GOLDEN INFORMATION !- Awhile ago, anid Mrs. D. A. A. Jordan, 51 Lincoln atreet. Worcester, Mass., one of my friends from the South spoke to me very highly of St. Jacobs Oil. I resolved to try it on my patients, and I must confess that I was surprised at the results. It has never failed to cure all that it claims to, and I prescribed it willingly and confidently to those of my patients who suffer with rheumatism, sprains, and all bodily pains. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and I can highly recommend

It removes and cures damiruf and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or the glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brasky, weak, or sickly hair, on which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its operation, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it impairs. It contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous esh and vigorous For sale by all dealers.

Dear Sij.—Early in October last I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. After having a bad cough for about six weeks, I had a very severe attack of bleeding from the lungs, while on a passage from Queenstown to Daver. I had daily spells of bleeding for some days, until I lost about two gallons of blood, and was so weak as to be scarcely able to stand. I but back to Queenstown, where I received such medical assistance as embled me to get home.

I saw an advertisement of your Phosphorized Cod Liver Oil Emulsion in a paper. I immediately sent and got half a dozen bottles, after taking which I feel myself a well man again. My weight, which was reduced to say pounds, is now up to my sural standard of 152 pounds. Seeing what it has done for me, I can confidently recommend at to others afflicted with lung diseases.

BOOK NOTICES, REVIEWS, &c.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST, by S. Bonaventure. Translated and edited by the Rev. W. H. Hutchings, M. A., Sub-Warden of the House of Mercy, Clewer, E. & J. B. Young & Co., Cooper Union, New York.

We have here a Life of Christ different in a great many respects from the modern works on the same subject. A 13th century writer could scarcely be expected to be in harmony with the new order of things in thought and speech. And so it will appear to the reader, for he will find, as the editor has pointed out in his preface, a great deal in the book which may seem almost superstitious, views which may be thought more Roman than Anglican, and some fancies not for a moment to be seriously entertained. Still, after having recognized all this, we have in this "Life of Christ" much that is of very great value, and much that will amply repay the devout reader for his pains,

To quote from the preface : "S. Bonaventure in his 'Life of Christ' endeavours throughout to fix the gaze on the Divine Object. He is continually pointing to the Face of our Lord, and ever bidding us 'contemplate Him.' He avoids the mistake of enlarging upon the surroundings to the detriment of the central Figure. Beauty of scenery, historic association, local custom, are all of value if they lead the attention up to, and do not tend to draw it away from, the Life itself. S. Bonaventure is content to set before us the Acts and Sufferings of Christ. Each chapter is a 'picturing' of Him; each a sort of idyll rather than a commentary. He constantly reminds us that we must be present in spirit and watch the scene 'as it took place before our own eyes.10

The book cannot supplant its modern rivals, but it will prove very acceptable to many devont hearts who will read and treasure and be comforted and instructed by its words, which reveal so much of what is lovely in the Life of our lilessed Lord. The translator and editor has done his work faithfully and well; and the New York publishers are to be congratulated on the fine appearance of the volume.

THE HOMILETIC MONTHLY (the "Homiletic Quarterly"), January, 1882. Kegan, Paul, Trench & Co., London; Anson D. F. Randolph & Co., 900 Broadway, New York. Price 1,0 a number; probably $1.50 a year.

This is by far the best magazine of the kind published. If the clergy can only afford to subscribe for one magazine this is the one we should recommend to them. With this and the "Church Quarterly Review," they would neither want for sermon thoughts nor for information on the important subjects connected with Christianity and the Church.

FEES OF DOCTORS.

The fee of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

When Bronchitis take the chronic form the attending symptoms become greatly aggravated, and are associated with many of the very worst symptoms of Phthisis, viz, excessive cough, free expectoration, rapid pulse, night sweats, etc, and finally great debility and emaciation in this stage the diagnosis between this and Tubercular Consumption is sometime very difficult; and it is in this case that Cod Liver Oil, when the sufferers can retain it, is of special advantage; and PUTTNER'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL can always be bastly retained. In such a case it is invaluable. Under its use we find the cough cease, expectoration diminish, the pulse regain its regularity and force, night sweats cease, physical strength return, and the emaciation give place to renewed flesh. As this state of things may be a sequence of cold which has been neglected, it Behoves everyone to be particularly careful of himself while laboring under a cold, no matter how slight it may apparently be. The main thing is to check the disease at its very inception, and the best means by which to attain this end is the carly use of PUTINER'S EMULSION.
