NON-UNION MEN ON HAND.

THE RAILWAY COMPANIES CLAIM TO HAVE PLENTY OF THEM.

The Strikers Say That the Men Will Not Work When the Time Comes and That the Companies Are Deceived—To-Day Will Test the Dispute Either One Way or the Other.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 19.—Unless new complications are developed before morning in the switchmen's strike, which closes its first week with midnight to-night, the public may fairly measure the accuracy of the statements made by the affected companies of the movement of freight, which shall be accomplished to-morrow. Each of the companies has definitely stated and repeated that they had at hand enough men to replace all the strikers and to handle all their freight if protection should be assured to the new switchmen.

The 4th Brigade of 2000 men was placed on duty, but the railroad officials held that 2000 men were not sufficient to protect their new employes in the movement of traffic on the 600 miles of yard tracks which lie within this city and vicinity. Hence 5000 more troops were ordered and are here. Their assignment to duty at all points where the tied-up companies feel there might be danger has been going forward to-day. To-night every command has been placed. Every militia man will be picketed in the morning and under these conditions, which meet all the demands of the roads, their officials must to-morrow be held to practical demonstration that their reiterated claims of abundant help have been well founded.

Careful enquiry through the strike districts to-day has demonstrated beyond reasonable doubt to Associated Press correspondents that the companies have at hand the men they have claimed. During the afternoon and to-night there have, to be sure, been circulating rumors and statements from the men who are out in effect that many of the men being held in readiness by the companies are now being restrained of their liberty. An accompanying statement from the same sources is that the men were employed in the east to work on western roads and they did not know until their arrival here that their service here was to be on the tied up roads.

In the Central yards personal observation of the men who are waiting leads to conclusions opposed to the strikers. The statements that the new men are restrained of their liberty, the Lake Shore road—one of the Central's western feeders—has enough men in its yards to-night to man the usual number of switching engines. They arrived Thursday night and will undoubtedly be put at work in the morning. The Erie to-day moved five trains with ten switching crews, and have in quarters more than the number of men formerly employed in sending out the Erie's daily quota of 20 trains east bound. The Central Road is to-night moving freight in its yards for the first time since the strike began. The Lehigh road has in one of its round houses men sufficient, the officials assert, to move its traffic under protection dan the Nickle Plate, the last road tied up, is possibly the only one of these affected which may not have secured new help. To-morrow will be the test day. The claims of the companies will be verified on the assertions of the strikers will be proven true. If the roads are not absolutely crippled the volume of traffic moved to-morrow must prove that fact. Then it becomes only a question how long the militia shall be maintained in the yards; or how soon the strikers concede their course to be hopeless.

GRAND TRUNK MEN UNEASY.

They Have Refused to Handle Freight For Tied-Up Roads.

BUFFALO, Aug. 19.—Mutterings have been heard all day among the Grand Trunk switchmen who crossed the International bridge with trains of freight for eastern connections. Most of the men are Canadians and all of them live at Fort Erie or Victoria on the Canadian side, or at Amogaria, one mile in the interior, where the yards and round houses of the company are located.

An incident occurred early this morning that serves to show the temper of the Grand Trunk switchmen. A New York Central engine with a crew of non-union men was attempting to move a train of live stock from Black Rock to East Buffalo. The movement was quickly noticed by the switchmen in the Lackawanna yard, and the news spread like wildfire all over Black Rock. It was at the time when the shop employes were on their way to work, and almost instantly men began to mass at the Amherst-street crossing. The green switchmen on the stock train became excited and the train was obliged to stop on the crossing while a clumsy novice was attempting to turn a switch to let it pass on the east bound track. Just as the wheels began to move a lusty Grand Trunk switchman rushed out of the throng and turning to one of the Erie strikers asked in an excited voice: "Shall I cut her for them, Pat?"

The crowd cheered and cried, "Go on, go, pull the pins, cut her in a dozen places."

But the striker slowly advanced and shook his head. Placing one hand on the Canadian's shoulder and pointing significantly across the river to where the smoke of a dozen engines raised the Amagara yards, he said: "no Jack, not here, there is no place for you to work. See that you do it when the time comes. 150 cars of Erie freight are standing in the Grand Trunk yards at Victoria and Amagara. The company received them, but the switchmen refused point blank to handle one of them. In marked contrast with usual arbitrary description of the great Canadian system the refusal was received by the officials in silence and no attempt was made to force the switchmen to handle the freight. The significance of this action on the part of the Trunk men cannot be ever estimated, as it shows that they are thoroughly organized and in accord with the American Federation. They seem to have no hesitancy in forcing an issue and there can be little doubt that they are ready to meet it at a moment's warning. The property interests of the Grand Trunk and Michigan Central at Victoria and Amagara are very large. The former corporation owns a large ice-house, where cars of fresh meat are reiced. Should the acts of violence that characterized the outbreak of the strike on the Lehigh and Erie at East Buffalo be repeated in the Canadian yards great destruction of property would follow, as there is no means whatever of coping with the fire.

It is by no means improbable that within a few days the waters of the Niagara River at this point may reflect the red coats of the Canadian Grenadiers on one side and the blue uniforms of the New York State Guards on the other.

How Toronto Railroads Feel.

All day yesterday there was a good deal of excitement in Grand Trunk circles over the report that employes would be required to move cars from Buffalo in place of the men who are now on strike there.

Last night a reporter of The World visited the Esplanade and had a quiet chat with two or three of the trainmen there. Said number one, "The Grand Trunk is no fool and is not likely to precipitate trouble by taking part in a funeral in which they have no interests. We were all notified to-day that Mr. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had gone over there to see what could be done. Personally I do not think he can have much influence. But we all know him and have confidence in him and whatever he may say will carry weight with it."

Another railroader, a man who has been 25 years in the service, said: "There have been all sorts of yarns flying round to-day, but I take no stock in any of them. The Grand Trunk knows too much to meddle with what don't belong to it and I don't think it will. But see here, if it were foolish enough to go into this thing it would be making a terrible mistaken. We all sympathize with the Buffalo boys and no action of ours shall in any way put them to extra trouble or difficulty. They are railroaders and so are we, and no one knows it better than the Grand Trunk. Fair play is bonny play, and we propose to have bonny play at all costs.

THE CANAL QUESTION.

This and the Subject of the Premier's Health Cause Discussion.

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—The question of the canal tolls continues to be discussed in political circles with about as much vigor as before the Government arrived at its decision in regard to rebates. The majority of the ministers are credited with being of the opinion that the United States will still put in force their retaliatory act, notwithstanding the offer made by the Dominion Government. Should this be done, there may be a fall session of the Dominion Parliament.

The health of Premier Abbott is also exciting considerable apprehension among his colleagues and followers, and it is said that he is very much worse than is generally known.

It is understood that he will take a trip down the St. Lawrence in his yact for the benefit of his health.

CHRYSLER TELLS HIS STORY.

The Man Who Defrauded Sundry School Teachers Brought to Toronto Jail.

Detective Murray arrived in the city last evening with John A. Chrysler, who was convicted before Judge Robb at Simcoe a few days ago on a charge of fraud. Chrysler has turned Queen's evidence, and at the examination of Lawyer E. W. Kelly before the Police Magistrate on Tuesday next will tell what he claims to be the true story of the conspiracy to defraud the school teachers by means of an advertisement inserted in The Globe, offering a big salary to a tutor to travel for two years.

A Street Car Smash.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon as car No. 281 on the belt line was running east in Bloor-street, one of the horses was frightened by a rapidly approaching trolley car, and jumped to the other track, becoming jammed between the cars. The belt line car was badly damaged, the front seat being smashed, while the trolley car was disabled, the front platform being badly damaged. Both cars were brought down town and laid up for repairs. The horse was badly injured, but the passengers escaped.

Building Prospects.

While this year has put the climax on past seasons for dulness in the building trade yet the outlook is much brighter than many anticipated, the future prospects being much better, owing principally to the building interests getting into safer hands, and though within bounds for a time will ultimately prove to be more solid and tend to a healthier growth of the city. His Lordship says that a proper judgment cannot be delivered at this stage, as there can be no immediate stoppage of the sewer system of the East End, and expresses the opinion that by the time of trial the question may be settled.

CLOUDS ON THE HORIZON.

MUTTERINGS OF A STORM HEARD AROUND MR. GLADSTONE.

The Radical Element Highly Displeased at the Evident Slight Put Upon It—The Grand Old Man Has the Majority, But He is By No Means Secure in His Position.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Mr. Gladstone's selection of some minor members of the Radical section for minor posts in the Government has not reduced the tactical mistake made in the exclusion of Radical representatives from the cabinet. Thorough Radicals further declare that there is not a man amongst the whole of the latest appointments who is genuinely attached to progressive opinions, Sidney Buxton, perhaps, excepted. The three new whips, Messrs. Canston, McArthur and Ellis, though nominal Radicals, have never shown that sympathy with democratic movements which is now recognized as the leading inspiration of the left wing of the Liberal party. The fact is now universally recognized that Mr. Gladstone has carefully avoided admitting to office men who are in any wise identified with independent Radicalism.

Pseudo Radicals like Mr. Burt, the miners' delegate, who is a submissive Gladstonite, and Mr. Ellis, who is called a Radical because he is strongly in favor of church disestablishment, were admissible because they have never made a covenant with the progressive evangel, while those tainted with democratic notions, men of the Labouchere stamp have been ignored. The exclusion of Mr. Stansfeld is explained by Gladstonian papers as due to his expressed desire not to hold office, but Mr. Stansfeld himself says that it must have been due to other causes. Mr. Stansfeld was ready to accept office and seemed to expect his former cabinet post, but Mr. Gladstone never communicated with him. Mutterings of the storm that will now assuredly burst from Radical regions are already distinctly heard.

An article in The Star to-night, after attacking the Government for refusing to hold a winter session of Parliament and delaying Radical legislation, concludes: "Let us keep our powder dry, hoping for the best. Londoners cannot disguise from themselves the fact that though they have given Mr. Gladstone one-half of his majority, London is practically without any voice in the Government."

The note which The Star strikes indicates the drift of the Radical opposition. They will refuse to support Mr. Gladstone in subordinating everything to Home Rule, and will take independent action on social reforms.

Another danger menaces the Government in the attitude of the Welsh members, some of whom have given assurance to their constituencies that they will not vote for Home Rule unless a bill to disestablish the church in Wales be introduced concurrently. Mr. Gladstone's plans to meet some of the danger threatening an early overthrow of the Government are already seen in the formation of Cabinet committees. At to-day's Cabinet council during a two hours' sitting, devoted to allotting work and preparing measures embodying part of the Newcastle program, three committees, in addition to the Home Rule Committee, were formed. One committee is charged with labor questions, another is to draft bills for rural reform and local option and the third is charged with a measure of the first importance, the reforming of electoral registration.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—McDonald and Hill, accomplices of Bidwell in the great bank forgeries of 1873, have been released on condition that they leave the country. They have both started for America. Hill is a snowy-haired idiot as a result of his long confinement. McDonald, except that he is aged, looks well. He says the prison system is calculated to make men mad or brutes. He was offered 10 years off his sentence if he would divulge the method of splitting bank notes. He said he refused because he did not know the method. The bank authorities, however, persist in believing he did it.

Although the Moors are accustomed to cruelty, an appeal was made to the Sultan to punish Bubilai, but the Sultan declined to do so on account of the high market value of the eunuch.

THE NUMBER OF THE BEAST

Dr. Beaty Says It Has Been Applied to Hundreds—A Big War Looming in Europe—England Won't Fight.

"Did you see our paragraph about Mr. Gladstone and the 'Number of the Beast'?" said a World reporter to Mr. James Beaty, Q.C., D.C.L., yesterday.

"Yes," smiled Mr. Beaty, with an indulgent air, "yes, I saw it. It is a subject, of course, to which I have paid some attention; in fact, I am at present preparing a book on the subject."

"When will it appear?" asked the newsgatherer.

"Oh, in about a year, it takes a long time to get everything together," said the ex-Mayor.

"But the plan of working out the number of a name is of no use," he went on. "It's been fitted on about 400 names. Napoleon, Luther and many others have been proved by that method to be Anti-Christ. Why, some 25 years ago Richard Baxter, who is the great champion of the school which uses that method, was in town. I proved that his name made up the fatal number. It ran him out of town," said Mr. Beaty, smiling at the reminiscence.

The reporter developed some curiosity as to the methods by which Mr. Beaty interprets the Book of Revelation, and Mr. Beaty gave many interesting examples of the way in which the symbols are translated and their equivalents hunted up. He gave his interpretation of several of the symbols, and finally remarked that he was sure that there soon would be a terrible war between Russia on the one side and Germany and Austria on the other.

"What about England?" asked the scribe.

"She won't fight at all," was the reply.

"Which will win?"

"Germany, most decidedly, but it will be a terrible war."

"Won't France take a hand in it?" asked the reporter.

"Not if she sees Germany winning; were Germany worsted the French might attack her," was Mr. Beaty's final answer, as the reporter took his leave.

A MYSTERIOUS POISONER.

A Government Detective to be Sent to Tilsonburg to Investigate.

The Attorney-General's department have been requested to send a Government detective to Tilsonburg to inquire into a mysterious poisoning case in that town. For the past year some unknown scoundrel has been in the habit of scattering poison on the various streets and hundreds of valuable dogs and domestic animals have had their existence summarily terminated. A Citizens' Committee was formed to act in conjunction with the local police force and large rewards were offered by both the Town Council and by private individuals for the discovery of the culprit, but without the slightest light being thrown on the affair. The poisoner has been more than usually active of late, and as a result the Attorney-General has been appealed to. A detective will be sent to Tilsonburg in a few days.

IN WEDDED BONDS.

Rejoicing Among the Members of the Liederkranz—Honeymoon on the Lake.

At the Lutheran Church on Thursday afternoon Miss Louise Zeidler, only daughter of Mr. Charles Zeidler, was married to Mr. Charles Snider. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. Genzmer. In the evening a grand reception was held at Union Hall. Nearly 300 guests were present and joined in wishing the happy couple much joy. The presents were numerous, among them a handsome silver tea set presented by the Liederkranz Society, of which the bride's father is the president. Refreshments were served by McConkey and dancing was kept up until an early hour.

The bridal couple will spend their honeymoon cruising down the lake in the groom's steam launch.

For 100 Days in the Year.

For those drizzly, dull grey days,

When the temperature is a little too close for ordinary felt hats,

And when straw hats are hardly to be thought of in connection with the weather, a very stylish and becoming thing for the head is found among those lightweight felt hats at Dineen's, corner of King and Yonge-streets. They are properly classed among the summer headwear that is being cleared out at cost just now, although there are fully 100 days out of the 365 through the year when they may be worn with absolute comfort. These lightweight felts are shown in the Tourist, Knockabout and Derby shapes and in different popular shades. They are way up in style and during the clearing sale way down in price. In connection with this it may be worth while remembering that on Saturdays the store, corner King and Yonge-streets, remains open until 10.30 at night.

John N. Kenney's loss to building will approximate $1500, covered by insurance in Perth Mutual and Economical Mutual of Berlin. The losses of the upstairs tenants is trifling as far as can be learned.

A Detective Investigating.

CORNWALL, Aug. 19.—Some time ago the Stormont Cotton Mills at Cornwall were destroyed by fire, and there was ample evidence to show that the blaze was kindled by an incendiary torch. As there had been many other incendiary fires in that locality of late it was decided to request the Attorney-General's Department to send a detective to investigate the facts in connection with the crimes. Detective Greer is at present here with that object in view.

A RECEPTION TO MR. BLAKE.

THE TORONTO NATIONAL LEAGUE TAKE THE INITIATIVE.

Other Societies Invited to Join—Bryan Lynch Makes an Eloquent Speech in Which He Fails to Flatter the Young Liberals For Purloining His Idea—How They Were Sidetracked.

The movement to give Hon. Edward Blake a reception by the Young Liberals on his return from Ireland, initiated by President Yeigh, seems to have taken a good deal of wind out of the sails of the proposition previously launched by the members of the local Irish National League. It was felt that the one would detract from the other. And this was reflected in the small attendance which assembled in Richmond Hall last night at the call of President Bryan Lynch of the league. But every man present went there with one intention—to honor Edward Blake with a reception. The only difference of opinion was as to ways and meams.

President Lynch, on motion of Mr. Patrick Boyle, was appointed chairman and Mr. Hugh McCaffrey secretary.

Mr. Lynch demurred at first about taking the chair. He did not want the opinion to go abroad that it was the National League that was tendering a reception to Mr. Blake. He wanted it to be undertaken by Irishmen, irrespective of society or creed. "There is no one here," he eloquently added, "who has any desire for one political party to have the ascendancy over the other. We are Irishmen who take a patriotic part in honoring Mr. Blake, who has sacrificed so much for the cause he has at heart." The meeting cheered this remark to the echo.

Wants It to Be Cosmopolitan.

Mr. Patrick Boyle held that not only the Irish people, irrespective of creed, but that every man who believes that every country should manage its own affairs, should join hands in giving Mr. Blake a reception. "We should have Englishmen interested in this matter, for Irishmen were not fighting for themselves alone—the people of Ireland, the people of Scotland, the people of England and the people of Wales all want Home Rule. [Cheers.] Therefore, in forming a committee we should invite the co-operation of every freedom-loving man. It must be a source of great pride to every Canadian to see the success which attended Mr. Blake from the moment he touched Irish soil. He used his great powers in throwing oil upon the troubled waters. He wishes to heal the breach instead of widening it and he is entitled to all praise for doing it. Let us then in this country, be we McCarthyites or Parnellites, forget everything else but that we are Irish Nationalists. [Loud cheers.] Already we begin to feel the benefit of the good effect of Mr. Blake's mission. It is better that we should shake hands across the bloody chasm and be what we never ceased to be—warm and attached friends to the Irish cause.

A Committee Named.

Mr. M. J. Ryan wanted the meeting to get down to work and moved the appointment of this committee with power to add to its number:

Hon. Frank Smith, W. Ryan, Ald. Burns, Eugene O'Keefe, Hon. Timothy Anglin, Hon. C. F. Fraser, J. D. O'Donohue, Rev. Vicar-General Rooney, Rev. Father Minehan, C. Cashman, Dr. O'Sullivan, Nicholas Murphy, Alf. Jury, N. Hanston, Rev. John Burton, D. M. Defoe, Rev. Father Brennan, Rev. Father Eagan, Rev. J. J. McCann, Rev. Father O'Reilly, L. J. Cosgrave, J. J. Cosgrave, Bryan Lynch, J. L. Lee, Patrick Boyle, H. McCaffrey, E. Herman, D. A. Carey, S. Curran, P. Kennedy, Charles Burns, Dr. Burns of Hamilton, J. Lalor of Hamilton, Father Hand of Oshawa, Rev. Father Flannery of St. Thomas, T. R. Balchford, C. J. Murphy of Ottawa, Dean Harris of St. Catharines, J. J. Clancy (M.L.A.), James Conmee (M.L.A.), J. F. Coffee of Guelph, J. McMullen, M.P. of Mount Forest, M. Teefy, Richmond Hill, T. Mulcahey of Orillia, H. P. O'Connor (M.L.A.), Dr. Slavin of Orillia, Ald. Cahill of Peterboro, ex-Ald. O'Brien of Hamilton, Morris Halley, J. J. Landy of Arthur, Dr. Dewart, J. J. Foy of Toronto.

Must Go to Murray Bay First.

The chairman said they would have plenty of time to make arrangements, and produced this telegram received from Mr. Blake's son at Murray Bay, in reply to one from Mr. Lynch, asking when his father might be expected here:

Sailed yesterday on Parisian. Come straight here on arrival. Know nothing further.

Mr. D. A. Carey believed that they should honor Mr. Blake because he had shown the people of Ireland that Canada sympathized with them.

Charles Burns, J.P.: "I am in sympathy with the movement and am doing what I can to make it a success. Mr. Blake has made great sacrifices, and what he has done will do much to bring about Home Rule. We are satisfied with what we get here and ask no more for Ireland." He moved this resolution:

In the opinion of this meeting it would be advisable to give Mr. Blake a reception on his arrival worthy of the man and of the occasion.

Not in Dominick's Secrets.

Mr. Aylwood: "Mr. Chairman, have you ascertained whether Mr. Blake will accept a reception from us?"

The Chairman: "I am not so far into Mr. Blake's secrets as that."

Mr. Fred Harrington: "The fact that Mr. Blake accepted a reception from the Irish Nationalists of Ireland in Liverpool is evidence enough that he will accept one from Toronto Irishmen."

Mr. Burns' resolution was embodied in that of Mr. Ryan's, and carried unanimously.

"Is There Anything in It?" Asked Mr. Ryan.

Mr. M. J. Ryan wanted to know if there would be any money for the League in the reception. He was opposed to a banquet, for it would allow few but the rich to attend.

Mr. Patrick Boyle suggested a reception in the Pavilion and the presentation of an illuminated address, the cost to be raised by subscription. "To make money out of the undertaking would be wrong and to mention it derogatory," he said. "Everyone should have the privilege of hearing Mr. Blake. Then Mr. Blake does not like notoriety and of all things a banquet."

"Will the proposed banquet by the Young Liberals interfere with our plans?" came from a man in the back of the hall.

"I think," rejoined Mr. Fred Harrington, "that Mr. Blake is an Irishman first and a Liberal next, and I think it a piece of impertinence on Mr. Frank Yeigh's part to do what he has without first consulting the Irish Nationalists of Toronto." [Loud applause.]

How the Young Liberals Were Sidetracked.

Chairman Lynch: "There is nothing original about Mr. Yeigh. [Laughter.] He is like the loyal minority in Ireland, who having seen the brilliant stroke of policy made by the McCarthyites in inviting Mr. Blake, have now invited that political weathercock, D Alton McCarthy, to come over and help them. [Renewed laughter]. Anyhow, Mr. Yeigh's cable will not reach Mr. Blake, for instead of sending it to Londonderry he sent it to Queenstown."

The committee of management was convened at the close of the meeting, when these officers were appointed:

Bryan Lynch—Chairman.
J. L. Lee—Secretary.
Hugh McCaffrey—Assistant-Secretary.
Patrick Boyle—Treasurer.

The secretary was instructed to write Mr. Blake's family at Murray Bay asking to be informed as soon as possible when he would be in Toronto.

The next meeting of the committee will be at the call of the chairman.

CITY NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Points in the Life of the Queen City Gathered by The World's Young Men.

"There is one Canadian colony that declines to take United States money at par," said Mr. J. C. Pankhurst, who has just returned from St. John's. "Newfoundlanders will not accept any currency or bills other than their own except at a discount. Paper money is subject to 3 per cent. discount, quarters are only worth 23c, 10c pieces 9c and 5c pieces 4c."

Stakes His Reputation on His Innocence.

"I stake my professional reputation that there is not one tittle of evidence on any of the points necessary to make out the charge against my client," is the emphatic way in which Mr. Clute, Q.C., spoke of the case against Col. Ray of Port Arthur. The officials of Port Arthur are anything but a happy family, charges and counter-charges having been made against each other, and District Attorney Lewis is to be cited for having endeavored to persecute instead of prosecuting Col. Ray by persistently objecting to bail being granted. He is charged with having stated that improper influence was used on the magistrates to procure Col. Ray's discharge at the preliminary examination."

C.P.R. Freight Train Wrecked.

News reached the city yesterday of a serious accident on the North Shore section of the C.P.R. at a point a few miles east of Chapleau. A freight running at a good rate of speed dashed into a herd of cattle. One cow was run over and threw the engine and eight freight cars from the track. The fireman, a former resident of Toronto, was instantly killed, his neck and all his limbs being broken. The engineer was badly injured and one brakeman slightly hurt.

Another August Wedding.

The residence of Mr. W. G. Edmonds, 372 Parliament-street, was the scene of a quiet home wedding Thursday evening. The contracting parties were Mr. George Nicholson, bookkeeper at M. and L. Samuel, Benjamin & Co., and Miss M. A. W. (Polly), youngest daughter of the host. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. N. Rutledge. Mr. R. H. Easson supported the groom and Miss Ina Harvey was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson will spend the honeymoon in the Eastern Provinces.

The New Master in Chambers.

The office of master in chambers at Osgoode Hall has been filled by the appointment of Mr. John Winchester. The appointment makes vacant the position of inspector of legal offices for the province.

Rejoining the Standard.

Ensign Etta Mitchell and Captain H. S. Stephens, two of the officers of the Salvation Army who signed the proclamation upholding Brigadier Philpott in his action in withdrawing from the Salvation Army, write to The World to the effect that since then they have heard the explanation of Commandant Booth and it was proved to their minds that the Commandant has acted justly and righteously.

The officers who have resigned have leased the church on the corner of Denison-avenue and Queen-street, and will hold services there every Sunday at 11 a.m., 3 and 7 p.m.

The Annexation Question.

Miss Lillian King, 228 Church-street, accompanied by her brother and Mrs. S. Britton, started at 2 o'clock yesterday on a journey that will last her the remainder of her life. She left by the steamer Cibola for Boston, Mass., where at noon to-day she will be married to Mr. Bert Anderson, a gentleman well known to the Toronto press. Mr. Anderson at present is secretary of The Boston Post, and while here became enamored of this Canadian girl. So far as they are concerned the annexation question will be satisfactorily settled, and newspaper circles in Boston will have added to them a Canadian, whose spirit and accomplishments must give the Bostonians a better idea of what Canadian maidens are than all the magazine articles that could be written.

A Deserted Bridegroom.

William Ferns, a blacksmith at Vanatter, near Orangeville, came to Toronto six weeks ago and married a Queen City widow named Mrs. Greggs. They returned to Vanatter and started housekeeping, but their domestic bliss was short-lived. The other day Mrs. Ferns and her two incumbrances by a former husband packed up and deserted the bridegroom. She is now in Toronto and Ferns would like to get her address.

Entertaining Your Visitors.

The season for visitors will be in full swing for some six weeks yet and it is interesting to note that the Belt Line Railway is being very generally adopted as a means of showing outsiders the beauties of Toronto and its environment. It is probable, moreover, that there are many Torontonians who have not seen the delightful Don Valley with its hills and winding waters and myriad trees, nor the beautiful meadows and fruitful harvest fields that lie to the northwest of the city. The man who takes a trip and feels the breeze that blows over the fruit-laden orchards of August will not find his money ill-spent. Tickets from P. J. Slatter, corner of King and Yonge-streets. 46

Startling Incidents.

It is safe to say that there was more talk in Toronto this week about the bargains at quinn's great retiring sale than there was about the snow-capped peaks seen on the planet Mars. Some of the plums are startling. Polka dot crepe shirts with starched collars and cuffs, all sizes, fifty cents each.

The seven per cent. guaranteed Income Bond of the North American Life Assurance Company is referred to as follows in the report of the Consulting Actuary: "The seven per cent. This admirable plan, combined as it is with insurance, should prove acceptable to large numbers desirous of having a guaranteed income upon attaining a certain age." 246

NOT IN FAVOR OF THE U. S.

ENGLAND DECLINES TO ALTER HER MONETARY SYSTEM.

The International Conference Will Be Held, But the British Representatives Will Be Instructed to Decline to Discuss a Silver Standard, Except to Fix a Ratio in India.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Associated Press has high authority to state that the new Government will not interfere with the completed arrangements for the International Monetary Conference. No powers were vested in the delegates appointed by the Conservative Government to assent to anything that might be proposed at the conference without prior consultation with the treasury. The instructions given the delegates are exactly similar to those given the British delegates to the Paris conference in 1881.

They are charged to decline to discuss any proposals entailing an alteration of the monetary system of England, but they are authorized to consider proposals whereby India might join an influential league of states for fixing the ratio of silver. In official circles here the question is asked whether these instructions are likely to lead to any such practical results as will induce the United States Government to proceed with the conference.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, does not interest himself in the matter, and if the Washington authorities want to enlarge the basis open to the British delegates for discussion they ought to try to influence Mr. Gladstone, who has an open mind on the subject somewhat modified by views formed since 1881.

THEIR ONLY GRIEVANCE.

Railway Discrimination the Millers' Only Trouble—What An Officer Says.

"We millers are being pretty tightly squeezed in one particular," a miller was heard to remark at the Board of Trade yesterday, "and if we could get the cause removed we would be happy."

"What is the one thing tightly squeezing you?" interposed The World.

"Oh, the same old trouble of discrimination by the railways against flour in favor of grain!" he replied. "And, I'll tell you what it is, this discrimination business is doing more harm to the country than people imagine. It is not the milling trade alone that is affected, by any means. Look, for instance, at the way in which the Canadian export cattle trade is affected by the same thing. And notwithstanding this crying shame The World is the only daily newspaper to take up the cudgels in the interests of the trade and commerce of the country."

A FORGER EXTRADITED.

Goldschmidt Handed Over to the American Authorities.

MONTREAL, Aug. 19.—Carl Goldschmidt, the Brooklyn-New York forger, who was arrested by the Canadian Secret Service officers at the demand of the United States Secretary of State, will leave here for New York to-night in charge of a Deputy United States Marshal. Word was received yesterday by Mr. C. Doucet, deputy clerk of the crown, from Quebec that the Dominion Government had decided to surrender him at once. This is the first case where the United States Government has had a prisoner arrested in Canada by Canadian officers, and afterwards were represented at the extradition proceedings by the United States Consul General here. Before this the different state officers have always handled their own cases with the assistance of local consuls.

A Lesson For Fathers.

Mr. Bland lives in a street parallel with and near to Church-street. He has a young son. The advent of the trolley car has been a source of wonderment, of curiosity to the young son; a source of fear, of dread to the father, who had been watching small boys playing on the track putting pins on the rails and getting in the way of the swift-coming car. So when he went home Thursday the father and the young son held converse:

John!
Yes, father.
Do you hear the gong of the trolley car, John?
Yes, father.
Shall we go and see it, young son?
Oh, yes, father!
I shall take this with me, my son.
What is that, father?
Only a strap, my son.

So the father led the young son over to Church street, and soon the gonging, rushing trolley came in view. The conversation resumed just as the car went flying by:

That's the trolley car, my son.
Yes, father.
And this is the strap that you saw me take from the house, my son.

And the father gave the young son a sound strapping right on the street, and wound up by saying:

Remember that's the trolley car, my son.

Then they went home. On Friday the father came in as on the day preceding and met his young son.

John!
Yes, father.
What is that I hear gonging, my son?
It is the trolley car, father.
Shall we go and see it, my son?
Oh, no, father, it is dangerous for your young son!
It will not, then, be necessary to strap you again, my son, to impress that upon you?
It will not, my father.

And the Young Son keeps the Trolley Car at most Respectful Distance.
