CONTROL OF HOLLAND BY WAY OF BELGIUM, VON TIRPITZ'S POLICY

Copenhagen, Oct. 24.—The view of Admiral von Tirpitz, former German minister of marine that Belgium was the stepping stone to extending control over Holland, was proclaimed by Herr Bacmeister, National-Liberal leader in the Reichstag, and one of the pangerman stalwarts, in a speech delivered Sunday at Hamburg. Quoting von Tirpitz, Herr Bacmeister said:

"If we control the Belgian coast, the Netherlands will enter into our concern. If England-America retain the coast in their hands, the Hollanders will enter into their concern."

It will be recalled that the late General von Bissing, governor-general in Belgium, in his memorandum on Belgium, also intimated the necessity of extending German sway over parts of Holland in preparation for Germany's next war.

Two Counter-Attacks.

The Germans delivered two counterattacks against the British troops in this section. The first, at noon, developed along the Ypres-Staden rall-way, and as a result the British were found which their advanced outposts had reached. At 8 o'clock another counter-drive was made north of the rallway, and this time the Germans succeeded in regaining one fortified farm. Along the rest of the front the British held firmly the ground they had gained, despite a violent shelling which centinued all night from the German guins.

This morning another attack was made by the Germans north of the Ypres-Staden rallway, but the enemy was smashed and forced to retire.

On the right wing of the advance east of Poelcapelle the going was easier, and the British pushed out some 900 yards before the Poelcapelle brewery, which has become famous because of the sanguinary battles that have been fought about it recently. New troops also had been brought into the fray by the Germans here, including marines of the Third Naval Division, which had been on the Yser.

"That in view of the fact that Archibald Hislop, ex-M.P., has been for some time nominated as a candidate for North Huron, and without any other candidate being before the people, has strongly declared himself in favor of winning the war, and is prepared to support any measure with this objective in view, submitted by any Government, we cordially invite our Conservative friends, whom we believe to be equally in favor of winning the war, to indorse his nomination at their coming convention, and allow him to be elected by acclamation as a win-the-war' candidate."

There was a demand for the sovereign independence of Ireland, "and," declared the premier, "we had better say at once that under no conditions will Great Britain permit anything of that kind."

Mr. Redmond's motion was defeated 221 to 78.

C. A. HARDY, LEEDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Liam Mellowes, one of the recognized leaders in the Sinn Feiners' rebellion in Ireland on Easter Monday, 1916, and an associate, baron Dr. Max von Recklinghausen, a German subject, are under arrest in this city, it was announced late today by William J. Flynn, chief of the United States seoret service. The arrests were made on the eve of an announcement by Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons that the British Government had knowledge of another plot to land arms in Ireland. Mellowes is charged with obtaining false papers to enable him to leave the United States as an American seaman. Von Recklingbausen, styled by Flynn as "patent engineer of no little ability," has been turned over to federal authorities for internment during the war. He is declared to have been an intimate associate of Sinn Feiners. A statement issued by Flynn said papers found on von Recklinghausen's person and in his rooms show definitely that large sums of money had gone forward to France for ultimate German purposes. RUNS IN OPPOSITION TO SIR THOS. Favors Enforcement of Military Service Act and War to the Finish.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 23.—"While differing with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the question of conscription, I am his loyal supporter on matters of general policy, and he himself has declared that, as the act has now become law, it must be faithfully observed and enforced, and therefore is not an issue in this election."

therefore is not an issue in this election."
This statement appears in a manifesto issued today by C. A. Hardy, the Liberal candidate for Leeds, who will most likely have an opponent in Sir Thomas White, the finance minister. Mr. Hardy intimates that he is in the fight to the finish. He is in favor of the military service act, and characterizes himself as a win-the-war candidate, and pledges himself that there is no sacrifice in men, money, efforts or resources, that, like Sir Wilfrid, he was not prepared to support to bring about a successful termination of the war. Mr. Hardy has been over two years in Making for Ireland.

Mellowes was arrested Monday night in possession of a seaman's passport made out in the name of Patrick Donnelly, and which, it is declared, he intended to use in returning to Ireland at the earliest opportunity.

After the failure of the Irish revolution last year, Mellowes made his way to the United States by shipping as a coal heaver. According to Flynn's statement, secret service agents had him under surveillance shortly after his arrival, and learned of his associations with Dr. Patrick McCarton, known to his Sinn Fein associates in this country as "the ambassador to the United States of the Irish republic," according to the statement.

McCarton while attempting to reach Ireland was arrested at Halifax, and is now being held there pending prosecution for his complicity in the Dublin riots and "his activities in this country since early last year," according to Flynn. a successful termination of the wa Mr. Hardy has been over two years the field.
