Armistice Terms Changed in Some Of the Particulars

Washington, Nov. 12.—Amendments of the armistice terms made by Marshal Foch after his first meeting with German plenipotentiaries as announced tonight by the state department include the delivery to the United States and Allies of all of Germany's submarines, instead of the 160 specified in the original armistice. Another amendment specifies that "The countries on the left bank of the Rhine evacuated by the Germans shall be administered by the local troops of occupation, instead of by the local authorities under the control of the armies of occupation."

Instead of immediate withdrawal of German troops from Russia, as originally provided, the amended terms specify that they shall be withdrawn as soon as the Allies, taking into consideration the internal situation of these territories, (of Russia) shall decide that the time for this has come.

Reduction is made in the amount of certain military equipment to be delivered by the Germans to the associated governments including 25,000 instead of 30,000 machine guns, and 1,700 airplanes instead of 2,000.

The number of railway cars to be delivered, however, is increased three-fold
