Noveleta, Island of Luzon, Oct. 8.—Gen. Schwan's column, consisting of the 13th Infantry, a battalion of the 14th, two troops of cavalry, Capt. Kelly's Battery of the 5th Artillery, and Lowe's scouts, advanced from Baguio this morning.

occupied Cavite Viejo and Noveleta. The American loss was three officers and nine privates wounded, one of the officers being mortally hurt. The loss of the enemy is unknown, but the bodies of three Filipinos were seen. There were two sharp fights near Noveleta. Lowe's scouts encountered the enemy near Cavite Viejo, and soon put them to flight, continuing their advance.

Capt. Saffold's battalion of the 13th Regiment, with two companies of the 14th, a number of Tagalos scouts Capt. McGrath, commanding the troops from the Fourth Cavalry, and Capt. Reilly's Battery, came upon the enemy in a strongly entrenched position on the road between Cavite Viejo and Noveleta. A fight lasting half an hour followed, resulting in the enemy being driven back. The American forces, sustained

The marines and naval forces co-operated with the troops. The gunboats Wheeling, Reirei and Caiao lay off shore near Novleta, and threw shells into that town and Santa Cruz for an hour, preparing the way for the marines to land. Two battleships

A mile beyond the marines' outpost the column was suddenly received with a volley from trenches across the road. A flank movement was executed and the insurgents were driven from the trenches.

The marines waded through more rice fields, forded the river in water to their shoulders, and carried the forts, meeting with feeble resistance, the first encounter having disheartened the enemy. Squads were sent to Novleta and burned the

which the enemy commenced the firing. There a junction was formed with the scouts who had been sweeping the swamps and thickets. Thence the marines returned to Cavite, thoroughly exhausted. Lieut. Wynne, with a three-pounder, did good execution during the advance. Gen. Lawton was in personal command of to-day's movement.

fantry, while reconnoitering a body of several hundred insurgents near San Nicholas. After a brisk fight, lasting three-quarters of an hour, the enemy was driven off. In this engagement four Americans were slightly wounded. Six of the enemy were killed, but the number of wounded is not known. The bad conditions of the roads made the progress of the artillery very slow.

A TROLLEY STRIKES A WAGON.

James O'Donnell Is Thrown Out, the Horses Run Away and a Woman Faints.

James O'Donnell, a farmer of Summerville, had a narrow escape from being killed by a trolley car on Saturday night. As it was he sustained a deep gash in his head and a bad shaking up. O'Donnell was on his way home about 9 o'clock, after disposing of a load of provisions down town. He was driving on Adelaide-street and started to cross Church-street without looking to see if the way was clear. Church-street car No. 532, in charge of Robert Smily, was rapidly approaching, and it collided with the wagon. O'Donnell was thrown several escaped. After the wagon was free from the car the animals suddenly ran away up Adelaide-street. At Victoria-street a young man attempted to stop them, but he was dragged to Yonge-street before they were brought to a standstill. In the meantime O'Donnell was carried to an adjacent house, where Dr. Chaffey attended to his injuries. He was afterwards removed to the hospital.

Pope Appealed to the Queen.
Rome, Oct. 7.—The Italia and Arena and other papers state that the Pope has written to Queen Victoria, appealing to Her Majesty's humanitarian sentiments, and re-

Ministers in the direction of peace. The Queen, it is said, replied courteously to the message, giving His Holiness to understand that it was beyond her power to interfere with the prerogatives of the Ministers.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

How a Drunken Husband Was Made a Sober Man by a Determined Wife.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

She writes:—"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Samaritan Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Samaria Prescription and put it in watched and prayed for the result. As soon I gave him more and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an everything else dear to a woman's heart, for my husband had told me that whiskey was vile stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot to have on hand if he should relapse. I had no other children, so I was
