

CONGRESSWOMAN AIDED GERMANY

Jeanette Rankin Played Part of Pacifist All Through Her Career

Miss Jeanette Rankin, representative from Montana, is the pioneer woman legislator on this continent. She is the first and only Congresswoman in the United States. Since her election women members have been sent to the Provincial Legislatures of Alberta and British Columbia and to a number of State Legislatures of the neighboring Republic. Miss Rankin has announced that she will, at the forthcoming election, stand for election to the United States Senate. This decision places her stewardship as a public representative before her electors for review and judgment.

Her case is unfortunate. She opposed the entry of the United States into the war. She opposed the President's conscription bill. She played the part of the "pacifist." On this record she faces firm and vigorous opposition.

The Helena Independent, one of her strongest press supporters in the past, announces that it proposes to "fight her election at every turn." Other papers, regularly supporters of the party she represents, also repudiate her. The Independent states its case as follows:

"The Independent, which heartily favored and ardently supported the election of Miss Jeanette Rankin two years ago, is positively opposed to her election to the United States Senate, or, had she filled her term, would have opposed her re-election to the House of Representatives.

A Member of Her Army. "Jeanette Rankin was, consciously or unconsciously, a member of the Hun army in the United States, pledged to prevent this country from making preparations for declaring war against the Imperial German Government until the beasts of civilization had opportunity to wipe up England and France.

"Jeanette Rankin did not have the womanhood or the courage to vote for war against a tribe of barbarians who waged war on helpless women.

"Jeanette Rankin failed the people of Montana in a crisis and misrepresented them before the civilized world.

Jeanette Rankin was the creature and the instrument which sought to keep the United States from entering the war until the beast had wiped up the noble French people and all but shot the population off the British Isles.

"Jeanette Rankin was the dupe of the Kaiser, consciously or unconsciously, when she introduced her resolution declaring the United States in favor of an Irish Republic a scheme devised by the traitorous Sinn Feiners to help Germany.

German Propagandist. "Jeanette Rankin was the dagger in the hands of the German propagandists when she came to Montana and did everything a person should not do to keep peace in a mining camp supplying material for the war against the unspeakable Huns.

"Jeanette Rankin was the dupe of the Kaiser when she advised the coal miners at Klein, Montana, to stay out and mine no more coal.

"Jeanette Rankin does not represent Montana—that is enough—and if the 35,000 Montana boys in France have a chance to express themselves they would be solidly against a crying schoolgirl who wanted to starve her country, but who could not vote for war.

"For these reasons the Independent will fight Jeanette Rankin at every turn."

SOUKHOMLINOFF GERMAN VICTIM

Ex-Czar's Minister, Once Millionaire, Now a Porter

Stockholm, Aug. 9.—W. A. Soukhomlinoff, formerly a millionaire, the Czar's Minister of War at the outbreak of the war, one of the biggest men of the old Russia, is now working as a porter in a little municipal office of the Bolshevik Administration at Petrograd, where he sweeps the floor, runs errands for the clerks and heats the water for the secretary's tea.

And Mme. Soukhomlinoff, once brilliant and beautiful, the power behind the throne, the confidante of princes and grand dukes, is now selling programmes in a Petrograd moving picture theatre. Thus both are trying to earn enough bread to keep them from starving.

At Petrograd Soukhomlinoff had deposed Kerensky and had investigated the papers and documents found in the archives of the Foreign Office at Petrograd when Kerensky fled. The new government accused Soukhomlinoff of bringing about the war by deceiving the Czar and nullifying the Czar's order concerning the demobilization of the Russian army.

Disclosures Were Sensational. Soukhomlinoff was tried in open court. Disclosures made at witness stand were of most sensational character. The press of the Central Powers and pro-German newspapers in neutral countries devoted columns to the wash of dirty linen. Soukhomlinoff was found guilty and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

Trotsky, then Minister of Foreign Affairs, used the disclosures made at the trial as a bomb to throw at the allies. He laid bare alleged secret treaties entered into by the allies, which were said to disclose their lack for conquest and spoils. At that time Trotsky declared similar disclosures could be made regarding the rapacious designs of Germany, but these were never uncovered for good reasons, perhaps known only to Trotsky and his associates.

At any rate it seems very queer that Soukhomlinoff, who was sent to prison for a long term, is free again, and is sentenced less than a year ago.

Many Theories About Him. It is claimed that he was liberated as a result of a general amnesty. However, no one here heard of any such amnesty before. It is possible German influence liberated Soukhomlinoff. The Germans could well afford to exert themselves in behalf of a man who had made "disclosures" at a time when they could be used to the detriment of the allies.

And why should Soukhomlinoff be given an official position with the Bolshevik Government, even if it is a very humble one? Why should Trotsky send Soukhomlinoff to prison as a traitor, then liberate him after a few months and take him back into the government service? There are Russians who believe the whole trial of Soukhomlinoff, with its so-called disclosures and sensational, was a melodrama staged for political purposes, a frame-up engineered by German propaganda.

ZEPPEL CREW KILLED. Amsterdam, Aug. 7.—Captain Strasser, one of Germany's most successful squadron commanders in Zeppelin attacks and the entire crew of the Zeppelin which led the attack toward the British east coast on Monday night, perished when the dirigible was shot down over the North sea. An official dispatch from Berlin, dealing with the attempted raid on the east English coast was received here today. It said the raiders caused heavy damage in bombing attacks, but that Strasser and his crew probably met with a heroic death.

HAD RATHER TAKE BEATING THAN WORK

Toronto Man Felt Drowsy All the Time Before Taking Tanlac—Feels Fine Now

"When I began taking Tanlac I was actually too weak and rundown to stand on my feet or even to do a pick of work, but I am now putting in full time on my job and feeling better than ever," said William Costly, who is employed in the ammunition department of the Fairbanks-Morse Company and lives at 24 Rutledge Avenue, Toronto, "the other day."

"My trouble started about four years ago," he continued, "when I first noticed that my appetite was failing. I soon got so I didn't want to eat a thing and would bring half my lunch back home, and more than once I have actually gone for two days without eating a bite. What little I did manage to force down would soon sour on my stomach and cause me to belch up so much gas and undigested food that it would almost turn me sick. I had a dull pain right in the pit of my stomach most of the time and was so badly constipated that I just had to take something for it all the time. I felt mean and drowsy and good for nothing, and sometimes would actually rather have taken a beating than go to my work. I have been on the night shift now for some time, and after knocking off in the mornings I would feel so exhausted that I could hardly drag one foot after the other. I was getting worse all the time, and when at last I became so weak that I had to stop work entirely for a couple of days I knew it was time I was doing something to save me from having a breakdown."

"I had been reading so much about Tanlac that I decided to try it and sent right away for a bottle. Before I had finished it my appetite came back, and I was eating and enjoying my meals like any normal person, and my misery and my head-ache was completely gone. That meant, tired feeling left me, too, and I was back on my job again. I have taken only two bottles so far, and feel just fine all over. Why, I can work all night now, and don't feel tired a bit when I knock off to go home. And it has made the greatest difference in the way I can turn out my work, too, for now it is a real pleasure and I can do anything with a friend in need is a friend indeed, and that is exactly what Tanlac has been to me."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Vernon by A. Yeomans, in Middleport by William Peddie, in Onondaga by Neil McPhadden.

GEN. MANGIN THANKS AMERICAN TROOPS

Proud of Having Fought With Them for Deliverance of World

By Courier Leased Wire. With the French Army in France, Aug. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) General Mangin, who was in direct command of the Allied forces in the drive against the German right flank south of Soissons, has issued an order of the day, thanking the Americans for their brilliant participation in the battle which caused the German retreat between the Marne and the Aisne. It says: "Ninety-one cannon, 7,200 prisoners, immense booty and ten kilometres of reconquered territory are your share of the trophies of this victory. Besides this, you have acquired a feeling of your superiority over the barbarian enemy against whom the children of liberty are fighting. To attack him is to vanquish him."

"I am proud of having commanded you during such splendid days and to have fought with you for the deliverance of the world."

OTTAWA SWEPT BY BAD HAIL STORM

Blizzard of Unprecedented Fury Passed Over the Capital Wednesday

By Courier Leased Wire. Ottawa, Aug. 8.—A hail storm of unparalleled ferocity passed west of the city between six and seven o'clock on Wednesday evening, leveling crops, uprooting trees and carrying away fences and roofs of buildings.

The storm belt was about three miles in width. It broke in the Gatineau Hills and the apex struck the Connaught Park Jockey Club and the River Mead. It then spent itself among the fields of Carleton County, after creating havoc in Westboro village and vicinity.

The size of the hail stones that fell in some places was the cause of much wonder, many residents declaring them the largest that have ever fallen in this district. J. H. Murphy of Westboro stated that he found some stones on his property that measured six and a half inches in circumference.

When the storm struck the parsonage house of the Connaught Park Jockey Club, it wrecked the building, hurling the roof out onto the track and crushing the side walls in. Sections of the roof were torn off the stables in many places. Two hundred yards of the high fence were ripped completely off the posts.

SOLDIER SIX FEET SEVEN IN HEIGHT

Pte. George Moore, of Vancouver, Second Tallest Man in British Army

(Port William Times-Journal). To announce that this morning Private George Moore, of the Canadian Engineers, Vancouver, with forty-one others, passed through complete training at Niagara before proceeding overseas, would appear to be less than an ordinary news item, but when it is said that the same Private Moore stands six feet seven and a quarter inches in his stockings feet, the item becomes more than usual interest.

Second Tallest Man in Army. "I believe I am the second tallest man in the British army," said Private Moore this morning, as he swung his tall height along the Canadian Northern platform at Port Arthur. "I thought I was the tallest, but I am told there is one man in the Innisfree who stands six feet eight and a quarter inches tall."

"I shall be an easy mark if I am put sniping, shan't I," he said, with a hearty laugh. "No, I have not yet found anyone I have to look up to," he added.

An Africaner. This is not Private Moore's first taste of war, for he wears the South African ribbons on his tunic. Indeed he is a South Africaner, having been born there, where his parents and brothers still reside. "I am the only abnormally tall member of the family," he said, "but my father is six feet two and a half and he is the shortest of eight brothers."

A few years ago Captain Ames, of the Royal Horse Guards was the tallest man in the British Army, standing six feet six inches in height.

When you get into a frame of mind that makes life seem one tiresome duty after another, with no pleasure in it; when life itself seems to take all the joy out of life and you worry over things that are really not worth worrying about, then your nervous system is becoming exhausted, and you are on the way to a general breakdown in health. In this condition your health and happiness is worth fighting for and good, rich, red blood is what your system needs; it is a hopeless task to try to restor your health while your blood is deficient either in quantity or quality. And remember that no medicine can be of any use to you that does not build up your weak, watery blood.

To build up the blood and strengthen the nerves there is one remedy that has been a household word for more than a generation—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is the actual mission of these pills to make new, rich, red blood, which strengthens the nerves and tones the entire system. They give you a new appetite, make sleep refreshing, put color in the lips and cheeks, and drive away that unnatural tired feeling that oppresses so many people. If you want to experience new health and happiness give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEW GOVERNMENT.

By Courier Leased Wire. Kandalaska, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Government of the "Country of the north," recently established at Archangel after a revolution against the Bolsheviks, has addressed a proclamation to the people of the district, declaring the Bolshevik regime at an end and announcing that the new government had taken up the duty of governing the region.

"The power of the Bolsheviks is ended," the proclamation begins. "Because of the treason of the country committed at Brest Litovsk because of famine, the failure to recognize the rights and liberties of the country, illegal shootings and constant arrests, the power of the so-called Soviet, of traitors and criminals, is past. The representatives of the so-called peoples government have fled."

"At the present in the interests of all Russia, we take upon ourselves the duty of governing the country of the north."
