THE CONTEST TO-DAY.

The political contest which is being decided to-day has been short and bitter. Most people will be glad that it has been short, but every right thinking elector must regret that it seems to have been necessary to import so much personal animosity into it. We have had far too much of this sort of thing in election contests in this county and elsewhere.

It is to be deplored that the popular opinion on the general administration of public affairs can not be recorded at the polls in a calm and judicial way—on the merits of public policy and on the record of public men, unclouded by the heat of political strife, and unbiased by political envy and rancor.

It is doubtless true that the political issues submitted to the people in the selection of candidates for the local legislature, are not always of that large and important nature which gives dignity to their discussion and raises them above the level of personal acception and re-creation, but it is surely possible to discuss public questions and the official acts of representative men, in a fairer and less acrimonious spirit than that which has characterized the present campaign.

WHAT WILL YORK SAY?
The electors of York are saying today that they shall represent them in the legislature for the next four years. They are saying more than that; they are saying that they shall lead the government of the province, and that the policy of the government shall be. York has spoken on this question more than once before, and she will not go back on her record today.

For ten years past the government of the province has been led from York. Very able and intelligent men from other counties have held seats in the legislature, and in the executive council; but it is no disparagement to any of them to say, that the eminent qualifications of the leader of the government, have made him easily first among his peers. York has been honored through him, and has honored herself in supporting him so loyally, and in sending him to the legislature with a full contingent in hearty and thorough sympathy with him. Her interests have not suffered thereby. To some one of the constituencies the honor and the benefit of sending the premier to the legislature must fall, and it has been the good fortune of this county to hold this distinction, not only during the term of office of the present government, but of that which preceded it. When the honor and the distinction are taken away, it would not be expected that York itself would do it; and yet there are those who think this possible. We do not agree with them; we believe that York today is saying that she desires that Andrew G. Blair shall lead the government of this province in the future, as in the past; and that he shall have his hands strengthened by having a full ticket with him, as an indication of the confidence which the county has in his ability, and in his worthiness to lead.

AND NOW FOR THE VERDICT.
To-day in all the Constituencies of the Province, with the single exception of Madawaska, the people's verdict is being rendered. By the time this issue of THE HERALD reaches its readers, the issue now pending will have been practically decided. The politicians have had their say, and now the people are talking. We are soon to have the verdict of the final court of appeal.

The government await it with the fullest confidence. They are assured from all quarters that the people will approve their administration of the affairs of the province since they were last entrusted to their hands, and will give an emphatic endorsement to their policy of wise and progressive legislation, of prudent and economical management of the provincial finances, of increased efficiency in all the public services, of maintaining intact the rights of the province, and of carrying out in spite of all obstacles, and in the face of opposition without and within the legislature the reforms to which they pledged themselves when they assumed the seals of office.

To-day the people are pronouncing their opinion on the policy and the record of the government in the past, and declaring their will for the future. We must mistake public sentiment if the result will not be a most complete vindication of the executive and a well-merited rebuke to those who have so persistently and maliciously assailed their policy and misrepresented their acts.

The government is thoroughly representative of the people, and in close touch with them—it is led by a statesman whose ability is everywhere acknowledged, and it appeals to the people on its record with a full assurance that it will be judged on its merits and will not be found unworthy to receive a renewal of their confidence.

THE CONTEST TO-DAY.

MONUMENT.
Oct. 17.—The farmers of this locality have finished storing the last of the season's crop. The crop in general has been an abundant one. Hay was a very heavy crop in this part of the country; oats are turning out well; and the sound of threshing machines is heard on every side; potatoes are a large crop, but have turned out sound and of extra quality; wheat is a poor crop. Ploughing is now the order of the day, and farmers are busy preparing the soil for next year's crop. There has been much ploughing done already and the fall work is well advanced.

J. E. Murchie is one of our foremost farmers. He owns and works about three hundred acres of land, and raises large crops of hay, oats, wheat and potatoes. He keeps a large number of horses and cattle, and on his farm may be seen some fine colts of trotting stock. Mr. Murchie is also a successful lumberman, giving employment to a large number of men and teams every winter in the lumber woods.

The Orangemen of Wellington, L. O. L. No. 57, held their annual social and basket sale on the thirteenth instant. The evening being fine and the roads good, the crowd was large. After a few remarks by the stage manager, John Dixon, the following program was given through: Instrumental music, Miss Ada Slater; recitation, Caleb's Courtship, Miss May Chapman; dialogue, Peleg and Patience, by Miss Annie Stewart; Miss Jamie Dickson, Miss Jamie Edgar, Bobb, Mrs. M. Kennedy, and J. Leslie Kennedy; song and music by Mrs. Thos. Slater; recitation, grandma's bean, by Miss Mary Kennedy; negro dialogue, the quack doctor, by Charlie Nicholson, John Dickson and J. Leslie Kennedy; song and music by Miss Annie Stewart; recitation, what Biddy said in the police court, by Miss Bella Carter; recitation by George Crawford. After the program the baskets were sold by Thomas Slater, auctioneer, after which the crowd enjoyed dancing until a late hour. Great credit is due to the entertainment committee for the able manner in which they discharged their duty. The receipts amounted to thirty-seven dollars for the Orange hall benefit fund.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE DIVISION have elected new officers, which are as follows: J. Leslie Kennedy, W. P.; Miss Mary Chapman, W. A.; David Dykeman, F. S.; John Greer, T.; Mr. Crawford, chap.; Mrs. Suse Kennedy, C.; Burns Edgar, A. G.; Fred Saunders, R. S.; Miss Jennie Kennedy, A. R. S.; David Lyons, O. S.; Mr. Anderson, I. S.; Thomas H. Kennedy, P. W. P.; Miss Christine Kennedy, organist. The members of this division would not have elected a more suitable member for W. P. than L. Kennedy, as he is a strong temperance man and attends very regularly. Your correspondent wishes him every success in his new office.

SCOTCH SETTLEMENT.
Oct. 17.—Our farmers have all finished digging their potatoes, which have proved a very good crop, one of our neighbors having dug seventy-nine barrels from four barrels planted.

A number of our young men have already gone to the woods; others expect to go soon.

We are glad to hear that Miss Maria Phillips, who has been very sick, is rapidly recovering, under the treatment of Dr. Coulthard.

Henry B. Mitchell and Alby Grass, councillors for the municipality of Sunbury, were returned by acclamation in the township of Lincoln on Saturday.

Miss Lillian Dotin is home on a visit from Brunswick, Me.

Partridge shooting is the order of the day.

A few days since, Thomas O'Leary, at Beaver Dam, caught a large bear.

William Noble, of Fredericton Junction, is visiting friends here.

At the F. C. Baptist parsonage, Fredericton, on the 13th inst., Miss Edie Phillips and Joseph Fletcher, of this place, were married by the Rev. F. C. Hartley.

Miss Jennie Coll, of Donk Settlement, and James Duggan, of this place, were married in Fredericton on Sept. 22nd.

KINGSCLEAR.
Oct. 20.—The church of Upper Kingsclear is still thriving and growing. The good seed is being sown by the pastor, Rev. H. D. Worden, who is working in an earnest and loving manner. He has had many trials to overcome, but through Christ he has conquered.

We are pleased to see Mrs. A. Palmer and Miss E. McKay has gone to the North-west on a visit; she was accompanied by her sister and brother-in-law.

Old bruin is around; this time he is a large one, and was seen by Cook Mills recently.

WILLIAMSBURGH.
Oct. 17.—Wm. Gallison, who has been in the states for the last four years, has returned home on a short visit.

Eva M. Allen, only daughter of Mrs. Martha Allen of Fox Pond, Me., who came here in July for her health, died very suddenly at her uncle's, Geo. Dennison's. The deceased had been a frequent visitor to these parts and was beloved by all who knew her. She was in her sixteenth year. The sorrowing mother has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. H. Gough, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bell of Boiestown. Text, numbers xxxii: 10.

Dinah has again visited our midst. Lizzie A. Kerr, daughter of Thomas Kerr, who has been a patient sufferer for over a year, died of consumption on the 16th inst. A few years ago while in Calais she became converted and united with the Baptist church of which she was a faithful member. During all her illness she manifested a cheerful submission to her Master's will. Deceased was twenty-two years of age and was a general favorite. Her many friends extended their sympathy to her sorrowing relatives.

DURHAM.
Oct. 19.—Messrs Herbert and George Ety are around with their threshing machine.

Oats are reported as very light and buckwheat a still poorer crop. Potatoes with most are reported to be average. Charles Baxter had forty barrels from two barrels seed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bancroft and two children, who were visiting her father, George Johnstone, have returned to their home in Madam.

Moses Pond and Levi Rogers trapped another bear last week.

Henry Stoddard was visiting his friends in Durham, Peniac and Bloomfield Ridge last week. His niece, Miss Chris Johnston, of this place, went home with him to Calais to spend the winter.

Miss Isabel Jenkins has returned from Parker's Ridge, where she was attending school.

Mr. and Mrs. Miss McLagan and son were visiting their friends in this place the first of the week.

Squire John McBean also John R. McBean were around last week hiring men for their lumbering operations in the winter.

AVERY'S PORTAGE.
Oct. 20.—As some of the farmers were returning from school meeting on the 18th inst., they saw smoke issuing from the roof of A. B. Avery's dwelling, and of course all hastened to the scene, but when they got there it was found to be useless to try and get the fire controlled. All went to work with a will and succeeded in saving all that was in the house, after that they turned their attention to the store and barn. In less than an hour the fire had done its work, and the buildings were burned to the ground. Fortunately for him he had sold his hay and grain, and his potatoes were not dug. We understand he is not going to build again, as the place is mortgaged for $500 and insured for $400, and is to be sold at auction next Monday. The fire caught in the roof of George Palmer's barn, but was put out before it had got under headway.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Asie, and A. G. Balfour and son, have recently returned to their home here after a visit to their friends here and Blisfield. As they were former residents of Miramichi, they were gladly welcomed by their many friends.

The Rev. Mr. Gough, of Stanley, preached a very interesting sermon here last Sabbath.

FREDERICTON JUNCTION.
Oct. 20.—Another matrimonial event took place here quite recently, when Burton Boone was united in marriage to Miss Lillie Tracy. The bride was handsomely attired in a grey silk material, which was very becoming. After the marriage ceremony was performed, about sixty guests repaired to the dining hall, where they partook of a sumptuous repast. The presents were numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Boone's friends wish them all the happiness this world can afford.

We are pleased to welcome brother Foster's removal to our vicinity. His former residence was at Tracey station, but owing to the inconvenience of the house he was living in, he was obliged to make the change.

T. L. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. David Smith and Miss Ida Thomas are attending the provincial Sabbath school convention now being held at St. John.
