INDIA RULERS' HIGH PAY.

The civil service of India and other British provinces in the East is a matter of national pide, and no one ran study its records and its methods without admitting its success and superiority to the ordinary official administration of other Governments.

ments.

The reason for the character and efficiency of the official staff in Egypt, India, Burma, Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, the Malay Egypt, India, Burma, Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, the Malay Federation, Hong Kong, and other British provinces in the Fast is easily found. The Government gets good men because it offers suitable inducements, permanent positions at large salaries, rapid promotion for merit, with liberal leaves of absence and pensions upon retirement at the termination of certain periods of serice. Lieutenant-Governors in India receive $38,800 a year, and secretaries or heads of bureaus in the Provinces are paid $12,500. Members of the Boards of Revenue in India resistant 11,000 the Boards of Revenue in India re-ceive $15,000 a year. All magis-trates of the first class throughout the Empire are paid $10,000 a year, which is the minimum of the jud-ciary. District and session judges ciary. District and session judges receive from that amount to $15,000 a year, according to their length of service and importance of the circuit over which they preside. In Burma, where official responsibilities and duties are as light as in any other country of the world, and where the population is only 7,605,560, the Governor receives $38,000 a year, the cheff severators $12,000 a year. 300 a year, the cheif sccretary $12,-500, four under secretaries $8,000 a rear each, the finance officer or reasurer $14,500, dishursing officer year each, the linance oncer or treasurer $14,500, disbursing officer $11,500, commissioners, who are local executives in charge of districts, $12,500 each, and a commissioner of agriculture $11,500.

All of the gentlemen now occupying these positions, and drawing these salaries, excepting the judges, began at the bottom of the ladder. They entered the public service in the Indian colonies before they were 25 years old after passing two examinations, the second occuring after one year of probation, in which their administrative qualities and adaptability had been fairly tested, and the record they made during that first year counted so many numbers in their total standing. They have been compelled to submit to similar examinations at every promotion since, and have worked their motion since, and have worked their way up by merit without political influence, although, as is always the case, the personal equation entered into every calculation. A good many weak ones drop out by the wayside. The civil service is the East Indies is a survival of the fittest; and you may be sure that a man who survives all of the tests and conditions incident to advance-ment is made of good stuff. At the same time, when he enters the service he knows that nobody but a better man can get ahead of him; he is sure that he will not be displaced by the favorite of some member of Parliament, and that every time a that his employment is permanent upon good behavior, and, that, after twenty-four years of service, he will be entitled to a pension if he desires to retire. These pensions vary from $360 to $1,080 a year, according to the rank of the official, and they have the privilege of commuting the rank of the official, and they have the privilege of commuting them and receiving a stated amount of cash, which is calculated by an actuary on the same basis as is a life insurance premium.

The British Government gives pensions to both its civil and military officers upon retirement for age or disability, but requires both to provide for their wives and children after death by a form of commulsory provide for their wives and children after death by a form of compulsory irsurance. The details may be found at length in the army regulations. Similar regulations prevail in all the European countries. Every officer who enters the military service, if he be married, must, as a condition of his appointment. condition of his appointment, pay into the treasury a stated sum for his wife and for each of his children, into the treasury a stated sum for his wife and for each of his children, This sum varies according to his age, and is hased upon the same risks as life insurance premiums. Every time he is promoted and upon the birth of every child his premium, or "contribution," as it is called, is increased, and each officer, both married or unmarried, must submit to a monthly deduction from his pay for insurance purposes.

A Femarkable case in which Daniel O'Connell appeared was one in which a man was charged with murder. The evidence went all against the prisoner. When the time came for the defense to be made it was announced,
"The murdered man will now be called." The supposed victim went into the box and satisfied the court as to his identity and existence in flesh. The judge directed the jury to return a formal verdict of not gailty, but the good men and true insisted on retiring and did so. Presently returning, they found the prisoner guilty. "Heavens, gentlemen," said the judge, "of what is he guilty!
Not murder, surely?" "No, m'lord," replied the foreman, "but if he didn't murder the man he stole my old mare three weeks ago."

New Ontario is to have a new newspaper, The Temiskaming Herald, of New Liskeard. The proprietor is Mr. John Sharp, M.A., formerly a lecturer in Morrin College, Quebec, and Queen's University. Mr. Sharp has been associated with the Temiskaming district from the very early pioneer days, and is highly respected in the country, for his practical sagacity as well as for his scholarship and culture. The Herald he announces, will be an independent paper, refusing to "be governed or controlled in any way by any political party or faction," its special politics being "New Ontario, first, last and always." A journal which rigidly adheres to this program should prove interesting and useful.

HOW IT SPREADS.

The first package of Hem-Roid (the infallible Pile cure) that was put out went to a small town in the State of Nebraska. It made the cure of a case of Piles that was considered hopeless.

The news spread and although this was only two years ago the demand prompted Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, of Lin-coln, Neb., the discoverer, to prepare it for general use. Now it is being sent to all parts of the world. It will cure any case of piles. There s a month's treatment in each box. Sold for $1.00, with absolute guarantee.

TOO GREAT A RISK.

In almost every neighborhood someome has died from a attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by fill druggists.

The Fickle Fair Ones.
Engagements are entered into far more lightly and broken far more easily than used to be the case, when a betrothal was as serious an affair as marriage. Now it is not unusual for a girl to be engaged once or twice before she is married, and people think none tha worse of her. Young girls ways are beginning to resemble those of nursemaids, who walk out with a man, but not always with a view to matrimony.—Lady Greville in London Graphic.

THE BEST LINIMENT.

"I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and lumbago," says Mrs. Anna Hagelgans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. "My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family liniment I have ever used. I would not think of being without it, I have recommended it to many and they slways speak very highly of it and declare its merits are wonderful." For sale by all druggists.

A NOTED HORSEMAN'S EXPERI-ENCE

Mr. Antoine Wendling, owner of Deveras, 2.111-4, and proprietor of the Clifton House, Brockville, says no liniment compares with Nerviline for general use around the stable. For general use around the stable. For strains, sprains, swellings, internal, pains, and especially for affections of the whirl bone Nerviline is unequal-led. Mr. Wendling believes Nervil-ine is indispensable as a horse lini-ment; it has strength, penetrating power and works thoroughly. Every horse and stock owner should use Nerviline. There comes to my mind a legend,
A thing I had half forgot,
And whether I read or dreamed it,
Ahl well it matters not.
It said, in heaven at twilight
A great bell softly swings,
And man may listen and hearken
To the wonderful music that rings,
If he puts from his heart's inner chan
All passisn, pain and stife;
Heartaches and weary longings
That throb in the pulses of life.
If he thrust from his soul all hatred;
All thoughts of wicked things,
Ille can hear in the holy twilight
How the bell of the angel rings,
I thick there is in this legend,
If we open our eyes to see,
Somewhat of an inner meaning
My friend, for you and me.
So, then, let us ponder a little;
Let us look in our hearts and see
If the twilight bell of the angels
Can ring for you and me.

Soulanges Canal.
Soulanges canal, fourteen miles in length, is the largest waterway on the St. Lawrence system of canals and undoubtedly of vast importance to Canadian commerce. Many difficulties had to be overcome in its construction, not the least of which was to avoid upset-ting the course of three rivers. This was accomplished by providing pipes, which allowed the rivers to pass under the canal. Needless to say, the canal is not a very deep one.
