HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

ILLUSTRATED.

The Magazine will celebrate the fourth Centenary of the Discovery of America by its RE-DISCOVERY, through articles giving a more thorough exposition than has hitherto been made of the RECENT UNPRECEDENTED DEVELOPMENT OF OUR COUNTRY, and especially in the GREAT WEST. Particular attention will also be given to DRAMATIC EPISODES OF AMERICAN HISTORY.

The FIELD OF THE NEXT EUROPEAN WAR will be described in a Series of Papers on the Danube " From the Black Forest to the Black Sea," by POULTNEY BIGELOW and F. D. MILLET, illustrated by Mr. MILLET and ALFRED PARSONS. Articles also will be given on the German, Austrian, and Italian Armies, illustrated by T. DE THULSTRUP.

Mr. W. D. HOWELLS will contribute a new novel, " A World of Chance," characteristically American. Especial prominence will be given to SHORT STORIES, which will be contributed by T. B. ALDRICH, R. H. DAVIS, A. CONAN DOYLE, MARGARET DELAND, MISS WOOLSON, and other popular writers.

Among the literary features will be PERSONAL REMINISCENCES OF NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE, by his college class-mate and life-long friend, HORATIO BRIDGE, and a Personal Memoir of the Brownings, by ANNE THACKERAY RITCHIE.

Miscellaneous.

If you have as many friends as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, you are a fortunate person.

'Do you really believe in drawing the color line, Miss Weston?' asked Chelly Weston. 'Yes, I object to people being green,' she replied.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by E. Lee Street.

Mothers.

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

The watch that is placed over the people's interests at the polls must not be a repeater.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth, and Headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50c. Sold by E. Lee Street.

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We knew from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by E. Lee Steert

Farm and Household.

ROOFED BARN-YARDS.

It is in my opinion a successful way of making manure to make it in a covered yard; good manure can be made without question by heaping in open space and forking over occasionally, but with less care a better product is likely to be the average result when made under cover, whether enough better to pay the cost of the shelter is perhaps an open question; if the shelter were only for the manure, the balance might be struck against it; and if no coarse stuff goes into the manure pile (it is singular advice of one writer that it should not) the balance would certainly be against it.

But the cattle may enjoy this shelter and profit by it, since it gives to them a larger freedom to move about without exposure to storms or cold; and with the aid of their tramping a very considerable addition may be made to the value of the manure of the yard by working into the excrements the straw or other coarse stuff which, under conditions that may often prevail, cannot be profitably fed, there must, of course, be so much of such material that the animals will not be injured by too much wetness under foot. This coarse stuff put directly on the land is worth very little for fertilizing; when more or less decomposed in a well-aired mixture with animal excrements, it is worth much more.—New York Tribune.

FARM WORK FOR WINTER.

It was one advantage of the old-time system of farm work that it made plenty for the farmer to do in Winter. If nothing else there was at least always the clearing of the forest and its preparation for cultivation to be done. It did not pay much, but it increased the value of the farm, and so indirectly gave better wages than one farmer in 10 can now make. It is the do-nothing policy in Winter that is ruining thousands of farmers. They simply consume all they produce in Summer. To get ahead under such plan of operation is simply impossible. Every farmer should by feeding stock or in some other way calculate to earn something in Winter. If more farmers did this, farming would be more profitable than it is.

SPRINGS.

It is almost a universal notion that a spring which issues from the earth of its own accord, and which generally looks crystal clear, must be pure, but, though the water has been filtered by passing down through a stratum of earth, it must be remembered that there are two hundred and fifty times as much carbonic acid in the soil as there is in the air, and that the water becomes aerated with it, and this aids in dissolving various substances, and consequently springs come to have a great variety of chemical constituents in widely varying amounts. The strata through which water passes determine its purity or impurity, and the same want of sanitary care that would contaminate a well, will just as surely pollute a spring. Typhoid fever has been directly traced to contaminated springs.

The digestion of any animal must be looked after carefully, but in case of sheep is even of more importance if possible, than with other animals.

Woolen underwear is the most healthful and more comfortable. All substitutes are an abomination and their usetakes just that much from the wool industry of the country.

Don't forget that a physician's patronage may cost you more than it is worth if you are anxious to hold it.

POULTRY NOTES.

Where it can be done, it is well to keep a little watch for the pullets and see which begin to lay at the earliest age, and which lay the greatest number of eggs this Winter. They should be selected to breed from if eggs are the object of the poultry-yard, for the egg-producing power may be hereditary, as much as the milk-producing power of the cow.

In cooking potatoes for the hens do not use the water in which they are boiled to scald the barn. Turn it off, and use clear water if anything more is needed than is developed by mashing the potatoes. Potatoe-water is not wholesome or cleanly and may even be poisonous.

Many poultry keepers are using the little hand mils for grinding up green bones for their poultry. There is no doubt that the fowl relish them very much, and that they are good for them. Whether it pays for the labor of grinding them or not, is another question. Good clover furnishes lime at the rate of 2 3-4 ounces to the 100 pounds of clover, and they like good, bright, well cured hay.

Poultry should have a chance to get out and exercise a little every day, while the sun is out. Even a small yard is better than confinemen to the house. That they may have their run when the ground is covered with snow there should be a small shed that they can go into.

Do not try to keep 300 hens in the same space where it proved profitable to keep 50, or to keep them without devoting more time to them than was given to the smaller flock. Many a poultry keeper has learned in that way that a few hens pay well, but it is easy to lose money in keeping a large flock.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria,

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Signed, JOHN D. COX.

THE ESSENTIALS OF WINTER DAIRYING.

Of late years much has been written upon this subject and it is well that so much has been said upon it. Much more. doubtless, will have to be said. We are told to select good cows, have them come in the fall, to furnish warm stabling, feed well and properly, etc. The man who has never given any attention to the subject might need to be told when the cow should calve, but after that there need be nothing started as an essential to winter dairying except brains, and all farmers have brains. Most of them have brains of an exceedingly good quality, too. It is often the case, however, that the best of us neglect to work our brains to the best advantage. Certainly nobody need to be told at this late date that the cow must be kept warm and comfortable and that she must be well and properly fed. The Winter dairy makes a big hole in the grain-pile, but it increases the value of the grain. Never keep the grain bin locked.—Rural.

Paper is fighting wood hard in the manufacture of boxes, buckets and even packing-cases and so perfect is the manufacturing-process that in many instances nothing but the wonderful difference weight can afford a clew to the presence of paper in the manufacture. Paper packing-cases are indestructible, apparently, and the saving they effect in freight is enormous. Thousands of dollars are already invested in this comparatively new industry, and a new company with $1,250,000 capital has been organized to introduce paper-boards into other lines. Experiments have been made with buggy waggons and other things where lightness is needed, and paper flooring in lieu of boards will soon be heard of. It is easy to render the material fire proof in course of its construction, and this is highly appreciated.—"The Manufacturer's Gazette.

SMOKING MEATS.

In order to smoke a small quantity of meat, where the party has no smokehouse, a cheap but good arrangement for smoking hams or shoulders, according to the Farmers' Review, can be made by the use simply of a box and barrel. The box should be about 18 inches high and wide enough for a barrel to sit on it when it is turned bottom side up on the ground. Cut a hole 6 inches square in the bottom near one end—cut a door place 1 foot wide and 6 inches deep in the upper edge of the other end of the box. Then place it in position on the ground and set the barrel, from which both heads have been removed, over the hole in the bottom—but which is now the top—of the box, suspend the meat from sticks across the top of the barrel, and cover with a blanket or canvas to retain the smoke.

The smoke can be made in an iron vessel just inside the doorway cut in the end. This opening should be closed with a board to prevent a draft, which would cause the material to blaze. Hickory chips furnish the best material for smoking meats, but corn cobs are good. Any such temporary and combustible arrangement, of course, needs close care and watching to prevent its taking fire, but with reasonable care the danger is small. Never attempt to smoke meats in a barrel inside of any building. A neighbor of the writer, a few years since, lost an expensive barn from its taking fire from a barrel arrangement for smoking. In smoking in a barrel or hogshead, with the fire in the bottom there is always danger of fire from the drippings of the meat upon it. In the box and barrel arrangement above described, all such danger is avoided.

LAMPAS.

Every veterinary surgeon knows well the oft-repeated remark of the horsekeeper that his 'horse is off his feed and wants his lampas burned down.' The lampas, as Mayhew states, is an imaginary disease, although the groom considers it consists in an enlargement associated with congestion of the palate bars, which force them below the level of the incisor teeth. This disposition of the bars is natural, and can be noticed in any young horse's mouth the reader may choose to inspect. This imaginary disease is usually thought to exist among young horses and more particularly in those taken from grass and for the first time permanently located in a stable. Is it to be wondered that such sudden change of food from juicy grass to dry fodder should interfere with the general well-being of the equine system, that the appetite should become impaired, or in other words that the horse should be 'off his feed?'

When a young horse is 'off his feed,' the groom usually opens his animal's mouth, and noticing the beautiful arrangement of the palate bars he at once diagnoses the imaginary disease, lampas, and as often seeks their removal by the lancet or red-hot iron, both which operations are injurious, and consequently most cruel. If the heated iron be used, it is with the intent to burn away the imaginary disease prominences existing on the palate. And what results from such barbarity and ignorance? why, the exquisite sensation of the palate has been destroyed or the important service rendered by the bars—viz, that 'of retaining the food during mastication'—barbarously burnt away?—London Live Stock Journal.'

'THE BEST OF CHILDREN'S MAGAZINE'S'

THE publishers of ST. NICHOLAS, that famous young folks' magazine, are offering to send a sample copy, free of charge, to any father or mother who would like to consider the question of taking a children's magazine during the year to come.

Certainly if that question is up for discussion in any household ST. NICHOLAS will be the magazine selected. From its first number, in 1873, the pens of the greatest writers of the English world, and the pencils of the most famous illustrators, have been at its service. Tennyson, Longfellow, Bryant, Thomas Hughes Whittier, Bret Harte, Bayard Taylor, Mrs. Burnett, Miss Alcott, Donald G. Mitchell, George Macdonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Professor Proctor are a few of the many great names which have been upon its list of contributors. Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge is the editor.—Everything in it is illustrated.

there are to be serial stories by Brander Matthews, Lieutenant Robert H. Fletcher (the author of that charming book, 'Marjorie and Her Papa'); Laura E. Richards, William O. Stoddard, Charles E. Carry (the author of 'Davy and the Goblin'), and Frances Courtenay Baylor. There will be short stories by Thomas Nelson Page, Mary E. Wilkins, Mary Hallcod Foote, Richard Malcolm Johnston, Octave Thanet, General O. O. Howard, and many others, with papers of travel and adventure by J. T. Trowbridge and Lieutenant Schwaika, and useful articles on 'How Columbus Reckoned,' 'William the Conqueror,' 'Volcanoes and Earthquakes,' 'Straight Lines and Circles,' etc. In 'Strange Corners of Our Country,' the Great American Desert, the Cliff Dwellings of Arizona, and other interesting places, will be described, and in 'Honors to the Flag' and 'Boys and the National Guard' the patriotism of the young readers will be aroused and stimulated. Julian Ralph is to describe 'The Making of a Great Newspaper,' and the arc and incandescent electric lights are to be clearly explained.

APPLIED CHRISTIANITY

is what ST. NICHOLAS teaches;—unselfishness, faithfulness, courage, truthfulness—these things are taught in a hundred ways by stories, poems, and pictures. Do you need such an assistant in your work with your boys and girls? If so, and if you are not already familiar with ST. NICHOLAS, send a postal card to The Century Co., Union Square. New York, N. Y., and ask to see a sample copy. A year's subscription to ST. NICHOLAS make a splendid Christmas present, for it brings Christmas twelve times a year.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.
AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

Thirteenth Volume of HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE began on November 3, 1891. For the coming year this best and most comprehensive weekly in the world for youthful readers offers a varied and fascinating programme. In serial fiction it will contain " Diego Pinzon," a story of the first voyage of Columbus, by JOHN R. CORYELL; " Canoemates: A story of the Florida Reefs and Everglades," by KIRK MUNROE; another story by one of the best known and most popular of American authors; and stories in three and four parts by THOMAS NELSON PAGE, E. H. HOUSE, ANGELINE TEAL, ELLA RODMAN CHURCH, and MARY S MCCOBB. More than two hundred short stories by favorite writers, articles on travel, out-of-door sports, in-door games, and all subjects dear to the hearts of the young, besides hundreds of illustrations by leading artists, will combine to make HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE for 1892 an irresistible repository of pleasure and information or boys and girls.

"The best publication for young people in existence. It is edited with scrupulous care and attention and instruction and entertainment are mingled in its pages in just the right proportions to captivate the mind of the young, and at the same time to develop their thinking power.—Observer, N. Y.
