

Proposition.

WELL WORTH CONSIDERING.

Evening Telegram.

There is nothing so important in the daily routine of a man's life as his home, and most men will make great efforts to acquire a comfortable home of their own. A workman may work hard and deny himself to get a house, but he can't go on like this. He needs to be helped and guided. This is where Mr. Collishaw's plan comes in. Another man plans to build a house and has worked hard for years to get a building for which he has had to pay $3000.

He has put his whole life's efforts into this, but having secured the lot he must stop for want of financial resources. Here is where Mr. Collishaw's plan comes in. If the $1000 was guaranteed this man could go ahead.

The Bonds were guaranteed on the part of the City Council. The man goes ahead and builds his house and helps to beautify the city. The man who saves and sacrifices as the man has, is the one in whom the City should be encouraged. The proposition offered by Mr. Collishaw is one of sound business principles and one which the City Council can do a great thing for the City without financial risk. The writer interviewed Mr. Collishaw yesterday to find out whether the figures that he submitted in the preceding letters were correct, as I had thought and others had said so that the offer was almost too good to be true. Mr. Collishaw said that the figures were correct and that the offer was genuine, and he thought the offer was again. "I
