a brilliant climax.

Argonauts had it all their own way in the first and second period; the third was all Riversides, while the overtime was a toss-up. As Riversides had defeated the Argonauts earlier in the season by 8 to 3, they were of course, favorites on Saturday.

Argos had plenty of supporters, because it was felt that they would show to better advantage than they would the start, but were unable, until the final twenty minutes, to gain a lead on the renchmen, and the game was an inshow to better advantage than they did last time. At the end of the first period the score was 4 to 1 for Argonauts, at the end of the second 7 to 3 for Argonauts and at the end of the second 7 to 3 for Argonauts and at the end of the treatment of the third period a seven-all tie. The movement already has been joined by delegates from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and the United States and the expedition this week purposes to establish a permanent board with five members from each neutral nation. It has virtually been decided that the American members will include Williams Jennings Bryan, Jane Adams and Henry Ford.

The purposes of the board are, first, to obtain expert advice on how to proceed; second, to take the initiations with peace terms, and third, to be prepared to sit indefinitely and receive and pass upon peace proposals from whatever source they may be offered. This week the expedition will hold meetings at The Hague, Amsterdam and Rotterdam.

Donations are sent from all parts of the world to Friary Court, St. James' Palace, ondon, Eng., where the Queen personally supervises their distribution. Her Majesty's chief aim is to meet the greatest need, and the contributions are at once forwarded to where they are most required. On this account it is not desirable that donations be specially designated, as Her Majesty is kept informed as to where the articles may be distributed to the best advantage. Lists of requirements are issued weekly from Friary Court, and the endeavor of the branches is to fill these needs as promptly as pos sible.
