SATURDAY, SEPT. 14.

WEST KENT'S CHOICE.

The large, representative and en thusiastic Liberal-Conservative convention at Chatham on Saturday made a wise choice in nominating Mr. J. S. Fraser as the party candidate to contest West Kent in the coming Provincial general election.

Mr. Fraser is not only a succes ful barrister with a good practice at Wallaceburg, but is also well-known in Chatham legal and business circles. Besides the practice of law, Mr. Fraser farms two hundred acres of land in Chatham township and is proprietor of an up-to-date cheese factory. The Conservative candidate for West Kent is widely known as one of the most progressive agriculturists in the riding, and one who from early manhood has taken a deep and intelligent interest in all that makes for the betterment of the condition and adds to the wealth the men who till the soil. Add to the qualifications mentioned the fact that he is in the prime of mental vigor and manhood, a gentleman of good appearance, a splendic speaker and a trained debater, and it will be at once admitted that Mr. Fraser is well equipped for the contest he enters upon under such favorable circumstances.

Of good Highland Scotch stock, a sturdy fighter in all he undertakes, Mr. Fraser, on Saturday, was the choice of a convention of fighting men, who having unanimously selected their leader, are determined to support him to a victorious finish. No man present at Saturday's meeting felt a doubt of victory, and we are convinced that the result of the battle will justify their confidence. It was a winning convention and it selected a winning candidate.-Ridgetown Do-

The Clan Fraser will be a growing one in West Kent, prophesies the Ridgetown Dominion.

The Americanization of England goes on rapidly. A plot to assassinate Chamberlain has been discovered.

The sunny south has doubtless laid in an adequate supply of chains and stakes for its usual Sunday outing.

If the object of anarchist assassins is to make a name for themselves, why can't they make names that can be-pronounced?

It is learned that in addition to the 5,000 men slain in newspaper battles in Colombia, several of the bravest soldiers have been incapacitated by mal-

Kruger says that the Boers will fight while one of them is left alive. We know of one Boer who will likely be alive after all is over, unless he should die of old age in the meantime, and his name is Paul Kruger.

The Canadian cricketers ought to blush for losing the international match, as it is about the only event of the year that Canada has not won. But in a slow game like cricket it is hard to beat a team selected almost entirely from Philadelphia.

The New York Journal's London correspondent writes that United States grain has almost disappeared from the British market, and that Russian, Argentine and Canadian grain has taken its place. The cause assigned for this is the decreased United States crop. As the Montreal Shareholder remarks: "It will be highly gratifying to Canadians to know that England is practically taking all Canada can export, and that purchases from the United States have been lessened to that extent. The large exports which Canada will make this year will be one of the best advertisements this country can have, as they will bring prominently before the British public the excellent wheat-

One is not surprised to learn that President McKinley's assailant had a strong indisposition for work. The people who rail most against the existing condition of things are usually those who are willing to do least to better their own.

The American revised Bible has made its appearance, notes the St. Thomas Times. To be popular it must condone the burning of negroes at the stake, the abolition of the Sabbath, and a number of other purely Ameriican institutions not in vogue on this side of the line.

The description of the humiliation of Prince Chun before the Kaiser makes amusing reading. The Kaiser sat on his throne, we are told, surrounded by the Princes of the royal house and his glittering court. He did not rise up. Indeed, beyond fixing his eyes upon Prince Chun he never moved at all as the little Chinaman slowly crossed the vast hall, bowing low several times, and holding in his hand a letter from the Emperor of China, written upon yellow silk. His voice shook as he made his exculpaory speech, which was translated by the Chinese Minister. The Kaiser, still seated, and in a severe ringing voice, made a stern and highly impressive reply. At the close Prince Chun handed the letter to the Kaiser, who did not even then rise, and keeping his face toward the Imperial presence the Prince walked backwards, bowing low again and again. He thus left the hall, and the mission which he had come so far to fulfil was ended. And this is the twentieth century, and both the Kaiser and Prince Chun are grown-up men. A DREADFUL STORY.

Quebec that the Duke of Cornwall is to review Canadian troops on the Plains of Abraham, where some rascally fellow named Wolfe, raised the racial cry against our loyal French fellow-citizens under that British patriot Montcalm, and gaave them a terrible thumping. > SAVE THE BIRDS. St. Louis Republic.

Dr. L. O. Howard estimates that the United States pays $300,000,000 tribute to the bug annually. This year's wheat crop, if sold at 50 cents bushel-an average price received by a bushel—an average price received by the Western farmer—will bring only a little more than this enormous sum.
The United States Agricultural Department estimates that feathered life has decreased 46 per cent. during the last fifteen years. To this decrease in the number of wild birds is attributed the increase in harmful insects and bugs. So it appears that this country is annually sacrificing the equivalent of a wheat crop for the privilege of killing the song and game

> PRAISE FOR ONTARIO. Harner's Weekly.

Some sage has said that the civilization of a country is shown by its roads. This being true, it is to be hoped that the agitation now making head in different parts of the country will not cease until we are as well provided for in this way as the best of the ancients. Of course our railroads surpass all their facilities for transit, but if our ordinary roads were to be left as long without care as some of the prehistoric highways that have been discovered in various parts of the world, they would look like "the roads in Scotland before they were made," But there has already been progress and the methods of Macadam, whom Scott referred to as the "Colossus of Roads," are being applied in a modified form in every part of the country that boasts of gravel pits. Road building has become a science worth the attention of the most skilled engineers. and experts are already abroad in the land. The Province of Ontario has for some years past been setting an example that might be followed with profit in all our states. The government employs an engineer to oversee road building, and to teach the art to all municipalities willing to learn . In this country the agitation has been left largely to interested parties, the bicyclist and automobile interests, but the good work is growing, as shown by the convention recently held in Buffalo.
