

Province, and not exceeding the annual value of £1000 currency, and the same to sell, alienate, and dispose of, whensoever the said Corporation may deem it proper so to do; and by the same name shall and may be able and capable in law to sue and be sued, implead, and be impleaded, answer and be answered unto, in any manner whatsoever; and the Constitution, Rules and Regulations presently in force, touching the admission and expulsion of members, and the management and conduct generally of the affairs and concerns of the said Association, shall be the Constitution, Rules and Regulations, touching the admission and expulsion of members, and the management and conduct generally of the affairs and concerns of the said Corporation; Provided always, that the said Corporation may from time to time alter, repeal and change such Constitution, Rules and Regulations, in the manner provided in and by the seventeenth and thirty-third Articles of the said Constitution.

By-laws of the present association to be those of the Corporation.

Proviso, as to alteration.

Transfer of property of the association to the Corporation.

II. No member of the said Corporation shall have any individual right or interest whatever in the property of the said Association or of the said Corporation, or in its rents, revenues, issues or profits; and all property presently owned by the said Association is hereby vested in the said Corporation, and all such property, and all future property which may be acquired by the said Corporation, and the rents, revenues, issues and profits of all such property aforesaid, shall exclusively belong to and be appropriated and applied solely to the maintenance of the said Corporation.

Public Act.

III. This Act shall be deemed a Public Act.