene of operations, here is an activity all such as the vast itnessed in all the

And the same might

would divide the Japanese

me

of

few

Some time ago I had the pleasure have to win. of telling my experiences regarding the war news from the Far East. It will be remembered that I gave an well be said of any other of the na-tions on earth. I finally requested him to tell me what Japan should example of how very little some people knew about the geography of South Africa when the Boer war comdo to gain all the points that mentioned in the chess-game of war He then set to work to show menced, and of how much less is nor how he own by a goodly number about the forces, the number of men he would distances and situations in Japan, Corea and Eastern Russia. This keep in the field, the number in reserve, the character of the marches week I desire to record some observat that they would make, the obstacles tions concerning the tactics adopted that they would raise in the path of by the belligerent parties in the prethe Russians, and a lot more sent struggle. I will simply relate equally instructive information. But he totally neglected, or ignored all or two incidents.

any kind of obstacles that might happen to appear in their own path I was exceedingly amused at the A FRIEND OF RUSSIA .-- Last whole affair, for I was fully convincwhile travelling down from the ed that the gentleman was neither joking nor crazy. Imagine my de-light that evening, on taking up an West, I met with a gentleman who was an enthusiastic pro-Russian. In the course of our conversation, We American publication, the Chicago fell upon the subject of the war. Be Tribune, to find in its columns over fore long we were launched into the question of tactics, Now I am the initials "W.D.N." a poem that described to a nicety the very per-son I had been conversing with --or absolutely ignorant on all matters pertaining to military affairs and rather a thousand persons of the especially to active service, so I was the audience and he the lecturer. He began by telling me that the Rus-

ly play them out and forever

ask him how long he had

map of the Trans-Siberian Railway

. . .

A PRO-JAPANESE- A few nights

Japan, who gave me a deal of infor strike at the right moment, and to prevent Russia from gaining any advantage-even the most minute-

there could be no doubt as to the re sult of the war. He was confident, under such circumstances, that Ja pan would come out victorious.

was perfectly in accord with him; in fact under the conditions as he described them, there could not be the

to "take no chances" and to troy their power.

same category. The verses were un-der the very simple heading, "If Bill I will close my ramb-Was There." sians had purposely allowed Japan lings of this week with those to succeed in the beginning, in order lines the better to crush them and effe . . . tively smash their entire nation in a If Bill were therefew months. So well had this been planned that had the Japanese not There where the Jap and Russ lown up the Russian men-of-war at

Are raisin' such a fuss-Port Arthur, the Russian Government The cables would be sizzin' hot. A'tellin' of the fights they fought would have been deeply grieved. The same tactics were used by the Bri-For Bill-he's got the whole thing tish in the Boer war; they gave the planned:

How each one ought to make a stand Boers every opportunity of winning the first engagements, so as to final-And just how either would begin des-And, with no trick at all, could win, There would be trouble in the air, This is a theory that I had never dreamed of, and] .If Bill was there.

If Bill was there-

They my new friend began to He'd take his submarines describe the entire line from Moscow the Vladivostock, and the 'branch line to Port Arthur. After he had And rapid-fire machines And tow 'em slowly after dark

Right up to where he's put a mark spoken for an hour on the subject, imparting what I deemed to be the Near that there town-it's name, very best of information, I ventured b'gee !

been Runs out fifteen miles to sen in Russia. To my surprise he in-And then you bet there'd' be som formed me that he had never been thin' drop. there, not had he ever read much He'd fight below 'em and on top, And some one sure would get But he had a newspaper scare If Bill was there.

If Bill was there-

He stuck a dozen pins To mark the outs and ins Of how he'd march a million men Across the land and back again

And put the foeman in the ditch, Whose men ? What side ? He don't care which ! He says sometimes he fairly aches ago I had the pleasure of a conver-sation with a gentleman, a friend of mation. He said, amongst other bright things, that if Japan were To see both sides make mistakes There would be fightin' everywhere If Bill were there.

If Bill were there-But he's at Miller's store-

Him and a dozen more Of our town's keenest strategists. With stubby pencils in their fists, Concoctin' battles and campaigns That take in all the seas and plains If either one-the Russ of Jap-Is looking for a likely chap

To run the war with tact and skill, They'll send for Bill.

they convey the entire meaning.

annot be divided; it cannot be other

of unity. There

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE.

the disunion that arose amongst them, the more serious the divisions that they created, the more persistent was their cry and the more keen their craving for unity.

We do not dispute, for a moment, their good faith in seeking to be unted, but we pity the blindness which seems to prevent them from seeing the absolute impossibility of any union between themselves. In ce tain cases, and under certain cir cumstances, it is quite possible that two or three, or more denominations, in some isolated locality, may ceed in combining their forces to attain some special object, to promote some work of benevolence. to advance some moral principle-to combat intemperance, to establish closer social intercourse, and suchlike. But there is no religious unity in all that. There is co-operation in temporal works; but no unity of doctrine. For a given time the harmon may exist, but the slightest zephys will disturb the surface, and shatter the reflection of union beneath. The Presbyterian goes on with his predestination, the Baptist with his peculiar theories concerning the first Sacrament, the Unitarian with his de nial of the Divinity of Christ, the Anglican with his thirty-nine articles and each of the others with his pe culiar tenets; interpretations, means of solution, and repudiations of the means adopted by his neighbors. Where, then, is the unity? the hope of unity? Where

At the Parliament of Religions in Chicago, it was found that upon two things they all could agree, an could heartily unite : one is the Lord's Prayer, the other Cardinal Newman's "Lead Kindly Light"-the former a prayer that all could say, the latter a hymn that all could sing. There was, however, a third point upor which all agreed-their opposition to the Catholic Church. On this there is unanimity; there is unity; there is co-operation.

How strange that it never should dawn upon the minds of those learned men, who rise to ministerial rank in the various folds of Protestantism. that, if they can agree upon no on doctrine between themselves, and yet can all agree in their opposition to the one Institution, it might be possible to find the unity so ardently sought after, in that one particular Church. Possibly the day may come when, having vainly sought for the desired unity, they will learn that all along they have simply been combat-ting the Unity of Christ, in His attacks of illness, but they scarcely interfered with his duties, to which he gave the closest attention whatever the condition of his health happened to be. His life had been on of constant activity and he seemed not to realize that the day had come when there was a limit to his strength. The heavy responsibilities of the great work he has accomplished for the Church in Brandon was a great burden in the closing years of such a career of work as his had been and his sudden collapse when all considered, os not surprising. The news of the death of Rev. Godts was heard throughout the city with feelings of the deepest regret. Few residents were better known or more highly respected than the deceased

The late Rev. William Marie Godts. C.SB.R., was borni in Belgium on December 18th, 1842. He entered Redemptorist Order in April, the 1864, and was professed on the 15th of April, 1865. He became a priest on Oct. 8, 1869. He began his studies at the Redemptorist Novitiate, Saint Troud, Belgium, and completed them at Wittem, Holland. He came to Canada in 1889, and was for time at St. Anne's Church, Montreal He was also at St. Anne de Beaupre and Hochelaga, Que. He was always recognized as one of the ablest ex ponents of Church doctrine in the Redemptorist Order, and during his residence in Eastern Canada, much of his time was taken up in missionary work. Before coming to Canada Re-Father Godts spent a number years as a missionary in the West Indies. He had also been in England and Ireland, and was actively interested in the work of sending young men and women from the crow ded centres in Great Britain to Canada. The late Superior of the Redemp torist Order here came to Brandon and opened the house here on Aug 15, 1898. Prior to that he can through Western Canada on an spection trip and the result of his report to his superiors was the taking over by this Order of this city and the surrounding missions, where the Redemptorists have since accomplished great work. Under the direction of Rev. Father Godts, the fine residence of the Redemptorist Fathers was erected, and the splendid Church of St. Augusting, at the corner Lorne Avenue and Founth street was built. At the different missions in the Brandon district, too, much pro gress has been made since. Rev. Fa ther Godts took over the territory for the Redemptorist Order, less than six years ago. There are now nine churches at Rapid City, Austin, Souris, Shoal Lake and othen places, and at Yorkton a new house has been opened under the direction of Rev Father Delaere. St. Michael's Con vent, which the Redemptorists found unoccupied when they came here, now on a splendid footing, with capable staff of teachers and a large and flourishing separate school. All this progress and much more, which it would take columns to enumerate is due almost entirely to the great zeal and splendid administrative abi lity of the Rev. Father Godts. Pro-bably the greatest wish of the dead Superior was to see in Brandon

Church in keeping with the rapidly extending requirements of his people here, and he was spared to see the completion of the splendid edifice, which will stand as a monument to his zeal and devotion. The deceased was a writer of considerable ability and has issued several

In last issue I reviewed in as brief arise in this truth and less desine to and complete a manner as possible the splendid address of Rt. Rev. Bishop Spalding, on the grave political and social problems of the day. I had space only to touch upon first half of the address, in which he disposed of Anarchism and dealt fully with Socialism. When I turned down the page, to take up the subject again this week, I was at that point where the Bishop showed that the "Sovereign good is spiritual," and when he was about to contrast the materialism of the Nin teenth Century with the spirit that will have to dominate the Twentieth Century. Here 1 will take up the subject and begin with his own words regarding the century that has just elapsed.

THE NINETEENTH CENTURY .-After telling us that the new century clamors for new men, a more thought ful, more loving, more generous kind of man, he thus refers to the last cen tury :

"The Nineteenth shall be gratefulremembered for its scientific achievements and mechanical inventions, but not for the nobleness and heroism and love of its children. It was an age of greed and grasping, of little, faith and feverish desire, of fine phrases and cruel deeds, of weak will and lawless passions. We inherit its spirit of unrest, of doubt, of low-mindedness and rapacity, boastfulness and sensuality. Against this spirit we must struggle if we hope to make our country rich and fair in the intellectual and moral qualities of its citizens. Philosophy s turning from materialism as inconceivable and incredible worldview."

. . .

THE NEW PHILOSOPHY .- "Science postulates an unseen power with in and beyond all that appears. Religion more and more lays stress on the worship of God in spirit and in The great pessimists have truth made it forever impossible to feel that life is not a curse, if it be not enrooted in the being of an Eternal and sacrifice of the wisest and the noblest compel belief in God, Whom children and virgins and mobelieved. In the process of the ages in which the vision of God has become clearer and more inevitable, the soul has risen to fuller consciousness of its divine nature and immortal destiny; and in the world in which the soul lives and is free there is no hate, no envy, no greed, no blind desire, no mad passion."

. . .

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS. - From these general and generally accepted principles the Bishop passes on the consideration of individual right to property as being fundamental. Inequality is a law of nature. The social organism would not be true to derable ability and has issued several the transformation of the include inequality of books which have been widely read, if it failed to include inequality of possession. This brings us to the to insist further on this feature, crucial test of ownership. "Property are shown that it is necessary are shown that it is necessary foster a public opinion which they do not imply that a man may do what he likes with his possessions He may not do what he likes with ples as of individuals, while prosperihimself, but only what is becoming This again is true, and it establishes the necessity of a rights and obligations. Here fol and worthy." superior authority, and of respective the lows another striking truth, and one that does not seem to be considered in the hundreds of cases wherein capital and labor clash. "The wage ship between master and workman, for in all human associations rights and duties are involved of which money can never be the equivalent." To make it the controlling principle of social as of individual life."

. . .

MUTUAL INTERESTS .- Here, now we are in face of the problem, that is the social problem, of the age: the mutual intenests of Labor and Capital. A plea is made for the attitude of friendship between the laborer and the employen, because their, interests are inter-independent. Sentiments of justice and humanity must prevail if peace and success are to be expected. Laws cannot entirely regulate the differences between them; it needs that which can raise the mind and touch the heart-for that alone can go to the fountain head of the evil that exists.

"Our industrialism and machinery have wrought marvels, but they have not made us wiser or more unselfish On the contrary they have promoted the formation of vast centres of population, in which life, physical and moral, degenerates; and consequently they are a menace to the highest interests of humanity. Towns of fifty or a hundred thousand inhabitants are indispensable. Without them there can be no class with leisure to devote themselves to science and art, to the more important functions Government and to the refinements and elegancies of life; but the massing of millions of human beings at a single point makes it the most fitting culture for every kind of infectious germ, a nursery of vice, and a breeding ground for crime."

A FEARFUL PICTURE .--- We cannot pass over the following picture of the terrible results of massing human beings into hives by the hundreds of thousands. The scenes drawn with masterly strokes are all only too true. Bishop Spalding says :

"Here is every provocation of passion, every promise of immunity. Hither come from a thousand villages and towns, from innumerable farm houses, those who, grown weary of virtue, crave for opportunity to Father. All the thoughts and love defile themselves in the mire of debauchery, without risk of discoveny in and infamy, and so the leperous contagion spreads throughout the land. thers and all true lovers have arways Here, as in a vast whispering gallery the murmurs of all the horrors, atrocities, murders, suicides, and inhumanities circulate ceaselessly to be caught up from hour to hour and borne on the wings of the press to countless homes where only innocence peace and love should be known. Here women are offered for the shambles of the slave driver; here children wander homeless through the crowded streets and the haunts of vice, or are taken and confined in asylums and reformatories where it often happens that corruption fosters Here anarchists, agitators, and all the contrivers of mischief congregate and find their work waiting."

THE INNER SOURCES .- No need to insist further on this feature. We foster a public opinion which shall teach men that moral causes govern ties and pleasures, if they be separated from justice and purity, dig their graves. A magnificent perora tion, filled with true principles, the following :

The following sketch of the career and last moments of the late lamen-ted Rev. Father Godts, C.S.S.R., whose death was announced in the last number of the "True Witness," is taken from the Brandon Daily Sun of March 7, received this week The death occurred here this (Monday) morning at an early hour of Rev. William Marie Godts, Superior of the Redemptorist Order in Brandon, and parish priest of St.

gustine's Church. The news of the of Rev. Father Godts came with a shock to his very many friends throughout the city, as few, even of the parishioners of St. Augustine's, were aware of his illness. For the last ten days the deceased has been suffering from a severe cold, but no serious result was anticipated.

On Sunday evening, at about 8.30 the reverend father was visited by adviser. Dr. Mathes and appeared to be making favorable The patient felt that progress. was not ill enough to be confined to hese are not the exact words; but his bed, and insisted upon being up and around as much as possible. He In the first place there is nothing chatted with the doctor and took his very startling in the discovery of a necessity for Christian unity. From the very dawn of Christianity it usual nourishment. And after the doctor's departure Father Godts was unusually cheerful and not suffering in any way. At his usual hour he the bet only dawn of constantly it unusually cheerful and not suffering of Christ. Christ being Truth in all its perfection, could impart nothing in any way. At his usual hour he fell into a peaceful*sleep, after assur-ing his attendants that he was com-but Truth to His Church. And Truth fell into a peaceful*sleep, after assurfortable for the night. When the members of the household etired at ten o'clock Sunday night, Father Godts Father Godts was quietly sleeping, and during the night gave no sign of distress or of needing assistance. At the hour for rising this morning, five o'clock, one of the brothers proceeded at once to the Superior's room, fully expecting to find him improved after a good night's rest. Upon entering the chamber, he found that death had the chamber, he found that death had come to the venerable and respected bead of the house, and only a short lime before, for the body lay upon the bed, and had not yet grown cold. The immediate cause of death is not known, but undoubtedly was the reult of general weakness. For some years Father Godts present fail and aged looking those who were most intimate with the appeared to disregare

the "] rue Witness A QUESTION OF UNITY.

slightest doubt that Japan

(By a Regular Contributor.)

The week before last, at Ottawa considerable importance was given in the press and otherwise to a special The press and otherwise to a special resolution moved by Rev. Mr. Kitt-en, at an Assembly of denomina-tional clergymen. To judge from the headings in the press and the ela-borate preface with which the said medution was introduced as will are solution was introduced, as well as he serious manner in which it was commented . on, one would be led to reading the first column of the rea reading the first column of the re-ort, which led up to the exception-lay grand idea of the reverend gen-leman, a person was prepared for a perfect homb-shell announcement. However, when the whole matter was holled down and the idea of Rev. Mr. Kittson was announcement. on was expressed, we ry to establish an unity betw

than one. Consequently for a Chris-than one. Consequently for a Chris-than cneed to be true, it must be one; for a Christian Church to pos-sess the Truth, it must be the most olete examp fore, we have no fault to find with the clergyman who declares the ne-cessity of Christian unity. The object to be attained is good

the very

he only consideration that awakens lightings is that regarding the means to attain that end,—and the uestion of the probability, or even ossibility of ever attaining it by assibility of ever attained be means to be used. Ever since the day that the first acretical sect cut itself adrift from the Church it has been the cry of the separatists,—the protestors—the Pro-testants—that unity was recensury. And the louler this cry was relieve the further did they drift, in ever the further did they drift, in ever

A SERMON IN IRISH

The Rev. Murtagh Farragher, P.P., Aran Isles, occupied the pulpit in the spacious Church of the Jesuit Fathers Gardiner street, Dublin, at last Mass on a recent Sunday. His object was to appeal for help to complete the Church of St. Brigid, which he is building in the village of Kilronan. His sermon, which was delivered in the vernacular, was a novelty to the does not constitute the sole relationcongregation, which included people from all parts of the city. Having preached on the Gospel of the day the Rev. gentleman expressed the great satisfaction he felt in being explain this we have the following able to address them in that church grand passage : that day in the native language-:n the same tongue that was used years ago by St. Laurence, the same tongue in which St. Kevin prayed in his little cell on the shores of Glendalough, the same tongue in which Brian Born addressed his soldiers at the Battle of Clontarf, when he pointed to the sacred sign of their redemption.—Catholic Times.

ST. BRIDGET'S REFUGE.

Report for week chding Sund 18th March, 1904 : Irish, 126; Free 110; English, 38; other nationalit 3, Total 287.

"We may not exclude religion from ethics, nor ethics from economics, nature to human uses. This is Justice itself is not enough. Honesty isoul of the opinion which rules is indispensable, but sympathy and loving kindness and serviceableness are of a higher worth and patency. The lack of these make possible all the wrongs and perfidies which are the cause of misery to millions, and are of a higher worth and potency. world. Until the spirit of which changes in hore, shall prevail. is indispensable, but sympathy and world. Until the spirit of which Christendom is born shall prevail, not only in the home and the church out in civil affairs, in politics, in-dustry and commerce, it can never be reall with mankind; and our doubts and misgivings concerning the future

"The mob of the worshipers of Mammon, Bacchus and Venus gather in increasing numbers; but it lacks principle, it lacks steadfastness, it lacks persistence, while they who are controlled and held together by moral and religious convictions obey abiding impulses and become a per-manent force. They have the strength of reason and conscience which overcomes the lawless passions of rabble as it subdues the forces of soul of the opinion which rules the world, which, if it but assert itself, can reform homes and cities, churches and states. When an organism loses and states. When an organism loses the power to remake itself, its des-truction has begun. Too rapid grow-th is a symptom of disease. Voraci-ousness is pathological. In vain shall we widen our boundaries, in yeah multiply markets for our good. if the inner source which made our if the inner source which made ou fathers lovers of truth and justic and freedom run dry."