REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TENDERS AND PUBLIC PROPERTY

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis:—

Your Committee on Tenders and Public Property beg leave to submit the following report for year ending Dec. 31st, 1911.

Another year has passed quietly and successfully at the County Institutions. Mr. and Mrs. Hiltz and Mr. and Mrs. Myers are still in charge of the County Hospital and County Home respectively. They have as usual performed their duties faithfully and well and appear to rather improve as time goes by. There is still a debt on the Recreation Hall, although the Municipality is not responsible for this, the building is for the use of the inmates of the Institutions and a most excellent thing, a donation would be toward a good object.

Mr. Myers has been making preparations for a new barn. He has an excellent cellar built with the sills and first floor on. The only expenditure for labor so far is for a mason seven days superintending laying the wall.

The current expenses of the Institutions were as follows:—

COUNTY HOSPITAL

To supplies, wages, etc.	$4945.32
By 2713 weeks board @ $1.81	$4945.32

COUNTY HOME

To supplies, wages, etc.	$3771.25
By 2625 weeks board @ $1.40	$3771.25

We have on hand about wood enough for next year which has been paid for during present year, and has made this present year's expense much higher, but will reduce the cost for next year.

QUALITY CHARITIES.

Ugly Women Provided for by German Bachelor.

A well-known bachelor who died the other day at Frankfurt, Germany, left an endowment for an annual prize of $125 to the man who leads the ugliest woman to the altar. If the bride is lame as well as unprepossessing, the groom will receive an additional sum of $25.

This reminds us that the town of Haselmann, in Germany, has a system of rewarding lovers who marry girls who have little or no personal attractions. A well-known financier left a sum of money to the town authorities to provide dowries for the plainest woman under thirty married in Haselmann every year. A cripple and four women under forty who had been fitted several times.

Grivette, a town in the Ardennes, was left some money a long time ago, and to-day it encourages matrimony by awarding money prizes to mothers who send the largest number of children to the schools.

It may not be generally known that the church wardens of Yattendene receive every two years, from the mayor and burgesses of Reading, the sum of eight shillings under James Pocock's charity. It appears that Pocock by his will, dated Sept. 26, 1610, gave to the mayor and corporation of Reading the sum of $125, on condition that they should buy land with the money. "The rents thereof," so runs the will, "to be employed to provide eight shirts and eight smocks, of two shillings apiece each, or above, and bestow five shirts and five smocks to ten of the poorest people in the town of Reading, and the remainder, one year to six of the poorest people of the parish of Frilsham, Berks. . . and the other year to six of the poorest people of the parish of Yattendene." James Pocock also directed that the mayor should have sixpence and the churchwardens fourpence for their trouble in purchasing and distributing the shirts and smocks.

A singular ceremony was observed at Guildford a month or so ago, when several maid servants competed for the "Maid's Money" which was left by John How in 1674. According to custom the entrants had to
