TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.00 A. M.

FOUNDERS ON HER WAY HERE. SYDNEY, To-day. The steamer William Edward, owned by Sydney parties and chartered to carry a cargo of coal pulp to Grand Falls, Newfoundland, foundered off Cape Pine last night. The crew were saved. The ship's cargo was fully insured. Captain Dix was in command.

HINK GERMAN ABOUT TO RETREAT. PARIS, To-day. The desperate German counter-offensive which has been going on since day before yesterday in the region of Lauffaux is considered in command quarters here as intended to seek a further retirement of the German line on other parts of the front. During the last few days the number of fires in villages behind the German front both north and south of Lauffaux has greatly increased. The town of St. Quentin itself, which has been gradually burning for the last few weeks is now overtopped with many smoke clouds. These facts are considered as indications of retreat, being similar to those which preceded the last retirement in which the Germans left a vast area in devastation.

WAR REVIEW. LONDON, To-day. After days of the most intense fighting in which the position several times changed hands in hundreds of attacks and counter-attacks, the British forces have at last driven the Germans out of the village of Bullecourt and once more are threatening the southern end of the Drocourt-Queant line, which Field Marshal von Hindenburg constructed to defend Cambrai from the eastward advance of Field Marshal Haig's army. Thousands of fresh German troops have recently been thrown into the fray around Bullecourt, but their efforts, according to official statements, have gone for naught in endeavouring to drive out the British from the entire village, although several times the line has been bent by the preponderance of weight of the German forces. At no time have the British been forced to vacate, holding here and there rings of the outskirts and keeping back the Teutons until their elements reformed with sufficient strength to drive effective counter-attacks and regain their lost territory. Likewise east of Arras around the village of Roux the battle has been waged with a viciousness scarcely ever before seen here. The British have been successful against the Germans. In Wednesday night's fighting the Germans were forced to give ground before counter-attacks inside the village and loosen their hold on the positions they previously had taken. Although the forces of the German Crown Prince renewed with extreme violence their attacks against the French north of Solissons in the sectors of Moulin-de-Leffaux and Braye-en-Laonnais, three of them against each position, they were repulsed by the French artillery and infantry, suffering enormous casualties. To the east the French troops near Croanoe delivered a successful attack, capturing German trench elements. The Berlin War Office reports that for the first sixteen days of May the Germans made prisoners of 5,000 British and French soldiers of the French front, 2,300 of them British and 2,700 French. From the Tolmino to the sea the Italians are keeping up their strong offensive against the Austrians or waiting for violent counter-attacks against the positions they have captured in their new push. An unofficial despatch reports the taking by the Italians of the fashionable watering resort of Durno at the head of the Gulf of Trieste, only twelve miles from the city of Trieste, the Austrians' most important post on the Adriatic Sea. In this six days' fighting since the Italian offensive began 4,020 Austrians have been made prisoners by the Italians. In Macedonia also the forces of the Teutonic Allies in the Cornea River region, despite the fact that they threw into action fresh reinforcements from Bulgaria lost to the French troops positions on a front of nearly half a mile, while to the east in the Struma River region the British have taken the village of Kujuro and elements of enemy trenches.

JAPANESE GUN BOATS IN WESTERN WATERS.

A number of Japanese gunboats have arrived at Marseilles to aid in the war on German submarines and to convey French merchantmen. If the experiment has satisfactory results it will be extended.

How Lieut. Byrne Won the "M. C."

"Eye-Witness Tells the Story of a Prompt Act and a Gallant Deed."

Early in the morning a big "stunt" had been pulled off on the Western front. Three Regiments had "gone over" and taken their objective. The position was not an easy one, the Germans having held it strongly, and one portion of the trench badly battered in the bombardment, while some Hunns were actually in the same line.

One Regiment had suffered many casualties, and three hours after the attack, I was despatched by the Brigadier-General, with fifty men, to assist in holding a portion of the new position. On the way up we had an example of Hun "rightfulness" in the form of a heavy barrage, in which the major in charge of our party was wounded, and half my men scattered. I reached the trench with sixteen out of the original fifty.

The hours passed slowly to the accompaniment of "Tommycrotchers" and French mortars, and early the next morning "B" Company, under Capt. B. Butler, M.C., moved into the line. Lieut. Gerald Byrne, with his platoon, took over my post.

That night our men were subjected to a very heavy bombardment, and the area was bright with Hun flares. This audacity brought forth the customary retaliation from our artillery, and there was considerable activity on that front until the morning. Just before dawn the sound of sharp explosions announced the presence of Bosches on the right. The presence of the enemy in your own trench puzzles those who read about it at home. It is, however, something of a fifty common occurrence, and a hostile party on the offensive may prove unpleasant. The whole situation then hinges upon "Bombs" and their rapid use. Suddenly a Bavarian Officer appeared on our parapet; as quickly he went down, and then Lieut. Byrne took charge of the position. Seizing a couple of grenades, he turned to his men and said: "Come boys, no Newfoundland or give way to a Bosche!" and the defensive commenced. The first grenade made the Hunns think, the second checked their advance, and the third, followed by a rush of Newfoundlanders routed the Germans who fell down the trench. Lieut. Byrne, with Privates Pico and Lewis gave chase, and within five minutes the position was cleared, and another forty yards added to our line. The flank was saved, the trench held, by the prompt action and initiative of a gallant officer!

I remember distinctly the words of the Brigadier-General the day our party moved up—they were "I know I depend on the Newfoundlanders to hold that line!" and the sequel is—"Always, while we have such men as Lieut. Byrne, M.C."

Sea Tragedy Indicated

A recent arrival reports having passed a vessel on her beam ends in the direction of Sable Island. The vessel is a Norwegian named the Hedvig and had her gallantmast carried away, all her sails gone and she was flying distress signals. The crew apparently were not there, as not a member was seen on board. No further particulars are to hand, but it is evident that the vessel was smitten by one of the heavy storms that swept the Atlantic recently.

McMurdo's Store News

FRIDAY, May 18, 1917.

Every year we import the special brand of Hayseed known as Strictly Prime. We are, we believe, the only house that imports this particular brand—which as its name implies is the very highest obtainable grade. And every year the popularity of Strictly Prime Hayseed is seen to be greater, as the undeniably satisfactory results it gives are understood. This season we have every reason to believe that this brand is as good as usual; and we are selling this Hayseed at a very moderate price, which will be given on application.

Children's Country Store.

On Saturday night there is an extra big Country Store for the children. A great many lovely things left over from the big folks Country Store will be given away. Besides the many things for the children there will be lots of groceries, flour, glass, china, dolls, hankies, nice joggles and chains, perfume, lovely souvenir cups and saucers of the Allies, and heaps of things to delight all. Extra pictures and a big show. On Monday the Indian play "Red Wing." This is something entirely new and novel; all in beautiful Indian costumes, just like the Indians of the Northwest. Chief's war dance, the Indians on the war path.

Red Cross Tag Fund

Just a reminder to the public that next Wednesday, the 23rd May, is Tag Day, for the benefit of the Imperial Red Cross Fund. The little flags with which all who subscribe, will be adorned, are worthy of notice. They are a faithful reproduction of the King's colour of the First Newfoundland Regiment, which will bear the names of Newfoundland's battle honours at the close of the war. No one can fail to be touched by the sight of this little flag, which has played so glorious a part in the hottest battles of the war. Newfoundlanders have been wherever the fighting was fiercest, and have done honor to the proudest traditions. Help the Flag by liberal giving on Tag Day.

Wood, of the College of War, presented with the Outerbridge Shield and the Stabb Memorial Cup, which were captured by C. Co. in last year's shooting competitions.
