NOT LOST.

The look of sympathy, the gentle word ;
Spoken so low that angels only heard ;
The secret art of pure self-sacrifice,
Unseen by men, but marked by angel's eyes,

These are not lost.

The sacred music of a tender strain, Wrung from a poet's heart by grief and pain,
And chanted timidly with doubt and fear
To busy crowds, who scarcely stop to hear,
These are not lost.

The silent tears that fall at dead of night,
Over soiled robes that once were pure and
white,
The prayers that rise like incense from the soul
Longing for Christ to make it clean and
white,

These are not lost.

The happy dreams that gladdened all our youth,
When dreams had less of self and more of truth,
The childhood's faith, so tranquil and so sweet,
Which sat, like Mary, at the Master's feet—
These are not lost.

The kindly plans devised for others' good,
So seldom guessed, so little understood ;
The quiet, steadfast love that strove to win,
Some long-lost wanderer from the ways of sin—

These are not lost.

Not lost, O, Lord ; for in Thy city bright,
Our eyes shall see the past with clearer light,
And things long hidden from our gaze below Thou wilt reveal and we shall surely know

These are not lost.

THE GREATEST BLESSING.—"A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved by it. Will you try it? See other column.

ANGER.—In contentions be always passive, never active on the defensive, not the assaulting party; and then, also, give a gentle answer, receiving the furies and indiscretions of the other like a stone into a bed of moss and soft compliance; and you shall find it sit down quietly, whereas anger and violence make the contention loud and long, and injurious to both parties.

A GOOD ACCOUNT.—"To sum it up six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering costing $200 per year, total, $1,200—all of which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."

A California justice, in a moment of anger, said that the lawyers in a case on trial before him, were no better than horse thieves. Then he apologized and fined himself $10 for contempt of court.
