

Nine Artists and Writers

Some of the men who are helping to make The Canadian Courier.

W. A. Fraser

Author of numerous books which are read all over the Anglo-Saxon world. He is contributing short stories. Lives in Georgetown, Ont.

Albert R. Carman

Editorial writer on the Montreal Star, who contributes occasionally in an editorial way, and will shortly have some other work in these pages.

John A. Cooper

The editor of this national weekly. For eleven years he edited the Canadian Magazine, leaving it to edit The Canadian Courier.

Three Well-known Writers

Theodore Roberts

Author of several novels, who is contributing short stories regularly to this journal. He is a New Brunswicker.

Bonnycastle Dale

The lover of nature, who writes and photographs in a most wonderful way. He has no superior in this field. Now in British Columbia.

Cy. Warman

Whose descriptive work is known all over America. He is a traveller and a story teller. His home is in London, Ont.

Three Other Prominent Figures

Frederic Challenger

Illustrator, painter, decorator. Perhaps Canada's greatest decorative artist. He is designing covers for us.

Tom O. Marten

Maker of illustrations and cover designs. His work is full of promise. Several of his covers have been used.

C. W. Jefferys

Sketch artist and designer. Also a maker of wonderful water colours. Occasionally he writes.

Three Leading Canadian Artists

THE CANADIAN COURIER is now in its second volume and promises to be the most successful periodical ever issued in the Dominion. The subscription price is $2.50 a year. Write for "Special Offer A."

THE CANADIAN COURIER, 81 Victoria Street, TORONTO