

VE HERRIE SAILOR LAD

RINGS A SONG OF WALKER.

It was a gallant sailor lad, Who sailed across the main, From the old ship's deck he called, And back to home he came.

And, oh! he sang a merry song, For his heart was so true, And he looked at her so long, Across at the Queen's side.

For in the self-same Queen's side, There is a woman named Walker, Who makes her husband sailer lad, His little plans had laid.

"Now, by my faith," he said, "I'll live This happy life with you no more, For in summer, on water this young man lives, And in winter he lives on shore."

By WALKER'S WEEKLY PAYMENT PLAN I'll have my little home, And I'll bid farewell to this five-cent trip, And the billows that toss and toss, And the waves that rise and rise.

"Week in, week out (like the five-cent bill), Under the constant flow, My little instalment I'll surely pay, At Walker's Store," said he.

Now that the Jubilee is over, business can be prosecuted with as usual, and those requiring the services of Walker's Store, should apply to the following address: Walker's Store, 101 Queen Street West, Toronto.
