SURROUND COMBLES

Russians Beat Foe in Dobruja—Roumanians Check Teuton Drive.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(12.20 a.m.)—The French and British troops swung round their right wing on a front of six miles south of the Ancre for the distance of about a mile today, and they carried the powerfully-fortified villages of Morval and Les Boeufs in short order, with several lines of intervening trenches. This movement virtually completes the surrounding of Combles, the keystone of the arch of the German defences.

Brusiloff's Offensive Assumes Intensity of First Advance

Enemy Counter-Attacks are Also becoming Stronger and More Frequent.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 25.—(Via London, 11.15 p.m.)—Altho the official communications have shed little light on the recent developments in the war situation, it is learned from staff officers that the battles at all important points on Gen. Brusiloff's front are again assuming the intensity of the first period of his advance.

The principal centres of action are the districts near Vladimir-Volynski and west of Lutsk, the Halicz region and the Carpathians.

The German counter-attacks are being constantly more frequent and vigorous and in the large number of reinforcements sent to these regions from other fronts as well as the more aggressive character of the German fighting, there are signs that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is planning a new campaign to recover the old positions before winter sets in.

Russian Success Reported in Province of Dobruja

Attempted Austrian Invasion of Roumania is Halted.

A Russian success in the Roumania Province of Dobruja is reported in a semi-official New Agency despatch from Odessa. The despatch says the Russians took 2000 prisoners.

Minor engagements in the Dobruja and on the Transylvanian frontier, the Roumanians have made progress against the Germans, Bulgarians, Turks and Austrians. Russian troops have reinforced the Roumanians, according to advices received at Rome, and they have halted the attempted invasion of Roumania on the northwestern frontier, and they have taken the offensive at Vulcan Pass.

The Russians have now reached southern Transylvania for the first time since Roumania has declared war, and some of their detachments are reported as advancing as far west as Orsova.

The violence of the battle in the Dobruja is abating.

ZEPPELINS FLY OVER ENGLAND IN FRESH RAID

German Aircraft Again Drop Bombs on Northern Counties.

FIND SOME WRECKAGE

Fishermen Recover Remains of Destroyed Dirigible Near Tilbury.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(12.20 a.m.)—A second air raid was attempted by the Germans over England last night, following their expedition of last Saturday night. Several zeppelins, probably as many as six, visited the northeastern and southern counties. They dropped bombs on the northern counties, inflicting casualties and doing damage. Details are not yet available of the destruction done. An airship was seen off the south coast.

Advices were received from Tilbury today that the debris of a third zeppelin was picked up in the North Sea after the raid on Saturday night.

A Copenhagen despatch says that Danish fishermen saw four zeppelins traveling in a southeasterly direction on Sunday. One was damaged, and it was being escorted by destroyers.

"Several hostile airships cross the east and northeast coasts of England between 10.30 o'clock and midnight last night," says an official communication issued shortly after midnight.

"Bombs are reported to have been dropped at several places in northern and north Midland counties."

"An airship is also reported off the south coast."

"No reports of casualties or damage have been received."

Later the following official statement concerning the air raid was made public: "Several hostile airships—probably six—visited the northeastern and southern counties during the night. Bombs were dropped in the northern counties, and some casualties and damage are reported. Full reports have not yet been received."

Britain Regrets Seizure of American Owned Goods

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Informal expressions of regret have been made by Great Britain to the state department for the seizure of American owned goods consigned to Manila on board the steamer Chinese Prince, Kaitse and Americ. It was learned today that in response to a vigorous protest by the U. S. assurances had been given that there would be no more such seizures. The British action first was explained on the ground that the goods were consigned to blacklisted firms. Later it was claimed that several of the firms were ring-leaders in a junta alleged to be seeking to cause a rebellion in India.

Special to The Toronto World.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 25.—Hon. Robert Rogers was amused today at the reports appearing in some of the Liberal papers that he was afraid to remain in Winnipeg. "I have been accused of many things in my life," he said. "But I never thought my worst enemy would ever accuse me of being afraid of anything and it adds but one more probability for Crete, whence they are expected to go to Saloniki."

MAJOR BROOKES SLAIN WHILE LEADING MEN

Subaltern Pays Tribute to Gallantry of Nova Scotia Officer.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The widow of Major Brookes, of Nova Scotia, who was killed in action last week, has received a letter from a lieutenant in the battalion to which the major was attached. "I will try and tell you how gloriously he fell while leading his men in a charge on a village, which had been successfully attacked in the morning, and which our brigade was ordered to complete," the letter says. "Major Brookes' company was the first to start from our battalion, and carried everything before it. Just as the company reached its objective, and when he knew that his men had surpassed his utmost expectations by the manner in which they had followed him, death came to your husband by a shrapnel bullet. He died within a minute of being hit."

"I cannot tell you how I feel the loss of your husband, with that of others like Major Tupper and John Stairs. The night before the attack we slept together under the same raincoat, and next morning he was as happy as a schoolboy, watching his men after each of our attacks. He followed me under a very heavy shell fire. They went into a terrific barrage fire that they were on the barracks square."

CENSORSHIP OF MAILS IS UNDER DISCUSSION

Representatives of Banks, Export Houses and Industrial Concerns Meet Sir R. Crawford.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—British censorship of United States mails and restrictions imposed by it on American business were discussed at a luncheon given here today to Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attaché of the British embassy, by representatives of leading banks, export houses and industrial concerns, and at a conference which followed.

It was said that Sir Richard made a statement on the subject of censorship of mails and restrictions imposed by it on American business, and that he was asked to state what he considered the most serious and most objectionable things which must be put up with to the end that we get a quiet life.

But more and more in the last two years have I been impressed with the fact that in this Quebec domination we have a menace that is daily growing more serious and that must be tackled peacefully if possible, but without gloves, if there is not to be a catastrophe.

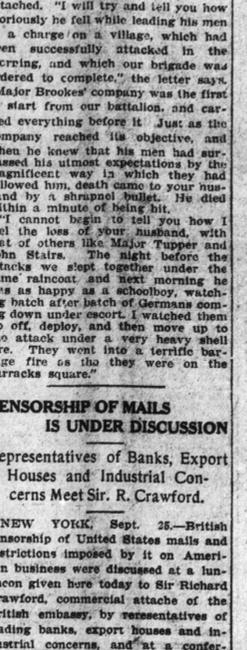

I have read the Mail's article asserting that the people of Canada are not now concerned to keep up the game of party politics. I believe that is true, so far as the spirit of true citizenship may be affected. But I do not know that there are professional politicians, hundreds, thousands of them, who are most deeply concerned to keep up the game of party politics. As you are aware, I am in a position to secure accurate information on almost every question that is projected into the political arena. Knowing the facts, I am amazed every day in my life at the deliberately distorted way in which those facts are presented to the people in their newspapers. Who are the men guilty of this rotten misrepresentation? The professional politicians—Liberals and Conservatives alike. Why is it done? To keep up the same party politics which buys them, not only bread and butter, but the extravagance of luxury.

I have also read the Globe's article repudiating Mr. Maclean's remark that "the Liberals are probably even more energetic than the Conservatives" in their fight against the anti-British movement in Quebec. With all that the Globe says about the way in which the Borden government has become entangled I agree. I know it to be true. I know also that the failure of the Borden government since the war began, to take steps that any man of common ordinary sense should be taken, is due almost entirely to the stranglehold which Quebec has upon that government.

The Borden government is a government of indecision, except in one thing—Quebec must not be antagonized. Sir Robert Borden is accused of inaction. I venture to say that there is not a man in Canada who has a greater realization of the correctness of that accusation than Sir Robert, or who is more disgusted by it. But Sir Robert is not a politician. He regards himself in a position of trusteeship for the Conservative party. His party got into power by political strategy, and he has been persuaded that it can stay in only by the same means. He is not a political strategist, and he has to take the advice of colleagues who pretend to be strategists. And the advice of these colleagues is that Quebec must be kept in line. If Sir Thomas White could be induced to tell your readers of proposed orders-in-council killed or shelved because of the Quebec bugaboo, there would be a rising in Toronto. You and I, who are "in touch," know that this is no reckless sensationalism, but fact.

The Globe would have us believe that

DEADWOOD

THE NEW PARTY AND QUEBEC AND THE WAR

The question of a new party is attracting more attention than ever; and the newspapers and the public are talking about it from coast to coast. The Winnipeg Tribune, which is closely followed in the west, has published two of the World's articles in full in its issue of Friday last, where it reproduced one of them as its leader. It concludes as follows:

There is space today for just a word on this somewhat lengthy quotation from The World. It is that the Canadian public opinion is fast ripening for the new deal in the political world. The sentiment so recently given expression to at the polls in Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia is not sporadic in character, but evidences a general feeling throughout the Dominion that it is time for a change in the public standards.

The French-Canadian papers are also busy discussing the articles of The World and they begin with the usual exhibition of that cheap newspaper wit which seems to have attended nearly all important political movements in the past. Le Devoir, the paper of Mr. Bourassa, publishes such an article, and goes out of its way to absolutely misrepresent our position. We are not going out to fight, but when The World decides to exclude the French-Canadian from a new party, I must throw up my hands and admit the weakness of my understanding.

You would ostracize and exclude the first people who came to this country. The people who opened up Canada and made the roads which we travel on at present. Honest Indian, I don't understand!

Who do you intend to fill up "a new party" with? Will it be with Orangemen hybridized with U. E. Loyalists? They may make a picturesque party, but as far as power goes, they will always remain Colonials. They can never really become Canadian.

Editor World: I have been following very closely your interesting articles on the need for a new political party in Canada—or rather on the need for wiping out completely the old lines of political differences that have altogether outlived their usefulness.

I am not in sympathy with many of the planks that you suggest for that new party. I cannot agree with you, for instance, that this is the time to enter upon the colossal expenditure that would be connected with the nationalization of our railways. I am further frightened by your that policy by the revolutionary action of congress recently in the dispute between the railways of the United States and their employes. Nor can I see why we should import remedies for social problems that may have been found expedient in England when

WHEAT YIELD INCREASES THRU SASKATCHEWAN

Threshing Will Not Be Finished For Another Month.

REGINA, Sept. 25.—The fortnight between the 10th and 20th of the Department of Agriculture indicates that about 20 per cent. of the threshing in the province is completed, and still in view of the fact that the entire harvest is due to be finished by October 15 in the south and eastern districts of the province, in the west-central district it will not be finished until November.

Few correspondents report the yield or grade of wheat threshed, but it is expected that while the yield will be greater than was anticipated, the grade will be lower. The frosts have slightly damaged the late oats and some of the early corn, but the yield for seed, altho it has not been injured for feeding purposes.

JURY FREES WADDELL ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Disagreement Occurs in Case of Clayton Peterson at Regina.

REGINA, Sept. 25.—Grant Waddell, charged with conspiring to bribe members of the Saskatchewan Legislature, was acquitted today by a verdict brought in at 8 o'clock this evening. In regard to Clayton Peterson, charged with the same crime, the foreman of the jury, James Wright, announced that the jury was "hopelessly disagreed." James Dallas and C. E. Wilson, charged with the same crime, were also acquitted. Chief Justice Sir Frederick Haultain discharged them on the ground that the evidence did not implicate them to more than a very slight extent.
