The the Isiture of The Catholio Register.

Sin.—The wast importance to your aders, more particularly to the Manibab minority, as well as to the people of the Dominion generally, of the disease of the Jones of the

You. Mr. Editor, suggest some more delay before a decided stand relative to the two sides now in broad rolie before the people of this country. Often delays are dangerous. The Catholics of the poople of this country. Often delays are dangerous. The Catholics of the Dominion have been delaying now for about five years to have Mr. Laurier's views on the subject in practical form, and their hopes in that direction have been, to say the least, disappointed. Trac, he does not declare himself as opposed to remedial tegislation, but I think I am in the judgment of the people of this country when I say that he acts and refrains from action as if opposed to such legislation. Deeds speak louder than words, and action is what the people was an advantage of the season of the latest of th tions duty, free from bias, invo caffection.

For the benefit of your readers, including Mr. O. K. Fraser, I beg to quote the following from Le Manitoba of the 15th inst, the organ of the minority, who are supposed to be more immediately interested, and whose views are, therefore, entitled to the greatest consideration:

sherefore, entitled to the greatest consideration:

"We repeat it to all Catholies, and in particular to the French-Canadia of Question of the constitution, of the strength of the strength of the constitution, of our race and our fast, and the strength of the constitution, of our race and our fast, of the constitution, of our race and our fast, of the constitution of our race and our fast, of the constitution of the law, the constitution of the law. Here are sight that and a same any consecutive nights that they and the same of justice triumph. No one could our peet their good faith after a trial so long."

Therefore these not teasured on warry

To the Editor of the Cabrobe Register.

Sint—You do me an injustice, in your issue of the 30th uit. under the above heading, by imputing to me a desire "to have a ling at the Irish."

The object of my article in The Wock to which your forer, was to point out some of the defects of our costiy culcuational system in Ontario: and, in particular, the fact that our system tomis to lower rather than to raise the intellectual condition of the community. You will not dony that the most of the food which a nation community is an important indox of the physical well-boing of its inhabitants; or that the internative which the case is a fine measure of their intellectual status. We surely permissible to illustrate my contention.

I selected the first instance that occontention. I selected the first instance that occurred to me. and never imagined that any Irishman could take offence at it. I might just as well have struck out "Irish" and "potatoes" and have substituted "Chinese" and "rice." Do you maintain that a dict composed occusively of either potatoes or rice is celeulated to produce the best physical results?

calculated to produce the best pnysical results?

If not, we agree, and I am ready to admit (whiat I have never denied) that Ireland has always produced men of the highest ability in overy walk of life. I am neither an Irishman nor a Roman Catholic, but I have done what little I could, both in the press (see Mail and Empire of April 11th) and otherwise to advocate the rights of your fellow-countrymen and fellow-Catholics of Manitoba.

It Keens Whereof It Speaks.

The Provincial Provident Institution, well known as the largest Canadian assessment-promium life insurance company, is progressing at the rate that more than bears out the expectation of the few Companies that wrote more business in 1835 than in the previous year. Beginning the current year which eight thousand members insured to the amount of $130,000,000, with ample reserve and emergency accumulations, and a record of over $6000,000 in death calms paid, this company's management instituted a vigorous campaignthat has already netted handsome returns. Branch offices have been opened in the cities of Hamilton and London, in the Province of Ontario, and in the City of Winnipeg, Province of Manitoba. The with this office, and the amount of new business being written each month is on the increase, with prospects bright for a very much larger amount of new business white this year than in 1895. There are now only five Canadian in surance companies larger than The 2.P.I. It is a gratifying and significant fact that recently many agents of legal-reserve companies have made contracts with the enterprising office.—The Guardian, (Boston).
