artermaster and Stev of Shipwrecked Crew. NORFOLK, Va., June 9 .- With a thrilling story of a long battle with a storm-swept sea, the shipwrecked crew of the sunken Philadelphia barkentine Good News, accompanied by a slip of a young girl as the heroine, has arrived here on the British steamer Metis. The girl is Miss Elizabeth Erickson, daughter of Capt. P. Erick-son, commander of the Good News. On June 3 the barkentine ran into violent gale off the Hatteras Capes and sprung a leak, which was so great that the ship, with its heavy cargo, quickly foundered. For three days and nights the young woman valiantly stood her turn at the oars or the rudder with the men of the crew. She was quarter-master and steward of the captain's gig, apportioning among the shipwrecked the food and fresh water with which the small craft had been provisioned hast-They were far from the coast when
