

30. In calculating the amount in respect of which any province is entitled to be reimbursed by another province under the provisions of the Act, regard shall be had only to the net amount of allowances paid by the province to be reimbursed after deducting therefrom the amount payable by Canada on account of such allowances.

31. Balances due by one province to another province under the provisions of the Act shall be settled monthly as of the same date as the sums due by Canada are payable.

32. The amount recovered by a provincial authority from a recipient or from the estate of a deceased recipient in respect of any allowance shall be distributed between the province responsible for payment of the provincial share of the allowance, and Canada in accordance with the amount of any such allowance respectively paid by each.

33. A provincial authority shall recover from a recipient any sum improperly paid by way of allowance whether such sum was paid as the result of non-disclosure of facts, misrepresentation or any other cause, and if the provincial authority is unable to recover the whole of such sum the provincial authority shall suspend the payment of the allowance of such recipient until the aggregate amount of the suspended payments equals the sum improperly paid less any amount that has been recovered prior to such suspension; provided that where the recipient has not been guilty of fraud or misrepresentation the provincial authority, in its discretion, may reduce the allowance by an amount of not less than five dollars each month so that recovery of such overpayment will be made in full within a period of not more than five years or prior to the recipient reaching the age of seventy years, whichever is the sooner.

34. The provincial authority shall require a recipient to report to it with any increase or reduction in his income or real property or the income or real property of his spouse and to furnish particulars of any personal property acquired by him or his spouse after the date of his application.

35. Any recipient who desires to apply for an increase in the amount of the allowance to which he may be entitled under the Act shall notify the provincial authority and shall furnish all necessary information.

36. Any sums due by Canada to a province in settlement of Canada's share of the net amount expended by the province for payment of allowances shall be ascertained as of the last day of each month, shall be audited by the provincial auditor and shall be paid on the certificate of the provincial auditor as soon thereafter as possible, subject to final audit by officers of the Government of Canada. The accounts submitted by the provincial authority for the purpose of reimbursement shall contain such information as the Minister shall require.

37. In calculating the amount due by Canada to a provincial authority, regard shall be taken of any amount that under the provisions of the Act such province is liable to reimburse another province or to be reimbursed by another province in respect of allowances granted therein or in such other province as the provincial authority may determine. The provincial authority shall not debit any account for the cost of administering or paying allowances.
