

NEWS-BOY'S ADDRESS, Respectfully solicited to the Editor of THE ST. JOHN CHRONICLE.

The Church Bell tolls the knell of parting year The steam of Time flows steadily along Another New Year dawns, the heart to cheer By youth and maidens hailed with glad and song.

Thus glide our lives, unrobbed by the mass, Thus thoughtless stories travel to the Tomb, How few improve the moments as they pass, How few reflect how soon a clump may come.

"Toss ever thus," from history's earliest page, "Toss came said went." "We take no more of Time," Infancy, dashed out, heavy headed age, Fame, just as things of course, with feet and pine,

But let's reflect, another year has gone Since last we rode Pegasus to your door; We're older, true; but are we wiser grown, Or have we done our duty to the poor.

The Wooden Walls, how gloriously they rise, Pure as the sea, where for they first were seen, Bearing a flag unswerving to the island, The boast and bulwark of our little home.

That Alfred's chosen for ever may be blest, May concord reign through all the Royal band, May victory sit upon his warrior's crest, And England's name renowned thro' every land.

A Pastille that will in thirty eight A rathless Tyrod devastates the land, Strikes down the strong, rejoicing in his might, And leaves a helpless, friendless sleeping band.

But hark, the trumpet sounds, the war-note blar, On Europe's continent in haste arise, The average thought of Russia pour down fast On Crimea's classic shores, prepared for war.

Old Albion's flag floats free on Alma's banks, And proudly advances a Tarento host, Flout, after Flout, may thin the allied ranks, But conquer them—O world shall never boast.

And now on Alma heights the armies meet, In pomp and circumstance of glorious war, When Britons of your sons' name defeat, And rout the countless squadrons of the East.

VERY LARGE "MOTTLE" 75 CENTS. J. RUSSELL SPALDING'S ROSEMARY AND CASTOR OIL

For the world for the Hair. The above chemist who has examined it testifies that as an agent for preserving the Hair and promoting its growth it surpasses all other articles.

1. To keep the hair from turning grey. 2. To restore the hair to its natural color. 3. To remove dandruff effectually. 4. To give the hair a beautiful appearance.

THE REMOVAL OF JAMES DUNTON, Tailor and Draper, who has removed his business to the premises in Gerrard Street, recently acquired by Dr. Miller.

W. H. RASHFORD, Printer, St. John's, N.B., has removed his printing office to the premises in St. John's, N.B., recently acquired by Dr. Miller.

W. H. RASHFORD, Printer, St. John's, N.B., has removed his printing office to the premises in St. John's, N.B., recently acquired by Dr. Miller.

Brandy, Geneva, Wine, &c. The subscribers have in Stock, and are now landing ex-London, the following choice Brandy, &c.

500 Cases of Brandy, 500 Cases of Wine, 500 Cases of Champagne, &c. &c. &c.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

VICTORIA HOUSE, EXTENSIVE IMPORTATIONS, Fall and Winter Goods.

Per Packet Ship "JOSEPH TARRANT" and per Steamer "AMERICA" Will be ready for inspection, a magnificent assortment of Goods.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

THE REMOVAL OF THE STONCE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT, formerly occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD, now occupied by the Hon. Wm. G. F. W. SHEPHERD.

Various small notices and advertisements on the far right edge of the page, including mentions of 'The St. John Chronicle' and other local businesses.