

The HOME CIRCLE

WHEN THE LOVED ONE IS AWAY
How dull and desolate the house,
How empty seems the day,

Oh, gifts may come in generous dote,
And music, mirth and flowers
May do their best to charm away

A BISHOP AND HIS MOTHER.
The "Messenger" reviewing the Life of Bishop Bradley, of Manchester, N. H., says:

There is one figure in this life which has an unusual beauty and attractiveness and even grandeur. It is that of the bishop's mother.

She came to Manchester, struggled for a time at keeping a humble boarding house, but failed, for times were hard; the Civil War was then going on.

"I would like to be a brother," he said to her one day. "Why not a priest?" she asked. "That is impossible, I need an education for that."

FRIDAY DISHES.
Cheese Balls.—The whites of two eggs well beaten, one cupful of dry cheese, grated, a pinch of salt and three drops of Worcestershire sauce;

The Struggle for Breath

IN ASTHMA AND BRONCHITIS IS PROMPTLY DELIVERED BY

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The wonderful success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in relieving the terrible paroxysms of asthma and the hard, dry cough of bronchitis, and in positively curing these ailments, is the best proof that it is far more than a mere "cough mixture."

This well-known medicine is composed of a number of simple yet powerful ingredients which are of proven value in the cure of diseases of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Persons who have suffered from asthma for years tell us that they never found anything to bring such prompt and lasting relief. Sufferers from bronchitis have a similar experience, and, while this medicine is not recommended as a cure for consumption, it does bring wonderful relief from the dreadful cough that so tortures the weakened patient.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers.

by her. "Yes, he is a good man," she used to say, "but he is no better than his father."

WHAT RUM CAN DO?
I had a friend. He belonged to the school of idealists. Everything beautiful appealed to him, and nothing seemed to him more beautiful than the human spirit when it blooms out in all its natural grace.

When alone with him, if he could be moved to reveal his true self, one knew not what to think of the sensitive soul of this inspired genius. He had listened to every great poet, felt his pulse, opened the veins of his soul.

Wherever he went, this world over, whether to England, California, Japan, India, St. Petersburg, Egypt, Paris or Rome, he gave lectures on Shakespeare, Goethe, Dante, Leopardi, and when he spoke he impressed his hearers as inheriting the spirit of the masters, so that they listened as do the faithful at St. Peter's.

Alcohol, his destroyer, took him by degrees into her arms. At first she appeared disguised at student's revels. Then beer was not strong enough. The golden wine flowed, and this was later mixed with spirits.

Disgusting was his face and his whole person, and especially disgusting the driving mind in the fast disintegrating body. At last only when intoxicated could he understand and extend the great conceptions of Shakespeare.

The formerly noble spirit of my friend was completely enslaved. He became a liar and a thief. All the riches of the poets were as nothing to him.

Alcohol had made his face a caricature of what nature intended it to be. Alcohol had burned out his poet's mind. Like dead coals was his soul, like ashes his body.

I could not weep. Anger filled my heart. I felt that I must hurt to destruction in one stroke all the whiskey shops, all the saloons—nay, more, that I must blow into space those who are responsible for the licensing of such poison. Alcohol is the worst poison in the whole pharmacopoeia.

Cheese Patties.—Mix to a smooth paste one tablespoonful each of butter and milk, one egg slightly broken, half a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and half a pound of grated cheese. Cut patty forms from stale bread with two sizes of cookie cutters, brush with melted butter and brown on the top grate in the oven.

Cheese Relish.—To make an anchovy and cheese relish, mix together equal parts of anchovy paste and butter. Cut finger rolls in halves lengthwise and spread them thickly with the paste. Take a few spoonfuls of cream, season it with salt and paprika and stir in grated cheese lightly, making the cream rather thick with it.

KISSES TEN.
One for the lips that they may say
The kindest things in the pleasantest way;

A great deal depends upon the dressing, when it comes to women and salads.

DEATH OF DR. ANTONIO OLIBERTI.
Dr. Antonio Oliberti, who joined the Italian colony of Montreal five months ago, died at the Hotel Dieu a few days ago. He was only 27 years of age. The funeral took place on Sunday.

The Reigning King and Queen of Norway

So much has appeared of late in the press descriptive of Queen Maud's life in her English home and as an English princess, and so little mention has been made of her life in Denmark that it may be of interest at this time to give a brief account of her as she is known in her two adopted countries.

Norway's Queen, as the Norwegians prefer to style their sovereign's consort, rather than Queen of Norway, at the outset made a great stride in popularity by expressing a wish to spend her thirty-sixth birthday among her future subjects. And ever since she and her husband first set foot on Norwegian soil as rulers of the country, she has continued by her tact, warmth, and desire to please, to confirm the Norwegians' satisfaction in their choice of a king.

Queen Maud, like the King, is essentially a home-lover, though this by no means implies that she is reserved in manner. They also resemble one another in that they have always chosen their friends for their personal qualities, and not for considerations of rank or wealth.

The Queen of Norway, as Princess Charles, took, on account of her health, a very retiring position at the Court of Denmark. For several years she suffered from what her physicians called rheumatic neuralgia, a malady which at times caused her very great pain.

Besides being musical, the new Queen has artistic and decided literary tastes. These, by the way, are also shared by the King, who himself plays well on the piano, paints with considerable skill, and is, moreover, a first-rate billiard player.

Queen Maud's great delight are long excursions in the open air, either on horseback, driving, or on her bicycle. King Haakon has inherited his grandfather's, King Christian's, seat and elegance as a rider, and the Queen is also an accomplished horsewoman.

The delight with which the new King and Queen have been received in Norway is enhanced not a little by the enthusiasm awakened by their only child, the Crown Prince Olaf. Despite his tender years he has acquired a great measure of popularity among the people of the Danish Navy who were privileged to visit him and his consort in their home, and they describe him as a unusually intelligent and amusing little fellow.

Unrivaled By Rivals
COSGRAVE'S
None Superior A Peerless Beverage

COSGRAVE'S
From Pure Irish Malt For Health and Strength

COSGRAVE'S
A Delicious Blend of Both HALF and HALF Once Tried Always Taken

ALL REPUTABLE DEALERS
Cosgrave Brewery Co.
Tel. Park 140. TORONTO, ONT.

It is a well-known Norwegian gentleman relates, how in the winter of 1900 at a hotel in the Riviera, he made friends with a young Danish naval officer who had just returned from a voyage to East Africa for the purpose of study.

Queen Maud had already, before her arrival in her new country, on the

If you are a sufferer from colds get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Sonsumptive Syrup and test its qualities. It will be found that no praise bestowed on it is too high. It does all that is claimed for it, and does it thoroughly.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

BLOOD HUMORS

PIMPLES Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unsightly blotches, pimples, eruptions, fleshworms and humors, and various other blood diseases.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

now memorable November 25, made acquaintance with the palace at Christiania, which for so many years has looked like an empty hotel, and which now, Norwegians congratulate themselves, will be really a home.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

It was a very little donkey to have such a will of its own. You wouldn't have thought, unless you know donkeys, that the small brown animal with the bright eyes and long ears could be so stubborn.

THE RHEUMATIC WONDER OF THE AGE Benedictine Salve

This Salve Cures RHEUMATISM, PILES, FELONS or BLOOD POISONING. It is a Sure Remedy for any of these Diseases.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS RHEUMATISM

What S. PRICE, Esq., the well-known Dairyman, says
212 King street east. Toronto, Sept. 18, 1902.

John O'Connor, Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I wish to testify to the merits of Benedictine Salve as a cure for rheumatism. I had been a sufferer from rheumatism for some time and after having used Benedictine Salve for a few days was completely cured.

475 Gerrard Street East, Toronto, Ont., Sept. 18, 1906. John O'Connor, Esq., Nealon House, Toronto, Ont.: DEAR SIR,—I have great pleasure in recommending the Benedictine Salve as a cure for lumbago. When I was taken down with it I called in my doctor, and he told me it would be a long time before I would be around again.

256 1/2 King Street East, Toronto, December 16th, 1901. John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—After trying several doctors and spending forty-five days in the General Hospital, without any benefit, I was induced to try your Benedictine Salve, and sincerely believe that this is the greatest remedy in the world for rheumatism.

Peter Austin, writing from Des Moines, Iowa, under date of July 2nd, 1905, says: "Enclosed please find M.O. for $1.00, for which send me 1 box of your Benedictine Salve. Rheumatism has never troubled me since your salve fixed me up in December, 1901."

198 King Street East, Toronto, Nov. 21, 1902. John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I am deeply grateful to the friend that suggested to me, when I was a cripple from Rheumatism, Benedictine Salve. I have at intervals during the last ten years been afflicted with muscular rheumatism.

St. James' Rectory, 428 N. 2nd street, Rockford, Ill. Mr. John O'Connor: DEAR SIR,—Please send me three more boxes of Benedictine Salve, as soon as possible. Enclose please find cheque and oblige. Yours sincerely, (Signed) FRANCIS P. MURPHY. Cobourg, April 22nd, 1905.

197 King street, Toronto: DEAR SIR,—Enclosed please find one dollar ($1), also postage, for which I wish you would mail to my address another box of Benedictine Salve. Hoping to receive same by return of mail, I am, sir, Yours truly, PATRICK KEARNS.

241 Sackville street Toronto, August 15th, 1902. John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I write unsolicited to say that your Benedictine Salve has cured me of the worst form of Bleeding, Itching Piles. I have been a sufferer for thirty years, during which time I tried every advertised remedy I could get, but got no more than temporary relief.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—It is with pleasure I write this unsolicited testimonial, and in doing so I can say to the world that your Benedictine Salve thoroughly cured me of Bleeding Piles. I suffered for nine months. I consulted a physician, one of the best and he gave me a box of salve and said that if that did not cure me I would have to go under an operation.

Rev. Father McDonald of Portsmouth, Ont., sent for a box of Benedictine Salve on the 11th of April, 1905 and so well pleased was he with the result of its use that he sent for more as follows: Portsmouth, 18th May, 1905.

MY DEAR SIR,—Herewith enclose you the sum of two dollars to pay for a couple of boxes of your Benedictine Salve. I purpose giving one to an old cripple and the other to a person badly troubled with piles, in order that they may be thereby benefited by its use.

Corner George and King Streets, Toronto, Sept. 8, 1904. John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I wish to say to you that I can testify to the merits of your Benedictine Salve for Blood-Poisoning. I suffered with blood poisoning for about six months, the trouble starting from a callous or hardening of the skin on the upper part of my foot and afterwards turning to blood-poisoning. Although I was treated for same in the General Hospital for two weeks without cure, the doctors were thinking of having my foot amputated.

John O'Connor, Esq.: DEAR SIR,—Early this week I accidentally ran a rusty nail in my finger. The wound was very painful and the next morning there were symptoms of blood poisoning, and my arm was swollen nearly to the shoulder. I applied Benedictine Salve, and the next day I was all right and able to go to work.

JOHN O'CONNOR 199 KING STREET EAST, TORONTO FOR SALE BY WM. J. NICHOL, Druggist, 170 King St. E. J. A. JOHNSON CO., 171 King St. E. And by all Druggists PRICE $1 00 PER BOX