GEN. WARREN HAS CAPTURED SPION KOP

Anglo-German relations, made the following statement to the correspondent of the Associated Press to-day: "The British do not now hold a single German vessel; and no negotiations are now in progress, since Germany has not yet formulated her claims for indemnity. Investigation is first necessary, and this is now proceeding., "The feeling between Great Britain and Germany is now growing better, despite the efforts of the jingoes of both countries to the contrary. Recent remarks must not be understood as meaning that Germany is aiming at convening a conference for the immediate settlement of the sea rights of neutrals before the end of the war. As for all talk about intervention, it is baseless. No such intention exists anywhere."

The South African scout, F. R. Burnham, now on his way back to South Africa to become a member of Lord Roberts' staff, expressed considerable satisfaction at the news of the capture of Spion Kop. He said to a representative of the Associated Press: "It is evident that the Boer position is being shaken and I do not think it will be long husiness now to drive the Boers out of the Drakensberg. We shall then reach a rolling open country, where there is a chance to display tactics, undertake flanking movements and cavairy operations, Butthe Boers are sure to make a most determined stand around Pretoria. It will not take long to reach the Boer capital, but the slege of Pretoria will be both long and difficult."

The tallors will keep on talking about things in their business until to-night, when they will have a banquet, and after that will bid good-bye to Toronto. Lut expressed tunch of well-dressed artists from all points of the continent that ever had the good luck to drop in upon Toronto. An Honorary Victim.

Berlin, Jan. 25.—Settlement money was abundant to-day at 5 per cent. Prices opened firm on the bourse on receipt of a private despatch announcing the British victory at Spion Kop, after the official telegram had been received, but subsequently eased, owing to profit taking.

Paris Felt It, Too.

Paris, Jan. 25.—Prices started strong on the bourse to-day, in response to the favorable war news received from London and the reduction in the bank rate. Afterward there was a slight reaction, owing to realizing, the a firm undertone prevailed. Rio Tintos advanced sharply in anticipation of a half yearly dividend of 4½ shillings. Kaffirs relapsed at the close on an unconfirmed rumor that the British had been forced to give up the position they had captured at Spion Kop.

Council.

Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 25.—The pro-Boer resolutions recently passed by the Board of Aldermen came before the Upper House, or Board of Councilmen, this afternoon. Councilmen Dunbar spoke against them, saying that his sympathles were on the other side. He moved that the resolutions be laid upon the table indefinitely. No one opposed the motion, and the resolutions were declared dead.

The Women Were Auxions.

In the ladies' loby there were signs of the sad side of the victory. A question often asked was, "When will the casualites be received." Tho Gen. Buller's despatch is dated to-day and speaks of Spion Kop being captured "last night," it apparently means Tuesday night.

British Suffered Greatly.

As, according to Gen. Buller's despatch, the "small garrison was surprised," his subsequent stafement: "Our losses were considerable," indicates that the British later suffered greatly from the shell fire from further Boer positions.

The statement that there was only a small garrison at Spion Kop came somewhat as a surprise, as it had been imagined the Boers were not so surprised as the assault as it appeared, but had previously drawn off their main body and left a small force to withstand the British advance.

What Was Wrong?

It is evident, in spite of the fact that British hold Potgleter's Drift and the hills above, that the Boers have succeeded in bringing up enough artiliery to inflict considerable losses on the British force, which seized Spion Kop, altifu Lord Dundonald is supposed to have been scouring the country beyond the ranges in order to prevent this very thing, and altho Gen. Lyttleton ought to have got near enough to Spion Kop to the refreshing Boers or prevent a serious attack once the British had taken possession of the hill.

The audience was not sure to whom the actress referred, many supposing that she was pointing at two members of the Local Legislature, who occupied one of the boxes, and who, conscious that they had done nothing to merit the rebuke, called on Miss Morton immediately after the performance to demand an explanation. She declared to a woman in another box, who had caused her considerable annoyance during the evening. The politicians insisted on a letter to that effect, and finally got it.

The women who occupied the adjoining box are leaders of Quebec society, and it is said that what excited the actress' indignation was a remark by one of them that her diamonals were paste.

Even the Fact That He is a Citizen of the South African Republic Does Not Fix Him Up.

McKinley When He Left .. ashington, Jan. 25 .- The State Department to-day confirmed the story that Intended to bring messages from President Kruger to his Government, and to of absence having been denied Mr. Macrum, when annual report will be fully dishe notified the department of his purpose to All members requested to try and be pre return, and he was relieved from duty, return, and he was relieved from duty, and his successor appointed."

The State Department by its summary action has put Mr. Macrum in the category of a private citizen, and will not receive him officially, whether or not he bears the missages from President Kruger. Whatcver messages he may bring will be handed to the chief clerk of the State Department and Juried in the files of his office.

It is reported to-day that Mr. Macrum has endeavored to outwit the State Department by having become a naturalized citizen of the South African Republic and accepting an appointment as an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to this country. This would not, however, prevent Mr. Macrum from also bearing crementals to Montagu White as a consul to this post.

State Department officials do not admit that they have any knowledge of Mr. Maccrum's reported coup. If it be true, it can only be an enort of the South African depublic to test the sincerity of the State Department in the matter of the reception of a diplomatic agent of the Transvial.

This much can be stated, however, in rial.

This much can be stated, however, in revance of this alleged movement of tresident Kruger and Mr. Macrum. The tate Department will hold:

First—That the South African Republic an independent, but not a sovereign state.

Second—That the South African Republic

State.

Second—That the South African Republic las not the power to make treaties, and that such power alone can give her the right to have a diplomatic representative a a foreign capital, because the right to make treaties is the essence of sovercignty.

Third—That Mr. Macrum will not be received in a diplomatic capacity.

Fourth—That even if he comes as a citizen of the Transvaal, it will give him no more right to bear messages to this Government than if he had remained a citizen of the United States.

This position of the State Department leaves Mr. Macrum in the predicament in which it was intended to place him, and also Mr. Montagu White. Neither of these gentlemen will be able to approach the United States in any diplomatic capacity. The State Department authorizes a department with the authority of the wives and children the message to the Government of the United States in any diplomatic capacity. The State Department authorizes a department without the subject of mediation at the conference with Secretary Hay.

Rruger Not True.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The Patrie yesterday asserted that Mr. Charles E. Macrum, former United States Consul at Pretoria, has visited the Foreign Office with Dr. Leyds in order to fulfil a mission entrusted to him by President Kruger.

The Foreign Office declared the story a "fake," and Dr. Leyds, in an interview published this morning says there is not a word of truth in the statement, that he has not seen Mr. Macrum, and that he is able to affirm publicly that Mr. Macrum is not the bearer of any letter from President Kruger.

Doesn't Believe the Kop is Taken.

On being asked his opinion regarding the capture of Spion Kop, Dr. Leyds declared himself skeptical, implying that Gen. Buller had not gained any serious advantage. He said he was convinced that the Boer commandos had a plan drawn up, and that it was part of a pre-arranged screeme to leave Spion Kop in the hands of the British. Dr. Leyds said it was not correct that he was about to open negotiations for the intervention of Germany and France in favor of peace. "At least," he added, "not for the present, because such intervention would not be opportune just now, and we must await events."
