Forbes-Robertson Has Played His Last Before a Toronto Audience.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

Actor-Knight Speaks Kind Words of Queen City Theatre Devotees.

Ladies and gentlemen—The time has come for me to say farewell to Toronto...

During the evening they had seen him in the dramatic role of his best plays...

There has been much said about Forbes-Robertson's voice...

Toronto, he continued, the public had been most cordial and had seemed to appreciate that he was endeavoring to do his very best.

For eleven years he had been counting on the day when he would be able to say farewell to Toronto...

He was leaving the stage, he continued, better than it had ever been.

He was leaving the stage, he continued, better than it had ever been.

He was leaving the stage, he continued, better than it had ever been.

was made about it in certain quarters, local playgoers who saw the play in New York State say there is nothing whatever objectionable in it.

"Kathleen ni Houlihan" is a one-act play by W. B. Yeats that serves as a curtain raiser. The same two plays will be repeated Wednesday, matinee and Thursday evening Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings, the bills will be "The Rising of the Moon," by William Doyle, and "The Sheaving Up of Blanco Posne," by G. Bernard Shaw, Wednesday night and Saturday matinee, "Patriotic," by Lennox Robinson, and "Spreading the News," by Lady Gregory, will be given.

Royal Alexandra In "The Bird of Paradise" this week's attraction at the Alexandra, symbolizing the psychology of the hand in hand.

Richard Walton Tully, the author, has woven out of pure sunshine and the laughter of the latitude where life is one never ending dream, a wonderful play, which at times rises to tragedy.

The tropical loveliness of this land which so few Americans have seen, either on the stage or in reality, is expressed in scenic settings of great beauty.

The character of Leiana, the little Hawaiian princess, who loves a white man, marries, and is finally cast off by him, is played by Miss Lenore Ulrich, a young lady who, although only in her nineteenth year, has made rapid strides in her profession.

Richard Walton Tully is now finishing a new play, she will be supported by the original cast from Los Angeles, where the play was first produced. Among the members of the comedienne company of the play, which has met with such universal success, should be mentioned the names of the comedienne company of the play, which has met with such universal success.

While these exchanges were going on by cable between Washington and Mexico City the navy department was centering its attention on further preparations for its eventual departure.

At 10:30 o'clock, shortly after Huerta's dietary message had been received, orders were sent to the battleship Mississippi, with an aeroplane corps and six hundred marines from the torpedo flotilla at Pensacola, Fla., to get under way at once, joining Admiral Badger's fleet as it entered the Gulf of Mexico, and proceeding with the fleet to Tampico.

The torpedo flotilla consists of 22 destroyers, the tender Dixie and the scout cruiser strovers are in reserve, so it is probable only 14 will sail.

have—and this one is its realistic English divorce court scene that holds the auditor intensely absorbed in the grueling of a poor frail butterfly of wife by pitiless prosecuting attorney to her final undoing.

Its direct dialog is of the gripping kind and holds one spellbound by the cunningly devised deductions on the thoughtless actions of the butterfly and transforms them into convincing accusations of guilt.

During the week the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

Kid Kabaret at Shea's GUS EDWARDS is notable for the development of clever youngsters.

More youthful prodigies have developed into scintillating stellar lights thru the medium of his excellent vaudeville acts than from any other course.

One of his newest, which appears at Shea's Theatre this week, and in many respects one of the most pretentious on this week's bill, is "Kid Kabaret." The company of twenty youngsters, with Eddie Cantor and Geo. Jessel at their head, present a musical melange which has as its inception the present cabaret vogue.

The principals are exceedingly talented, sing in a decidedly entertaining manner. Their efforts as comedians are decidedly worth while.

The special attraction on this week's bill are Charlie Ahearn's Big Cycling Company, "Riding for Fun on Funny Wheels," Mae Melville and Robert Higgins, in "Putting on Airs," and Lyons and Yocco, the harpist and the singer.

Other well-known acts to be seen are Mary Dow, Albert Perry and Company, Reyno's Dogs, Miller and Lyle, and the Kinetograph.

Williams and company in a new sketch, called "On Stony Ground," is another big feature while others on the bill are Klein Brothers, German comedians; Herbert and Denis, acrobats; and Paul Stephens, a one-legged acrobat.

James Kelso and Blanche Leighton will offer a comedy and song sketch, called "Original Oddities." The photo play feature will be "Seven Days," that funny farce which made such a hit on the legitimate stage.

LENORE ULRICH AT THE ALEXANDRA

Shea's New Hippodrome TORONTO'S family amusement resort Shea's Hippodrome will have its grand opening next Monday.

Continuous entertainments will be introduced giving three shows daily, beginning at 12 o'clock noon and running to 11 p.m.

Manager Shea will present the leading photo plays, together with the novelty of the age, the Invisible Symphony Orchestra, and a splendid bill of vaudeville.

The Folies of Pleasure AT THE STAR this week "The Folies of Pleasure," with that irresistible little Irishman, Dan Coleman, needs no introduction.

Its name alone is a sure cure for the boredom of the premier production of the Progressive circuit.

In conjunction with the regular show, the well-known Paragon Score Board will show the games Toronto plays away from home, commencing Tuesday matinee, with the Toronto-Providence game.

At the Gayety ONE of the principal features with "The Roseland Girls," which is at the Gayety Theatre this week, is the wonderful work of a sprightly chorus of all good-looking girls.

The show is headed by Eddie Swartz, Solie Ward and Lilian Fitzgerald, will be at the Gayety Theatre for the week, giving special ladies' matinee daily.

Loew's Winter Garden THE "Six Diving Nymphs," one of the greatest water acts ever produced on any stage, will be the feature act of a great bill at Loew's this week.

This is a very large tank, and their swimming and diving stunts have created a sensation wherever they have appeared.

BUSY TIME AHEAD OF CITY COUNCIL

Remainder of Estimates Will Be Discussed as Well as Controllers' Report.

NEW FILTRATION PLANT

Council Will Also Have to Deal With North Toronto Drainage Plans.

The city council will worry thru a double bill of fare today. At two o'clock the remainder of the estimates will be tackled, and at some other time before midnight the routine business will be attacked.

There are 17 motions on the order paper, but all will probably go over to next meeting, as the report of the board of control is voluminous, and must be disposed of. The most important items in the report are as follows:

Filtration plant—The tender approved for another filtration plant at the island provides for the mechanical system, at a cost of $1,177,054. This plant will double the filtration capacity at the Island.

North Toronto drainage—This combined sanitary and storm flow system will cost $4,144,286. Department heads recommend that payment for the work extend over 10 years, but the works committee recommend a term of 30 years.

Annexations—Taking in the territory bounded on the east, south and west by the city limits, and on the north by a direct extension of Burton street. The property in that territory is to bear all cost of local improvements.

Annexation of the territory between the city limits and the Hamber valley now awaits acceptance by the Ontario municipal board of the necessary petition.

Firemen's benefit fund—An additional annual grant of $4,000 for 23 years is again recommended, the grant being necessary before reorganization of the fire department may commence.

Purchase of supplies—The standing committees recommend authority be given to heads of departments to pay cash for supplies when prices are favorable, and discounts may be saved. The board of control recommend that the matter be referred to the special committee that is to revise the manual.

Among the motions on the order paper are one by Ald. Ryding that the railway tracks northwesterly from Parkdale be depressed at street crossings, at grade; another by Ald. Cameron to place lights on all vehicles on the streets; another by Ald. Wankless to give access to the Island the year around, and another by Ald. Wickett to draft a charter for Toronto.

FALLING TIMBER KILLED FOREMAN

Accident Occurred During Tearing Down of Trestle on N. T. R. Line.

Canadian Press Dispatch. NORTH BAY, April 19.—Jose Sunstrum was almost instantly killed Saturday morning at English River on the National Transcontinental Railway west of Cochrane, by being struck on the head by a falling timber. He was foreman of the bridge crew engaged in tearing down a temporary trestle which had been replaced by permanent structure when the accident happened. A large timber was dislodged, and, in falling, struck a projection and glanced in the direction of Mr. Sunstrum, who saw his danger but could not get clear in time, the heavy timber striking and crushing his skull, death resulting immediately. He was a resident of Mattawa, where he was well known and highly respected, and leaves a widow and three children. The body was brought to Mattawa this evening.

WASHINGTON IN ANXIOUS MOOD

reply, although the officials quickly perceived that it was not clearly responsive and definite as to the demands made by this government, but raised a new issue as to the U. S. agreeing in writing to return the Huerta salute.

Mr. Bryan summarized the Huerta reply in a telegram to the president at White Sulphur Springs, and soon thereafter held long distance conference with the president, going over the points Huerta had raised. While the reply was considered favorable in its general purport as to saluting the American flag, yet it again parlayed over details and conditions. As a result of the long distance talk, Mr. Bryan despatched a further message to Mexico City, making it plain that President Wilson would listen to no further proposals or suggestions, but must have unequivocal acceptance of the American demand at the time stated, 6 o'clock tonight.

Sent Torpedo Flotilla. While these exchanges were going on by cable between Washington and Mexico City the navy department was centering its attention on further preparations for its eventual departure.

At 10:30 o'clock, shortly after Huerta's dietary message had been received, orders were sent to the battleship Mississippi, with an aeroplane corps and six hundred marines from the torpedo flotilla at Pensacola, Fla., to get under way at once, joining Admiral Badger's fleet as it entered the Gulf of Mexico, and proceeding with the fleet to Tampico.

The torpedo flotilla consists of 22 destroyers, the tender Dixie and the scout cruiser strovers are in reserve, so it is probable only 14 will sail.

Huerta's Wily Move. Secretary Bryan had planned to go to church at 11 o'clock, but as the cable messages began to come in he changed his plans and went to the state department. There he was joined by Governor Lind, the president's personal representative in Mexico, and the two went together to the private telegraph office of the state department to consult over a difficult piece of deciphering in the latest message from Huerta.

The secretary and Governor Lind joined Secretary Tumulty at the White House, and the latest exchanges were further gone over in detail.

Later it became known that the messages showed that Huerta was not raising objection to the salute itself, but as to the details under which the salute would be returned. The main condition was that the United States agreed in writing that the salute be direct, instead of relying on the assurance given by Admiral Mayo for a return salute. This was construed by officials as a wily and adroit move on Huerta's part to obtain an assurance direct from the American government, which would be capable of being construed by him as a recognition of the de facto Mexican government.

BATTLESHIPS OFF KEY WEST. KEY WEST, Fla., April 19.—The main division of the Atlantic fleet of the United States navy bound for Tampico, in connection with the American demand of a salute from the Huerta government to the United States flag, passed here at 6 o'clock this morning.

WOODSTOCK GETS HYDRO POWER FROM LONDON Transformer at Power House Burned Out—Consumers Not Inconvenienced

WOODSTOCK, April 19.—One of the big transformers at the Hydro power-house burned out and Woodstock will have to rely on London for a supply of juice for a few days at least.

London is supplying the city with thirteen thousand volts, and will continue to do so until the transformer is repaired. The consumers here have suffered no inconvenience over the incident.

BOTTLE OF KETCHUP ENDED BURGLARY

Druggist Heard Man Filing at Bars, Then "Goodbye George."

special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, April 18.—A bottle of tomato ketchup stopped a burglary today at No. 798 Eighth avenue, at the rear of William Rabbe's rug store.

Three men were on the job. Two of them were watching while the third worked at the window bars. Rabbe was aroused by the noise of filing on steel at 4 a.m. He had no pistol, so he peeked cautiously out of his upstairs window and got the lay of the land before doing anything offensive.

The only thing at hand was a quart bottle of ketchup.

Taking good aim, he let drive, and it struck squarely on the top of the head of the man at the window. The man tumbled to the bottom of the doorway and his two companions deserted him.

Rabbe ran to the front window and gave the alarm. Policeman Hushion found in the arway a semi-conscious man apparently covered with blood. It man coughed in his eyes, ears and hair and had dyed his shirt and smeared his clothing. He was moaning, "Good-bye, George."

The prisoner said he was Frank Callahan, twenty-two, an electrician of No. 421 West fifty-seventh street. The drug store window bars had been bent. The police praised Rabbe for his aim.
