Grant-Ingramham.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Ingramham, Southampton (N. B.), on Wednesday, June 23, their daughter, Mary R., was united in marriage by Rev. J. R. Rutledge to Philipman L. Grant, of Grand View. The large parlor and dining room were beautifully decorated with ferns and wild flowers. At 8 o'clock the bride entered the parlor of her father's home, preceded by little Miss Irma Brown, her maid of honor, and took their places beside the groom. Then the brief but impressive ceremony of the Baptist church was read, and the clergyman pronounced them man and wife. The bride looked beautiful in a gown of white silk crepe de chine with duchess lace trimmings. She wore a bridal veil draped with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of carnations, white and maiden hair fern. The maid of honor was dressed in pink silk with lace trimmings.

During the ceremony the bridal party was photographed. After congratulations a wedding feast was served to about 100 guests. The reception was numerous, elegant and costly. A magnificent solid oak dining room set was the gift of the bride's father; a very beautiful cabinet of table silver was the gift of Dr. J. C. Grant, of Woodstock, while $80 in gold was the gift of another brother, Harry Grant of St. Louis. The bride was the recipient of an unusually large number of checks. The groom's present to the bride was a diamond ring and chain. Mr. and Mrs. Grant have taken up their abode in their fine new residence at Grand View. They are followed by the best wishes of their hosts of friends.

Double Wedding.

A very interesting and pretty nuptial event took place in St. Peter's church Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock when Rev. E. Walsh, C.S.R., united in marriage Miss Julia C. Dunn and Everett J. Carland and also Miss Edith Smith and Joseph LeRoy Dunn. A large number of friends of the young people assembled to witness the double wedding.

Miss Dunn, who was given away by her father, Charles Dunn, looked charming in a costume of cream serge with duchess lace and broad satin trimmings, shadow hat with divinity wings and carrying a bridal bouquet of carnations.

Miss Smith wore a beautiful dress of cream serge with lace hat trimmed with pink roses and black velvet ribbon and carrying a bouquet of carnations. The wedding was officiated by Rev. E. Walsh, C.S.R., pastor of St. John's, St. John. A number of guests from St. John were here to attend the wedding.

Britten-Coes.

The wedding of Rev. Charles A. Britten, pastor of the First Baptist church, North Sydney (N. S.), to Miss Blanche Areta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Coes, took place on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 195 Prince street, West St. John. The bride, who was unmarried, was given in marriage by her father. She was gowned in crepe de chine with lace trimmings, with bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Archibald, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Archibald. After a dainty buffet luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Britten left on the Halifax express for their future home in North Sydney. Both are graduates of Acadia University, and the bride has been a valued worker in the Charlotte street Baptist church. Her father is a valuable present testified to the esteem in which the bride and bridegroom are held.

Stafford-McBrine.

The cathedral was the scene of a pretty nuptial ceremony on Wednesday morning when Rev. William Duke united in marriage George Stafford and Miss Lucy Mary McBride. # TURKS LOSE 20,000

IN FOUR-DAY FIGHT

GROUND COVERED WITH TURKISH DEAD.

"The Turkish officers could be seen endeavoring to get their men forward, but they would not face the fire, and retreated in disorder after suffering heavy casualties. The ground in front of our trenches, in every direction, can be seen covered with Turkish dead. Patrols sent out at night report that the valleys and ravines are also full of them. There can be no possible doubt that the enemy's losses have been very heavy."

There is nothing that causes us more sorrow, increases the courage of the enemy and encourages him to attack more freely, causing greater losses, than the loss of the trenches. Henceforth commanders who surrender their trenches, from whatever side attack may come, before the last man is killed, will be punished in the same way as if they had surrendered to the enemy. Henceforth I shall hold responsible all officers who do not shoot with their rifles, and who do not try to escape from the trenches on any pretext.

Commander of the Eleventh Division, "COLONEL RIFAT."

Monday, July 5. A well known St. John barrister, Harry Holsted Brittain, died at his residence, 106 Marsh road, West St. John, yesterday after an illness of over a year's duration. He was, from 1894 to 1906, associated with the late George C. Coates, and since the latter date had carried on the practice alone, in Prince Edward. His wife, who survives, before marriage was Miss Gertrude M. Ring. There survive also a son, and the parents, Brunswick B. Brittain, and Mrs. Brittain, two brothers, Brunswick B. Jr., of the marine and fisheries department, and Robert L., with the C. P. R., and a sister, Mrs. Glendon H. Allan. The funeral will take place from the late residence tomorrow afternoon to St. Jude's church.
