got a wallop in his home town on last Saturday. He got too familiar with some of the Boston "Royal Rooters" and one of them showed he had not forgotten how to put over a punch.

Johnny Kilbane Winner

In a rather tame 12-round bout at Akron, O., on Monday night Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, outpointed Cal Delaney, another Cleveland boxer. Delaney was weakened at the final gong. He was unable to get in more than a dozen sound wallops all through the bout. One of these opened up an old cut over Kilbane's eye.

THE PRESENTATION OF BASEBALL TROPHIES

Closing of Fairville League Season Now Being Arranged

The baseball fans and players of the Fairville league are arranging their annual celebration and presentation of trophies and as the enthusiasm all through the season was pronounced a good number are expected to gather for this event.

The season 1915 was perhaps the most successful in Fairville baseball history. Four teams entered—the Royals and Roses from Fairville, with the Courtneys of Carleton and Portlands from the North End. From the first indications were many that the Fairville-Royals champions of 1914 and the hard hitting Portlands had found worthy rivals and as the season progressed interest grew. The Royals again won and consequently will claim the Baxter Cup offered the winning team. It is understood that the attorney-general, will personally present the cup and other speakers will also be on hand.

A $5 gold piece offered by Councillor John O'Brien and another by Miss Sue Murphy of Carleton to the players making the most home runs, will be divided between two players who tied in these stats. The Gold of the Roses and Courtneys of the Royals, each having three home runs to their credit. A pair of gloves, the gift of Donaldson Hunt, to the manager of the winning team goes to James Hanlon of the Royals.

With all rivalry forgotten the various teams will gather and in good fellowship rectify over again the games won and lost and all join in best wishes for the winners who not only by their play lead their own league but showed capable material to battle for the city championship.

MORNING NEWS OF WAR

The British government announced last evening that the Bulgarian minister had been given his passports and that diplomatic relations with Bulgaria had been severed.

The premier of France announced yesterday that France, Great Britain and Russia are in complete accord with regard to the Balkan policy, that Russian troops will be fighting side by side with the others and that ample troops are available.

In reply to the official notice from Serbia of the Bulgarian offensive Greece replied yesterday that she "remains in a position of armed neutrality."

On the western front the French are attacking the German lines and the British are preparing for another big move.

In the east the Austro-German forces have ended their offensive except in the region of Dvinsk. The Russians have regained the offensive and have won a victory on the River Strava.

The Austrian city of Gorizia, 922 miles west of Trieste is about to fall to the Italians.

Five German steamers have been sunk in the Baltic by British submarines.

FRANCE NOW HAS AERIAL ARMY

Fleet of Armored Craft Said to be Ready, Each Carrying Two Three-inch Guns and Rapid Fire as Well

France at last has an aerial army. It is formed in divisions and squadrons, with battle aeroplanes, cruiser aeroplanes, scouts and torpedo planes, all armored heavily and carrying three-inch cannon and rapid-fire guns.

The government the other day permitted the first inspection of its new air fleet. Large and small types of the new battle planes maneuvered high in the air, firing round after round from their three inch rifles while they soared, looped and darted about.

Minister of War Millerand assigned two military experts of the aviation service to conduct the newspaper correspondents to where 100 military aviators were learning to navigate the new war craft.

130 Feet Across Wings.

The aviation field is a vast enclosure ten times the size of Belmont Park. Entering the field a monster battle aeroplane loomed up thirty feet high, with a number of planes stretching 130 feet across. Further back was ranged the feet of battle cruisers and scout planes. They were formed like a battalion, twenty in a row across the front and ten deep. Their huge wings made a front half a mile wide.

The battle planes and all the cruisers were armed heavily. Each carried both the three inch cannon and the rapid-fire gun.

The huge battle plane was the chief center of attention. The engineer who constructed it explained it was the first actual realization of the battle plane, other aerial dreadnoughts having proved impractical. This monster actually flies, carrying a crew of twelve men, with two cannon on the wings throwing three-inch steel projectiles.

Three trial flights have been made, demonstrating that it has the steadiness of an ordinary biplane. The huge craft is now ready for the battlefield. The regular crew for fighting will consist of four men and an officer.

Cruisers of High Power.

The armored cruiser aeroplanes were next put through tests high in the air. They are small biplanes of high power. Each is armed with a cannon, and is capable of rising almost vertically from the ground at a speed of ninety miles an hour. Captain Frantz and Operators Monnelli and Mallard made successive flights in cruisers, rising from the ground at an angle of sixty degrees.

The steady roar of the three-inch rifles continued as the cruisers circled far above. Mallard was the most daring operator. He fired his big gun while plunging from side to side and dropping rapidly, imitating the manoeuvres carried out while engaging an enemy.

A large number of these cruisers is now ready. Several recently carried out a night bombardment far back of the German line. During the Champagne engagement these cruisers hit a German balloon, which exploded in a mass of flames.

This, however, was only the initial
