

PLAYED THE SAMARITAN TO POOR BOY

Mayor Peters Finds City Job for Young Fellow Who Helped Him.

DOWN AND OUTERS ARE WELL TREATED

Boston Mayor Spent Night at Wayfarers' Lodge to See How It Was Run.

Boston, March 22.—Dressed as a down-and-out, Mayor Andrew J. Peters spent last night in the Wayfarers' Lodge in Hawkins street, West End, and after getting up this morning and chopping wood for his breakfast departed unrecognized.

His adventure did not become known until he appeared at his office at City Hall about 10 o'clock today. He wore a battered slouch hat, a faded blue shirt and a badly stained raincoat. A policeman at City Hall not recognizing him, halted him at the office door and barred the way.

"It's all right, I'm the Mayor," he said to the policeman. The latter looked sharply into Mr. Peters' face, almost dropped from amazement, and stepped aside.

Are Well Treated.
The Mayor's purpose was to find out what kind of treatment down-and-outers were getting. On the whole, he declared, it is excellent.

It developed that a rather stiff necked superintendent got his foot in it by intimating to the visitor that he didn't care about becoming acquainted with his kind, while on the other hand, a young fellow out of work got him self in decidedly right by offering to help the fast tiring distressed official to chop his share of the wood. To him the Mayor said:

"Come to City Hall and inquire for Mayor Peters. I've got a pull at City Hall and may help you get a job."

"I stood in line at the lodge," said the Mayor, "and there were four men ahead of me. On going into the light I was a little shaky, but I saw in a moment that no one recognized me."

registered as John Stevens of New York, check No. 89, more men continued to come in behind me. The clerk at the desk was too busy either to recognize me or care who I was.

Fumigated With Rest.
"After registering I took my number check and went downstairs. Here we all stripped and our clothes were hung in the fumigating room and we all took warm baths. We then received an undershirt, our hats, socks and shoes. I went upstairs to a room on the second floor, where a bed was assigned to me.

"At an early hour this morning, when it was still dark, a bell rang. I was told it was 5 o'clock. We all went downstairs, put our nightshirts in a pile, presented our tags and received our clothes back. Then I went out with the others to split wood. It didn't take me very long to dress so I was at work in the wood yard from a few minutes after 5 o'clock until 8 o'clock, when we went in for breakfast.

"They served a good breakfast. We had oatmeal with sugar and milk, which was excellent; bread, also excellent, and coffee, which was not very good. I had breakfast with the others and then left with them. The selector man in City Hall did not recognize me, although I said 'Good morning' to him. As a whole the Wayfarers' Lodge is to be congratulated on the way it is run. The quarters are well kept and clean.

"I got interested in the young man who gathered up my wood. He offered to do the chopping for me, and no doubt he could have done a much better job. He had quite a story. He had been working in the back woods and had come to Boston in a box car. I told him I might be able to help him, that I had a pull with a man at City Hall, and I asked him to come there at 2:30 this afternoon."

Mayor Peters, late this afternoon, got a position for the young man in a business house here.

Niand, Ala., March 22.—Wm. Jennings Bryan was asked last night by the Y. W. C. A. of Miami to run for president in 1924.

"With the women voting, I am confident I would be elected should I decide to try," he replied.
