It Is Hard To Hear When You Do Not Speak Right Into The Telephone

WHEN YOU ARE TELEPHONING, and your lips are six or eight inches away from the mouthpiece, the person you are talking to can hardly hear you. The exhaustion of listening attentively to a weak, incoming voice, is like trying to catch every word spoken in a whisper. Under such circumstances, the true import of the message is lost.

The telephone is built for actual conversation, but to realize the full benefit the lips must be close to the mouthpiece.

The farther away from the telephone you are, the more difficult it is for the other person to hear you.
