

GIVEN CHANCE TO LEAVE CITY.

Harry Cummings Will be Deported if He Remains.

Workman Accused of Cutting and Wounding a Companion.

Five Dollar Fine on the Sunday Drunks To-day.

Saturday evening at the east end factory where they are employed, two of the workmen had a scrap, which resulted in one of them being arrested on a charge of cutting and wounding, the other being removed to his home and placed under the care of Dr. R. Y. Parry. The scrap started just before work was over, and one of the men is alleged to have hit the other on the head with a bar of iron, splitting his head. H. J. Corsar, 137 Sherman avenue north, is the defendant. George Taylor, the complainant, was unable to appear this morning and the case was adjourned for a week or until he can appear. Taylor was released and a summons served on him. George S. Kerr is acting for him. Harry Cummings, who pleaded guilty to stealing $33 from W. Walters, was allowed to go to-day, to appear four weeks from now for sentence. It is probable that he will take the hint and pay his own fare out of the country, as he will be deported if he shows up again.

Beatrice A. Unsworth, of an old place, a charming young lady, was placed in the cells on Saturday afternoon and will remain there until Wednesday. She was a patient at the Salvation Army Home for some time, and having recovered from her illness she got rather "sassy" towards the matron, and the police were called in. She was taken before the Magistrate in his office, but was very stubborn and refused to accept his good advice. The Magistrate formally remanded her to the jail.

George Lester and Edward Upton, 333 Catharine street north, were charged by M. Cummings with being drunk and disorderly at his store, James and Barton streets. They pleaded not guilty. Mr. Cummings said that the men went to his store and asked him the price of a keg of beer, but as they seemed to have all they could carry he told them he was sold out. They hung around for some time, and he noticed that they were fooling with the kegs, and he went out to the liquor department and found Upton with a keg in his hands and he ordered them out. The men refused to go until they heard him telephone for the police. They were arrested in a hotel on Barton street. The defendants said they were out celebrating the King's birthday, and that they were drunk all right, but that when they lifted the cask they did so to see how heavy it was. They were dismissed.

A Webster, MacNab street north, was charged with being drunk on Sunday afternoon, by Constable Brannon. He said it was his first offence in 54 years, but the Magistrate remembered him and fined him $5. Thomas Conklin, Wellington north, was arrested yesterday afternoon with a load on his feet, rather unsteady and taking a few seconds for breath, went at his assistant, a Tommy Burns. The police say the colored man was armed and the only thing that prevented bloodshed was that he was not able to draw his weapon after the cyclone struck him.

STRUCK WRONG MAN

Police are Looking For Parties to a Fight.

The police are on the lookout for a colored man and a white man who had a fight on John street north on Saturday night that might have resulted in bloodshed. The colored man was walking down John street when he saw a well known young lady and a white man coming in the other direction. He spoke to the girl and the man who was with her drew a revolver and chased him. The colored man went out to find a friend and returned a few minutes later, and, seeing a man standing in the shadow near Gurney's he went over and valloped him. The stranger got to his feet rather unsteadily and taking a few seconds for breath, went at his assistant, a Tommy Burns. The police say the colored man was armed and the only thing that prevented bloodshed was that he was not able to draw his weapon after the cyclone struck him.

BROWN MURDER.

Trial of Mrs. Bradley Adjourned Owing to Judge's Death.

Washington, Nov. 11.—On account of the death of Justice McComas, of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, Criminal Court No. 1, in which Mrs. Anne M. Bradley was to have been put on trial to-day on the charge of murdering former Senator Arthur Brown of Utah, took an adjournment upon convening at 10 o'clock until Wednesday. Mrs. Bradley was in court, and also her attorneys.

HEALTH LECTURE TO-NIGHT.

Every man and woman in Hamilton should hear and see D. M. Barton and his clever gymnasts in the illustrated lecture to-night on "Health, Strength and Longevity," in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. Mr. Barton, in athletic attire, in his cabinet, with its artistic light effects, gives many fine, practical demonstrations. Exercises are illustrated for the boy or girl of ten and for the man or woman of any age up to seventy. Boys will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents; 600 free seats; 300 seats at 15 and 25 cents.

FANCY SKATING.

The management of the Britannia Roller Rink announces a series of "graceful skating" competitions, beginning this evening. The conditions are: Each evening during the week competent judges will select from the ladies skating alone two ladies for the four evenings, and the eight ladies will skate the final Friday night, when the prize winners will be chosen. First and second prizes of gold will be given.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will give a high tea at 6.30 on Thursday next in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. A short musical programme will be rendered.

Mr. R. R. Simpson returned yesterday from Baltimore, where he has been for a short visit. He reports the weather there as balmy—warm as June weather here.

W. Cook, who has been on the Fire Department for ten months, thinks there is more money in the butcher business, and has sent his resignation to the Chief. He will likely leave on the 15th.

Mr. Ben. Simpson resumed his duties at the Collegiate Institute this morning, after two weeks' enforced absence on account of the accident which befell him in the Montreal-Tiger football game.

Rev. T. McKim, rector of the English Church at Watford, has resigned, to take effect at the end of the month. He will leave to take charge of a parish at Long Island in the Diocese of New Jersey, U.S.A.

Inspector Birrell had nothing to say this morning about the Saturday and Sunday business. He thinks that everything is going right these days. He has just sent in his half-yearly report to the Government, also the amount due the Government on the license fees.

ALDERMEN INSPECT FILTERING BASIN.

ing more than an hour when he discovered that it was becoming choked up and was not doing the work. He says he reported the matter to Hunting, who said they would rake the basins over after. Mr. Hunting this morning positively denied that Bongard had reported any inefficiency in the dredge to him. Instead, Secretary James Miller and Mr. Hunting say Bongard, up till the time he lost his job, always declared that the work was being done first class. When they wanted to cut out the middle road he told them there was no necessity of getting teams, as the sucker would clean it out faster than a hundred teams could do.

After Bongard had completed the raking operations this morning, Chairman Clark asked him if on at least three different occasions he had not told him that the dredge would do the work perfectly. Bongard in the presence of the aldermen denied that he had ever said anything of the kind, or, in fact, discussed the matter. Bongard when asked if he had not told the Mayor that the sucker was doing satisfactory work, denied that he had ever spoken to him. Secretary James says this is a fib. He says he went down with the Mayor himself. Mayor Stewart said to-day, "I was told by a man in charge of the sucker that it was doing the work finely. His story has not shaken my belief in the sand sucker in the least. If the public will withhold judgment for ten days or so I will have authentic information as to just what has been done and the condition of the bottom of the basins. It seems strange to me that this man should not say anything to me if the dredge was not working right, when he knew I was down there so often seeking information."

Bongard when asked this morning by the Chairman what was the matter with the sucker, said that the cross bar near the agitator was not sharp enough, and that the pumps did not have the necessary suction. He admitted that it could be put in good shape again.

"This man or his story does not enter into the matter at all," said Chairman Clark. "We simply want to find out the facts as to whether the sucker had been doing and can do the work."

Chairman Clark, Secretary James, Caretaker Hunting, Ald. McLaren and such reputable citizens as Mr. R. Tasker Steele and many others have watched the sucker at work and seen it pouring out the mud and weeds. Bongard said to-day that all the sucker ever lifted was stones and a little rocky water. Chairman Clark pointed to several spots along the creek where the stones, sand and fine weeds lifted by the dredge were found in large quantities.

The stuff taken out of the southern basin this morning only small weeds were found, while before the sucker went in weeds eighteen and twenty feet long could be seen. This is a pretty good proof they think that the agitator was working.

Bongard admitted this morning that he did not know for a fact that the sucker, before purchased by Hamilton, had been the bottom of the bay at Toronto. He had only heard from Ald. Peregrine that it would not be a bad idea to get a report from an independent expert on the condition of the pumps and machinery. The expert in charge of the repairs on the boiler assured Chairman Clark that the boiler was in good shape up until the time of the fire.

WILL APPEAL TO JUDGE.

CUMMER COAL CO. WOULD LIKE ENTRANCE TO PROPERTY.

Ald. Farrar Explains to Committee Why He Did Not Attend the Meeting for the Barrow Investigation.

Although the Court of Revision this year made a reduction of a little over $4,000 in the assessment on the Cumer Coal Company's property along Elgin street, the company will appeal to the County Judge for a further reduction or an order to force the city to give it three openings on Elgin street. Under an agreement with the Grand Trunk the city closed Robert street on condition that there were to be no openings on Elgin street. The Cumer Coal Company purchased this property from the Grand Trunk. They have to send their wagons the whole length of the block to get in and out with coal, and claim that the inconvenience means a considerable loss to them in a year.

Alderman Farrar appeared on Saturday at the special meeting of the committee to investigate the City Engineer's department, and offered a reasonable explanation of his absence from the previous meeting, and it was decided to meet to-morrow night at 8.30 to deal with the matter.

Springer & Company were granted a permit this morning for a brick house at the corner of Stirling and Cannon streets, for A. Frewing, to cost $14,000.

The Fire and Water Committee at a special meeting this afternoon will deal with the specifications for the new electric pumps, and fix the amount to be asked for in the by-law that is to be submitted to the ratepayers.

There is very little on the City Council's programme for to-night's meeting to justify a long session.

The Board of Hospital Governors has asked the city to close that part of Copeland avenue running into their property.

THE WEATHER.

FORECASTS.—Fresh, northwest and north winds; fair and colder, with local snow flurries. Tuesday, northwesterly winds; fair and cold.

The low area which was in Northern Ontario on Saturday morning has since been moving slowly eastward with diminishing energy, while the western cold wave has spread eastward over the great lakes. Light snow has fallen in parts of Ontario and Quebec. The temperature was almost zero this morning in Saskatchewan.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Forecasts: Eastern States and Northern New York: Fair to-night and Tuesday. Light snow to-night in extreme northern portions. Much colder to-night. Light to fresh northwest winds.

The following is the temperature as registered at Parke & Parke's drug store:

9 a. m. 35; 12 noon, 42; 2 p. m. 42. Lowest in 24 hours, 27; highest, 42.

HAVE HAD ENOUGH.

Three Barbers Want to Get Union Cards Again.

The barber shops in which union cards were displayed closed on Saturday night as soon as the customers who arrived before 11 o'clock had been shaved. In the non-union shops the doors were open until the late comers were disposed of.

Union representatives made the statement this morning that three of the barbers who surrendered their union cards rather than comply with the 11 o'clock rule had applied to get union cards again. The reason for this was that their business was so light on Saturday as to convince them that their patrons as a whole favor the 11 o'clock rule.

The union will, it is said, impose a severe penalty before reinstating any man who had the union card taken out of his shop.

THE BARBERS' STRIKE.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—As there has been a good deal of discussion through your columns regarding the situation of the barbers' strike, the public is familiar with the one side of the question, and it is but fair that the bosses' side should be put before them.

The barbers have the right to regulate their hours and wages, but they have no right to interfere with the bosses' liberty of running their businesses. We were denied the privilege of opening our shops on holidays, which the public knows is a great inconvenience to them and a loss of revenue to us, although we did not ask our men to work, and when this question was brought before the union they refused to consider it, and had it thrown in the waste basket.

In regard to closing our shops at 11 o'clock, had the barbers asked to quit themselves, we would have considered it, instead, they demanded us to lock our doors against our customers who could not get into our shops before 11 o'clock. As you know, there are a great many business men in the city who cannot get away from their business before 11 o'clock, and we do not see how they can (even at the request of the men) to lock our doors at 11 o'clock against patrons who patronize us during the week. Some of our men have admitted that the union is wrong in passing this law, but they think the bosses should abide by it. We do not think that any other union would go so far as to interfere with the rights of others.

In Toronto the union made similar demands of the bosses, with the result that Mr. Halford had to go down and collect all the union cards, and there is no union there to-day. The journeymen barbers get a full half-holiday each week, which amounts to four weeks in a year, to offset the long day on Saturday.

As our business is different from any other line of trade, we have to keep our shops open and work after other mechanics are through, in order to accommodate the public and not force them to do their own shaving.

As free citizens we think we should have this one privilege of locking our doors on Saturday night when we please, and we hope that the public will view this matter from a fair standpoint.
