CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION

MARVELOUS EXPANSION IN THE LIFE OF CANADA

Manufacturers Speak at Directors' Luncheon of Opportunities and Needs of the Country.

At the directors' luncheon, the gathering was splendidly typical of manufacturers' day. Not only were Canada's captains of industry well represented, but the presence of the ten members of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, who are here to promote inter-empire trade, was significant.

The national life of Canada had undergone a marvelous transformation in Mr. Gourlay's view. Until a decade ago, the country was little able to check the flow of emigration into the United States.

Another great problem arose from the new tendency of the nations of the world to seek trade treaties with Canada.

Now this great nation was asking for an opportunity to enjoy Canada's heritage without becoming citizens and taking on the responsibilities of the national life.
