An increase in salary was granted to Miss Wheeler, teacher of typewriting, from $50 to $60 per month, to take effect from the first of June.

Supt. E. B. Paul read a very interesting report on the work of the schools, which he considered quite satisfactory on the whole. The teachers, with very few exceptions, were performing their duties thoroughly and conscientiously. Writing was being given special attention in all the schools, and no careless or slovenly work was allowed. The experiment being made in the North Ward school in what is known as the "Batavia system" of bringing forward pupils, in which work
