HAMILTON & COLLIER

NOTICE TO RETURNED SOLDIERS.

The faddist organizations who tried to stop your cigarette issue from being sent to the trenches have had their day.

The party who wanted to cut out your rum ration and recommended instead a drink of pea soup is now hoisting ground any traveller or reader of the press can tell you that throughout all western Canada and the United States their supporters are leaving them by the thousand. The man who still preaches a bone dry province and at the same time has a bottle of black and white whiskey in his own cupboard is now talking to himself and to himself alone. It is an open secret that we are going to have a different liquor law in N. B. that not remains to be seen.

If you have ideas of what a good liquor law should be, come to the meetings of the Restigouche Moderation League in Commercial Block, near the C. N. R. Depot, Campbellton, every Monday evening at 7.30 and tell what your ideas are, if they are the same as the majority of our members then we will combine our efforts to obtain such laws if possible.

This invitation is not only to returned soldiers but to all lady and gentlemen voters of N. B.

Inserted by the Restigouche Moderation League.

The New Carlisle, Que., Seniors played a match game of hockey with the Dalhousie Seniors in the rink here on Tuesday evening. Both teams exerted every ounce of strength and their powers of endurance were taxed to the utmost. All their knowledge of hockey was brought into play. The score which stood 7-4 in Dalhousie's favor, hardly represents the game as the play was much more evenly balanced than the score indicated. The Dalhousie team was composed of Trudelle, Deaken, McKay, Elstner, LeCoffre, Sanson, spares Blomquist and Williams.

The annual meeting of the Dalhousie branch of the New Brunswick Public Society auxiliary to the B. & F. B. Society, was held in the basement of St. John's Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening. Coleman preached from the words: "Seal not the sayings of this Book." The business session consisted of reading the minutes of the last annual meeting and reading the secretary-treasurer's report and electing officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Shaw was elected president; Miss Annie Cameron, vice-president; and Mr. Charles Stewart was re-elected secretary. An office which he has faithfully filled for many years. Mrs. W. J.
